

THE JERUSALEM

Make international connections From Israel, just dial: 77-100-2727

VOLUME LXV NUMBER 19704

Review of the Hebrew press

16" and 10 to 1

Mir computer systems fail

Fresh air from 'Northern Britain'

Arts & Entertainment, Page 16

ndex
Arts & Entertainment
Business	10
Crossword	17
Movies/TV	17
Opinion	8
Sports	13
	_

PA to be given 30% of withheld funds

By JAY BUSHINSKY and MARGOT DUDKEVITCH

The Palestinian Authority is to get 30 percent of the tax rebates it is owed as a "partial measure" in response to its partial cooperation in iovestigating the Mahaneh Yehuda suicide bombings.

The decision was made by Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu in consultation with Foreign Minister David Levy, after the PA cooperated in apprehending the killers of

after a trilateral meeting between Israeli, Palestinian and American officials Sunday night led the PA to disclose the nature of the explo-sives discovered by its police in a Beit Sahur bomb factory last

"We don't accept these compromises," Palestinian Economics Minister Maher Masri said. "We need to be paid in full, and we need to be paid on time." He said the PA

The PA claims that the withholding of the taxes and customs for the month of July is illegal, has nothing to do with security and is designed to strangle the PA, which needs the money to pay salaries.

Netanyahu's communications director David Bar-Illan, who announced the release of approximately NIS 40 million, said 10 percent would have sufficed because the PA had not been complying with the main request made by US Secretary of State Madeleine

Albright: a crackdown on the Hamas terrorist infrastructure.

He charged that Mohammed Deif and Mohieddin Sharif, the commander and deputy commander of the Hamas military wing, Izzadin Kassam, are free in Gaza, capable of staging operations against Israel from their base.

Defense Mioister Yitzhak Mordechai said yesterday in Tel Aviv that the government was unable to completely ease restriction between the PA and Israel, because in other areas the security cooperation between Israel and the Palestinians is oot satisfactory.

Meanwhile, media reports claim that despite the curreot closure 20,000 Palestinians enter Israel daily to work. The reports claim that security forces carrying out a daily evaluation of the situation believe that despite the restrictions and roadblocks, large numbers of ing Israel. The evaluation includes counting the number of vehicles parked near roadblocks and border crossings io the early morning

The reports claim that these developments prove that the current closure is not an effective mea-Security officials claim that the three Palestinians arrested and subsequently sentenced for the murder of Ben-Baruch were barred from them were known Hamas activists barred from entering at any time, but they had entered Jerusalem

Meanwhile, the IDF Spokesman said that additional humanitarian assistance and medicine has been transferred to Gaza and that to minimize financial losses the IDF has allowed truckloads of vegetables and other food to enter Israel, as well as truckloads of furniture.

See FUNDS, Page 2

16 percent from last year.

By ARYEH DEAN COHEN

Immigratioo is down 16% this year over 1996 and officials argued yesterday over whether the decline shows that Israel is attracting fewer Diaspora Jews or whether the pool of potential immigrants is simply drying up. Central Bureau of Statistics figures showed that 33,000 immigrants arrived between January and July this year, Including 26,900 from the former Soviet Union, which represents a 17% drop from that area over last

STATE WALL

ning car

Immigration Committee, said the figures showed Israel wasn't doing enough to absorb immigrants, and announced plans to speedily convene groups respoosible for immigration.

The drastic drop in immigration shows the failures of hodies involved in the absorption process and is a poor reflection on our society," she said.

"The wave of attacks and the negative image given the immigrants has not encouraged immigration, and word of it has spread to the Diaspora. There is no doubt all the bodies involved in immigrant absorption must seriously reexamine their actions."

MK Roman Bronfman, head of the Israel Ba'aliya faction, said the immigration drop "harms the Zionist dream, particularly coming on this 50th year since the establishment of Israel."

Other officials blamed the decline in newcomers on a drying reservoir of potential immigrants, particularly in the former Soviet Union.

Ministry Absorption spokesman Arik Hellman said the immigration statistics indicated there weren't many potential immigrants left in the former Soviet Union, and that most of those interested in immigrating had already done so.

"There are individuals trying to scare the entire country into thinking that a vast wave of oon-Jews is going to land oo Israel's shores, but these figures show that this is not the case," he said.

Hellman also attributed the immigration drop to improved circumstances abroad, particularly in Russia, where many Jews are finding jobs, whereas unemployment has been on the rise

The drop in immigrants from the former Soviet Union was largest among those from the Asian republics, or about 28%. Jewish Agency director-general Dr. Shimshon Shoshani said that most Jews eligible for Israeli citizeoship in the Asian republics have already immigrated. "This is particularly true in Georgia, Azerbaijan and Armenia," he

See IMMIGRATION, Page 2

Immigration down Tension high after Sidon attack

By Jerusalem Post Staff and news agencies

Israel yesterday strongly denied any connection to a South Lebanese Army artillery attack on the south-ern port city of Sidon that killed six people and wounded 36, and warned Hizbullah not to strike at

The shelling came in response to the deaths of two teenage children of a late SLA commander, which was followed by a Hizhullah Katyusha rocket attack on Jezzine that killed a 60-year-old man and brought yesterday's death toll to

Both the IDF and SLA stressed. that the attack on Sidon was a serious breach and the initiative of a Yesterday's civilian fatalities were the highest since the understandings reached in April 1996 MK · Naomi Blumenthal after Operation Grapes of Wrath, (Likud) chairwoman of the which barred both sides from Lebanon submitted complaints to the five-nation committee monitoring the understandings.

The head of IDF Northern Command, Maj.-Gen. Amiram Levine, urged Hizbullah not to attack northern Israel.

"We are doing our utmost not to hit civilians and I advise Hizbullah not to make a mistake and try to hit Israeli civilians," Levine told reporters in Tel Aviv.

Levine said the army would not order residents of the North into shelters at this time, and stressed that the IDF was doing its utmost to restore calm. He expressed hope that Syria and Lebanon would help stabilize the situation.

Criticizing the attack on Sidon, Defeose Minister Yitzhak Mordechai expressed "deepest regret over the attack on innocent civilians in Lebanon."

"Attacks of this type are totally against the policy of the government of Israel," and he would use "all his influence" to halt attacks on civilians, Mordechai said. He told reporters in Haifa that Israel had conveyed messages to the Lebanese Army and other parties involved in the conflict in an attempt to prevent an escalation. He said Israel had no interest in a deterioration of the situation, and every interest in stabilizing it.

Military sources said the SLA fired shells on Sidon from outside the security zone, apparently to avenge the death of two teenagers in a roadside bomb earlier yester-

The bomb detonated as a car drove near Jezzine, killing an 11-year-old Lebanese girl and her 17year-old brother. Military sources said they were the children of Assad Nasr, the SLA commander in Jezzine killed four years ago. The sources said an SLA battalion commander had decided without consultation to shell Sidon. "We can't be silent about Hizbullah's massacre of Lebanese civilians," he told reporters in Jezzine. "Israel did not, I repeat did not, fire on Sidon today," Spokesman, Brig.-Gen. Oded Ben-Ami, told reporters. "We are coordinated absolutely with the SLA inside the security zone in Lebanon in the south. The Jezzine area is out of this area. [SLA Commander] General [Antoine] Lahd has his forces in the Jezzine area as well...out of our responsibility, out of our control," ne said.

Bot Hizbullah hlamed Israel for shelling Sidon and threatened retal-

"We must speak in the language that the Israeli enemy understands and it is not possible to keep silent about what happened today. The enemy must understand a deeply hitter message - either security on both sides [of the border] or no security," Sheik Nabil Kaouk, the Hizbullah commander in southern Lebanon said while visiting victims in a Sidon hospital.

A total of 16 shells landed in Sidon and its suburbs, forcing residents to abandon the city's main

One shell detonated near Sidon's

Residents of Sidon inspect the wreckage of a car hit by South Lebanese Army shelling yesterday. Israel denied any link to the attack, which killed six people and wounded 36.

parked vehicles and sending people diving for cover.

The shells damaged electricity cables and power was cut to some 300,000 people in the city. It was the first time in about two main street, damaging about 20 hometown of Lebanese Prime Minister Rafik Hariri, that has largely been spared the almost daily fighting in the south.

In response to the shelling, Hizbullah launched rockets at Jezzine and several landed near an IDF post in Marjayoun last night, causing no casualties or damage. The Lebanese army – which has largely stayed out of the fighting in the south - also retaliated with artillery barrages.

In New York, a spokesman for UN Secretary-General Kofi Anan, said the UN chief was concerned about renewed hostilities in south Lebanon.

"The United Nations has been in touch with both sides and urged them to do their utmost to prevent a further deterioration of the situafrom targeting civilians," he said.

Ancient soldier's body found at site of Roman-Jewish battle

By ABRAHAM RABINOVICH

Grim evidence of the harrowing battle for Yodfat in 67 CE during the great revolt against the Romans - a battle commanded on the Jewish side by Josephus - has been uncovered in a current archeological dig.

On the painted floor of a luxurious mansion, the excavators found the remains of a human surrounded by arrowheads, vivid testimony to the last moments after the Roman army broke into the city it had besieged for 47 days. The remains of some 30 other victims, evidently rehuried by returning Jews years after the city's destruction, were found at the bottom of a cistern which had been converted into a mass grave.

The mansion, according to archeologist Motti Aviam of the Antiquities Authority, contains exceptionally well preserved wall murals similar to - perhaps superior to - those found from the period in Massada and Jerusalem. An unusual feature of the building was that the floor of the cen-tral room in which the murals were located was also painted in geometric design, appareouly indi-cating that the building's occupants walked there barefoot. It was in this room that the body and arrowheads were found.

An Antiquities Authority worker examines the walls of a mansion being excavated at Yodfat in Galilee.

القرارة والمراكب والمنافي والمحارد والمحارب والمعجم والمراكب والمنافي فللمحرور والي المنجر ويبدون والما

Yodfat was the first sizable city captured by the Romans in their march on Jerusalem. It was the headquarters of Josephus, who had been dispatched to the Galilee hattle in which the defenders freby the leaders of the revolt in quently sallied forth from their Jerusalem to organize the defenses in the corth. He survived the battle to become the great historian of the period. It is from his own work that we know the story of the hattle for Yodfat and his own devi-ourness in surviving it. Josephus describes a furious strong defenses to inflict heavy damage on the Roman besiegers. When the Romans finally succeeded in hreaking into the city, Josephus fouod refuge in a cave with 40 other fugitives. The Romans called on him to surrender. He wished to do so but the others insisted that they all die

Bowing to their determination, Josephus persuaded them to draw lots so that they would kill each other in succession.

When only he and one other remained alive - his own manipulations seem likely to account for that - he persuaded the other survivor that it might be better to surrender after all.

Spared by the Roman commander, Vespasian, he then accompanied the Roman army as it conquered Judea, subsequeouly recording the events in his histories - our major historical source for this watershed period. The excavations at Yodfat, oow in their sixth season, are being conducted by Aviam and Prof. William Scott Green of the University of Rochester in New

Azzam verdict due on August 31

CAIRO (AP) - Police sources said that a state security judge yesterday dismissed as "baseless" defense arguments in the Azzam Azzam spy case, diminishing the likelihood of an acquittal when the verdict is delivered on August 31.

Judge Hisham Badawi said explanations given by Fareed Deeb, Azzam's defense attorney, "are impossible for the mind to believe... are legally baseless and are not worthy of investigation."

Deeb said the economic information on factories allegedly passed to an Israeli woman by Egyptian Emad Abdel-Hamid Ismail was not tantamount to espionage. He said Ismail was told that the woman, Zahra Yousef Jreis, was planning to set up a factory in the 10th of Ramadan City, northeast of Cairo. Deeb had earlier argued that Ismail was tricked by police into signing a confession, and that if the Egyptian was innocent, so was Azzam. Ismail and Azzam were arrested in November in the alleged espionage conspiracy. Both men have pleaded innocent. Azzam, charged with aiding espionage and criminal complicity, was working in a textile factory outside

Cairo when he was arrested. Two Israeli Arab women, Jreis and Mona Ahmed Shawahna, are being tried in absentia. Prosecutors have charged that they are Israeli agents who recruited Ismail to spy on Egypt. In previous sessions, Deeb argued that Azzam belonged to the Druse, who "are a constant thorn in the side of the Israeli government." But Badawi dismissed the argument, saying that Azzam had served in the IDF and that his brother had gone to war against Jordan. It is clear that Azzam "is a Mossad collaborator," Badawi said. He also rejected the argument that there were inconsistencies and mistakes in the prosecution's handling of the case. Contrary to Deeb's suggestions. the prosecution was within its right to question the defendants at night and to refuse to allow independent testing of the underwear allegedly scaked in invisible ink, Badawi said. "In matter of espionage, only the most up-to-date labs should carry out these test, and that means the Egyptian Intelligence labs," Badawi

The reputed ink is the key evidence in the case against Azzam.

Labor calls for Knesset session on economic situation

lizik, the head of the Labor Party's response

a rapidly thriving economy [Netanyahu] has instead brought colossal defeat," Itzik stated. "Not only is there no security and no peace, there is also no economy."

Irzik drew a direct line between Netanyahu's policy and the sharp rise in unemployment since January and slowdown

in economic growth, which is the lowest it

The belligerent rhetoric and militant

National Infrastructure Minister Ariel Sharon (center) banters with Hadash MK Hashem Mahamid over a lunch of lamb while Islamic leader Raied Salah, mayor of Um el-Fahm sits on his left. Sharon was critical of some pro-Palestinian statements made

NEWSLINE

with Boaz Ganor

How do you respond to reports that the Mahaneh Yehuda murder not as terrorists, but ostensibly for criminal purposes, is more in a very short time they captured the three perpetrators. I think this Does the US presence in meetings between Israeli and

From our point of view, it is beneficial. The Palestinians don't want to please Israel. They want to please the Americans. They are more sensitive to US criticism. So it is important that a CIA representative sees exactly first-band what they give us and what they tell us. This way we don't have to convince the Americans that the PA

Q. Does the easing of the closure mean the end of Israeli pres-

The Israelis have to decide whether they want to continue the process or not. If the government decides that it doesn't want to continue and that Mahaneh Yehuda signaled the end of the road, then it has to demand from the PA that it operate against terrorism. But we are in a situation where the stick does not scare the Palestinians.

because even when things were good, the peace process did not make progress. So perhaps the only means the Israelis have at their disposal is closure and collective punishment. Political punishment

Counter-Terrorism of the Interdisciplinary Center, Herzliya.

Boaz Ganor, academic director of the International Policy Institute for shows they can capture just about anybody from any organization.

Palestinian security officials have any benefits?

sure to beighten security cooperation with the PA?

doesn't work anymore.

Ukraine and 55% in Russia bad

also already been tapped.

Shoshani predicted that by year's end, there would be an overall drop of 10% in immigration from the former Soviet Union.

Nonetbeless, Shoshani said, the Jewish Ageocy had a goal of bringing 50,000 or more immigrants a year for the next three years to meet a goal of bringing a million Jews from the former Soviet Union this

The statistics released yesterday also showed a 6% dip in immigration from the Americas, to about 2,500.

About 1,000 came from the US, a drop of 9% over last

About 800 newcomers were from Argentina, also showing

About 1,000 immigrants arrived from France, down 3%

from last year, while immigration from the UK was down

Most immigrants arriving this year were young, with 30% 19 years old or younger.

and 44% between ages 20 and

49. Only 26% were 50 or older.

Last year immigration totaled about a 9% dropoff.

12%, to 300.

Soviet Union.

decade.

уеаг.

by members of an Israeli-Arab delegation in Syria last week, saying they bordered on the intolerable.

has been in the past eight years.

"It is now clear that whoever promised us team, said yesterday.

New round of IDF appointments

OC Southern Command Maj.-Gen. Shlomo Yannai has been named OC Planning Branch, the IDF Spokesman announced yesterday. Yannai will replace Maj.-Gen. Shaul Mofaz, who will become deputy chief of general staff. Brig.-Gen. Yom Tov Samia will replace Yannai as OC Southern Command, and will be promoted to the rank of major-general.

The appointments, made by Chief of General Staff Lt.-Gen. Amnon Lipkin-Shahak, were approved yesterday by Defense Minister Yitzhak Mordechai. They will take effect in coming Jerusalem Post Staff

Livneh replacement to be announced Sunday

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu's choice of a new military adviser may be announced by next Sunday, before he leaves for official visits to Japan and South Korea, an authoritative source said yesterday. The sensitive post is being vacated by Lt. Gen. Ze'ev Livneh, who will be Israel's new military attache in Washington.

There are several worthy candidates and the prime minister is choosing between them, the source said.

Man accused of killing soldier remanded

Samar Aladin, 21, of Horfeish, suspected of shooting to death soldier Ahmed Hasawi of Peki in on Sunday night, was remanded for 10 days yesterday by Acre Magistrate's Court.

Police said Aladin shot Hasawi because he became friendly with Aladin's former girlfriend, also a soldier, after the girlfriend was transferred away from the army base on which she and Aladin had served. Aladin completed his compulsory service several months ago.

The woman soldier, 19, from Ashdod, suffered light to moderate

Iti wounds in the shooting.

Court extends remands in gas station slaying

The Jerusalem Magistrate's court extended the remand yesterday of three of the four yeshiva students suspected of involve-ment in the killing of a 74-year-old gas station attendant in east

Judge Rafi Carmel ordered the driver, David Yefet, held another four days, and extended the remand on two others, Eliahu Moskowitz and Nahman Heshin, by two days. Nurit Blubstein of the Jerusalem District Attorney's Office asked to have Yefet, the driver of the vehicle that dragged the attendant to his death, held until trial. The attendant had grabbed onto the car driven by Yefet when the latter drove away from a Sheikh Jarrah station without paying

Police nab alleged drug dealers

In their biggest narcotics coup in a decade, Jerusalem police said yesterday that they have arrested 32 drug dealers from east Jerusalem and surrounding villages, using two Arab undercover agents and hidden cameras. The operation dubbed "a thorough cleaning" was conducted over the past six months, and yielded arrests of dealers suspected of selling dozens of doses of narcotics a -day and thousands in all over recent months, police said,

Government halts Persian language broadcasts

The government has halted Persian language broadcasts transmitted via the AMOS satellite, because of "inciteful messages" beamed by some stations, the Foreign Ministry said yesterday. Such broadcasts, the ministry said, "do not conform to what is acceptable and customary in radio and television broadcasts." It said that the private ues involved "were required to disco itinue the offensive Jerusalem Post Staff

Arutz 7 first 24-hour web broadcaster

Arutz 7 has become the first Israeli radio station to broadcast around the clock on the Web, Virtual Jerusalem, which hosts the online program said yesterday. The broadcasts from a floating studio in the Mediterranean can be accessed from Virtual's home page at www.virtual.co.il.

Virtual Jenusalem President Avi Moskowitz said that Arutz 7 was "one of the more popular sites" they offer. Jerusalem Post Staff

Pipe bomber remanded

÷

A man accused of placing a pipe bomb in Petah Tikva magistrate court was remanded for five days yesterday in Kfar Saba. The bomb exploded causing damage to the walls. Menachem Shrama, 38, is considered a follower of Uzi Meshulam, the imprisoned Yemenite rights activist. Last week several 45-year old graves of Yemenite infants were found empty, strengthening charges they were kidnapped and given to European parents.

With great sorrow we announce the sudden passing of our beloved father and grandfather

DAVE STANGE

on August 18, 1997 in Durban, South Africa.

Deeply mourned and sadly missed by Children: Max, Peter and Dorit Grandchildren: Michael, Shelley and Eyal

Israel to close down

In the last period, the only incident we knew where the terrorist came from abroad was the Lawrence Hotel in Jerusalem in 1996. The terrorist underwent all checks and came to Tel Aviv and then Jerusalem, and he blew himself up accidentally in Jerusalem. This is

In the past, the Japanese Red Army in 1972 came from abroad but

I would not be so quick to determine that they (the perpetrators of

There is a trend by Palestinian terrorists to stop taking responsibility for the attacks. In the beginning, Hamas and Islamic Jihad would take responsibility for the attacks. They would have ceremonies and mourning tents and invite the news media. This changed since

February and March 1996 and now they try to conceal their respon-

If they came from abroad, did they get help here?

Theoretically, it's possible. But practically, if they came from abroad, I think they got belp from here. An operation like Mahaneh Yehnda requires intelligence. They had to prepare the bombs. All this

What lessons do you derive from the capture by Palestinian

It proves that the Palestinian Authority has unusually good intelligence on terrorist activity. To capture three people who committed sibility. This is due to the wishes of the Palestinian Authority.

security forces of the killers of the Jerusalem taxi driver?

they carried out their attack in the airport before security or passport

the only one we knew for sure came from abroad.

the Mahane Yehuda bombing) came from abroad.

Israel plans to close down an eastern Jerusalem office it considers to be associated with the Palestinian Authority, police said yesterday. A police spokesman said requires time and preparation.

By MICHAL YUDELMAN

and LIAT COLLINS

Labor Party whip Ra'anan Coben has submitted the necessary 30 signatures to convene a special Knesset session during the recess on the economic situation and rising inflation.

ignore the distress of the 150,000 unemployed," said Cohen, referring to a figure published yesterday that the number of job seekers climbed to about 145,000 in July.

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu should cut short his "heavily publicized" vacation and get together with economic experts to find a

"It is a moral sin and organizational evil to

FUNDS

As a matter of policy, the administration says Israel should reimburse the PA for all the taxes - $70 million according to the authority - and that Palestinian efforts to combat terrorism should not require

Israeli concessions. But State Department spokesman James Rubin said the exchange worked out Sunday night represented "real- 70,600 people, of whom ity" and was a step in the right 58,900 were from the former Sunday night represented "real-#### and prefers to touch it up. But today reality is slapping our face." She said the saddest thing is that the announcements, the disappearance of towns most afflicted by unemployment are

shamefacedly home because he didn't like their predictions for 1998, and ordered them to paint the estimates pink. Here 100,

Netanyahu is not willing to look at reality

those where a majority voted for solution for the economic crisis, MK Dalia investors, fewer workplaces, less income Netanyahu. "It's a stinging slap in the face for the state and the collapse of Israel's relato those voters," she said. tions with the Arab world are today reflected in the economy, but Netanyahu refuses to Itzik urged Netanyahu and the ministers traveling around the world to come back for understand that," she said.

Itzik noted that only a month ago
Netanyahu "sent the Treasury officials an emergency meeting and formulate, with the help of economic experts, a clear plan which would provide immediate first aid." to towns with high unemployment like Ofakim, Shlomi and Ma'alot.

Meretz MK Anat Maor said that while Netanyahu continues his vacation, thousands of citizens have difficulty in making a living, the economy is crashing and the educational system is collapsing.

Jihad tells Arafat to flee Gaza

yesterday that Israel wanted to spark Palestinian civil war by suggested Palestinian Authority Chairman Yasser Arafat leave Gaza or lead the armed struggle.

discord and ignite a Palestinian civil war, but we will never allow our nation to be rumed into a new is aware of such a danger," Ramadan Shallah, secretary-gen-London-based daily al-Hayat.

remain and as long as there are mosques and Islam, then Hamas, Jihad and all the resistance move-allegations that his planned "national unity" talks with mili-

failed to bring peace or establish a Palestinian state.

(Gaza) is his only chance to escape the Israeli-American trap after the dream of a Palesunian state has turned into a borrible nightmare," but added, "If the PLO liberated itself from the Oslo agreement and resumed armed struggle we would accept to join it within a unifying framework for our people's struggle," Shallah

He said the US was too biased

"What do you expect when the Jewish (U.S. Secretary of State) Madeleine Albright sends the Jewish Ross to talk to the Jewish Netanyahu? What good can Palestinians or Arabs gain from this trinity that represents an administration that is more Zionist than the Israeli Knesset (parliament)?" he said.

Islamic By News Agencies CAIRO - Islamic Jihad said

insisting that Palestinian leaders clamp down on "terrorism," and "Israel wants to create violent Afghanistan, Somalia or even Algeria and we hope the Authority eral of Islamic Jihad, told the "Israel knows that the Palestinian people are the infrastructure of Hamas and Jihad and hitting this foundation to uproot them means declaring a war of annibilation against these people who give birth to martyrs and this is impossible.

"As long as these people

ments will remain," Shallah said. Arafat has rejected Israeli tant Palestinian groups set for this week were an "appeasement of terrorism. Shallah called on Arafat to

"I think that Arafat's leaving to be of any help as a mediator.

PA office in Jerusalem

the Palestinian Association for Welfare and Development would be closed within 10 days because this office represents the [Palestinian] Authority, and is therefore illegal."

Last suramer Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu claimed the PA was operating the office in violation of the agreements. And several months ago Netanyahu demanded that more offices be closed.

Continued from Page 1

The Clinton administration welcomed the decision to release the paymeots and the improvement in security cooperation.

IMMIGRATION Soldier killed by Continued from Page 1 vehicle at roadblock He added that 70% of the potential pool of immigrants in

By MARGOT DUDKEVITCH

An IDF soldier, Yebuda Ben-Harusb, 35, from Ma'aleh Adumim, was killed yesterday and an Israeli citizen was injured when a Palestinian truck driver attempting to overtake a car near a roadblock swerved into the opposite lane hitting the soldier and the car he tried to pass.

The truck driver was lightly injured.

The accident occurred near an tDF roadblock at Breichat Shlomo on the southern outskirts of Bethlehem, police said. Opber Sivan, spokesman for Judea and Samaria police, said the driver, who he didn't identify, would be arrested and his license confiscated for 90 days pending an investigation. Police also took the

he was brought to a Bethlehem area hospital for treatment.

Sivan said the soldier, Ben-Harush, who suffered serious injuries and the citizen who sustained light to moderate injuries. were rushed to Hadassah University Hospital in Ein Kerem. Ben-Harush died there of his injuries.

In another roadblock accident in the West Bank yesterday, a soldier was dragged for several meters yesterday when a truck driven by a Palestinian attempted to overtake an Israeli van near a roadblock. The van's driver was also injured, police said. In another incident, a 20-yearold Palestinian from Battir, Fares Iamil Abdullah, got a four month prison term and a NIS 3,000 fine for driving without a license in the driver's identification card before Gush Etzion area Sunday night.

Listen to Arutz 7, 711 1143 AM 105 FM

TEL AUIU UNIVERSITY The Board of Governors, Administration, Faculty and Students of Tel Aviv University Deeply mourn the passing of

LESTER ENTIN

Deputy Chairman of the Board of Governors and Honorary Doctor of Tel Aviv University who devoted his life to the Jewish people and the State of Israel, and dedicated himself to higher education and scientific research. Whe have lost a beloved friend and close associate. Our profound condolences > to his wife Sally, members of the family, and many people whose life he touched.

Benno Gitter Chairman of the Board of Governors Professor Yoram Dinstein President

PM's aides attacked for Hebron visit

By MARGOT DUDKEVITCH and LIAT COLLINS

he Jerusae

 $(e,\phi)_{1,n,Q_0},$ slam

rafati

1.170

a the top

Constitution of

A the standing were to my

1 - 1 - 1 - 3 To

Carte in Fig.

in the targets.

Section N

وكر: ا

 $v = \operatorname{ad}(v)_{\operatorname{def}}$

 $\| w \|_{L^{1}(\mathbb{R}^{n})}$

A delegation from the Prime Minister's Office and other government ministries visited Hebron yesterday to learn about the security problems of the Jewish community there, amid sharp criticism by former senior security officials who questioned their competence.

Cabinet secretary Dan Naveh, policy adviser David Bar-Illan, Minister Binyamin Netanyahu's aide Uzi Arad, Yair

Mayan and Defense Ministry aide (res.) Oren Shahor warned that Bezalel Treiber met with Jewish the territories were on the verge of community leaders at Beit Gutnick near the Tomb of the Patriarchs after meeting with IDF officers at the DCO.

Later they visited the Tomh and continued to Beit Hadassah and the Avraham Avinu Quarter.

On Israel radio Likud MK Gideon Ezra, former deputy chief of the General Security Services, said they should leave security assessments to professionals, while former government coordinator in the territories Maj. Gen.

an explosion.

"It is not enough to be a year in government to understand the Palestinian issue," said Ezra. "You have to live it for many years and with due respect to Naveh, I think a cabinet secretary has enough things to deal with withnut dealing with the Hebron question and whether or not they are or are not abiding by the agreement. In my opinion neither Naveh nor David Bar-Illan are sufficient authorities on the issue to determine how the government must act. It's time something was done about this."

Naveh said he did not respond to personal attacks, had come to see the situation for himself and claimed the slogan, "Hebron once and always," as the government's

Hebron Jewish Community Spokesman Noam Arnon said the delegation members were well aware of the difficulties encountered by the Jewish community and of Palestinian violations of the Hebron

In addition Amon said settlers explained that fears raised by the community before the signing of the agreement had in fact turned into reality. "We asked their assistance in allowing building to continue within the community and demanded that the construction freeze be lifted and permits granted," he said.

"We raised our fears regarding plans to npen up the roads surrounding the Jewish quarters, which will pose a traffic hazard and also endanger our security," be added. Naveh said that the decision to give the Palestinian Authority one-third of the taxes owed to it was due to its partial assistance the investigation of the Mahane Yehuda attack and the subsequent capture of the Palestinians whn murdered taxi driver Shmuel Ben Baruch.

"Any further easing of the closure depends entirely on the Palestinian Authority's ability to fight terror," he said.

Four houses demolished

The Civil Administration demolished four illegally built structures in the area of Hebron yesterday.

Spokesman Lt. Peter Lerner said the structures included an illegal extension on the outskirts of Hebron and a two storey structure in Bani Naim.

The other two dwellings were in Beit Umar and Sair, vilages on the road to Hebron from Jerusalem. Claims by Palestinians that a cowshed in Bani Naim was demolished were rejected by Lerner whn explained that the ground floor of the two storey building was used to honse

Margot Dudkevitch

Hatch, Gilman to receive award

Senate Judiciary Committee chairman Ortin Hatch and House International Affairs Committee chairman Benjamin Gilman will be awarded the Theodor Herzl Friend of Zion Award at a Knesset ceremony Thursday. The award, for their staunch support of close US-Israel ties, is sponsored by the Jerusalem Municipality and the Jerusalem Fund of Aish Hatorah. Jerusalem Post Staff

Australia receives Maccabiah tragedy report

Health Minister Yehoshua Matza yesterday presented medical findings from the Maccabiah footbridge tragedy to Australian Ambassador Ian Wilcock . The document, a copy of which will be sent to Maccahi Australia, contains lab data and medical reports on Australian sportsmen who were victims of the collapse last month. The meeting also included Israel's Ambassador to Anstralia Shmuel Moyal (whn is now on a home visit) and Health Ministry director-general Prof. Gabi Judy Siegel and Jerusalem Post Staff

Telephone service on children's nutrition

A Health Ministry open telephone line on children's nutrition will be held tomorrow, less than two weeks before the opening of the new school year. Dieticians will answer queries on getting children to school after having a good breakfast, preparing children's lunches in a family with working parents and the importance of their eating a nutritious mid-morning snack. One may call from 8 a.m. to p.m. to the ministry's nutrition department (02-6255223), or the various district health offices (03-9316221, 04-8619780, 08-9221263, 02-6466732 and 06-6730117) 07-6464737 and 06-6791817).

Itamar Rabinovich named Cornell U. trustee

Tel Aviv University Prof. Itamar Rabinovich has been appointed to Cornell University's Board of Trustees as an Andrew White professor at large. Rabinovich, a former ambassador to the US and chief negotiator with Syria, is in the process of writing a book about the Israeli-Syrian negotiations. Jerusalem Post Staff

Fran Drescher

'Nanny' visiting

Fran Drescher, star of the hit television series "The Nanny," arrived in Israel yesterday for a visit with her parents, El Al Airlines şaid,

She is on a private visit, which is not her first to the country.

She and her parents plan to take in tours of Jerusalem, Galilee and Tel Aviv.

Jerusalem Post Staff

Border policemen charged with assault and abduction

Palestinians so severely they had to be hospitalized were charged yesterday with aggravated assault and abduction in Jerusalem District Court.

Yitzhak Mordechai yesterday.

Mordechai confers With US Congress delegation

A hearing on a state request to remand the three until the end of legal proceedings was postponed until tomorrow, to allow the policemen's attorneys to review the evidence.

According to the indictment, the officers, Michael Odrenko, Shai Ashtamker, and Nissim Adolter, stopped the two Palestinians last week in Beit Safafa in Jerusalem and took them to a secluded forest near the Betar checkpoint, where they beat

The three policemen first took one victim, Mahmoud Renim, and then the other, Ahmed Moussa, beat them with rocks and logs, and threatened to kill them with their loaded guns.

After releasing Renim, who stumbled to the road where he was picked up by passers-by and taken

Three border policemen accused of beating two to the hospital, they fied Moussa's leg to their jeep and dragged him along the ground for several dozen meters, "with an intent to maim or cripple" him, the indictment said.

US Representative Carolyn Cheeks Kilptrick, the head of a 6-member Congressional delegation, meets with Defense Minister

After the attacks, the three tried to wipe out their jeep tracks and burn the documents they had taken from the victims to prevent their use as evidence, the indictment

The three have reportedly confessed to the beatings. Haim Misgav, Ashtamker's attorney, said his client was not innocent.

But he said, "a very close family member was murdered by Arabs a few years ago. I'm not saying this justified his actions. But I'm sure when the judge will consider his punishment, this will be taken into con-

Twn nther horder policemen caught on videotape beating Palestinians were sentenced last week to eight months in jail.

News Agencies

Soldier, Hebron kids beat drums together

Jerusalem Post Staff and News Agencies

Palestinian kids and an Israeli soldier beat African drums together in the Hebron market yesterday, which beats beating one another.

"It's a different way to see the Palestinian kids," said a soldier as he tapped a Jumbay drum. "They are smiling and they are happy." The drums were brought to Hebron by four Israeli musicians who hoped they would ease tensions.

Settlers did not participate. "Music will bring peace," said Lior Shai, a 26-year-old musician from Tel Aviv. He said the group might try to draw in settlers in another visit.

CREATIVE BANKING

Because Standard Solutions Are Simply Not Enough

In today's rapidly evolving economy, standard financial solutions are simply not enough. To take full advantage of expanding opportunities, you need a dynamic and inventive banker who is one step ahead of the game.

First International Bank of Israel offers you a comprehensive range of innovative products and services, coupled with a long tradition of financial solidity. As a member of the prestigious international Safra banking group, we merge an emphasis on safety with professional creativity - to tailor optimal solutions to your every need.

First International Bank's business philosophy and performance has been widely applauded both at home

"The First International Bank of Israel is the country's quality bank attracting a sophisticated customer base... Quality bank with international reputation. Societe Generale Equities, October 1996 "Strong 1996 results...revealing positive growth...the valuation of Israel's highest-quality bank remains auractive..." Union Bank of Switzerland Global Research, 21 March 1997 For further information contact:

TEL-AVIV - Hend office, Shalom Tower Tel. (972)-3-5196111 Fax: (972)-3-5100316 International Private Banking & Foreign Relations Dep. Tel. (972)-3-5603606 Fax: (972)-3-5603797

政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治政治

YOUR STATE OF THE ART BANK INTERNATIONAL BANK

Officials downplay reported Dutch slurs

By JAY BUSHINSKY

Although the Foreign Ministry considers the case closed, a slew of anti-Israeli outbursts attributed to two Durch diplomats by a Jewish weekly published in the Netherlands has left a residue of uncertainty and chagrin.

The episode surfaced last Thursday when Amsterdam's Nieuw Israelitische Weekblad quoted Michel Rentenaar, of the Dutch embassy in Tel Aviv, and Ferdinand Smit, a colleague assigned to Gaza, as having described Israel as an oppressive and ugly state.

Their comments, reportedly made during a visit to Ramallah, included charges that Israel's poli-cies are anti-Palestinian, that the state is not democratic, and that it exploits terrorist incidents. They caused dismay and consternation in the Dutch Foreign Ministry," said the Foreign Ministry's Aviv Shiron.

Regrets and apologies followed in short order from the Hague. However, professional skepticism was expressed by the dean of the Dutch foreign press corps in Israel, Salomon Bouman.

"This story is a storm in a teacup," he said, "because the man who quoted the two diplomats did not present himself to them as a journalist."

JERUSALEM

telephone. Long / short term Tel. 07-995 0697. GALILEE MOUNTAINS VEGETARIAN BED & BREAKFAST - Between Safed and Karmiel All guestrooms air-con-

UPPER GALLLEE

Phillip Campbell, Amirim Village, 20115. Tel. 06-898-9045, Fax: 06-698 0772, attn. Phillip. ZICHRON YA'ACOV

Friedman brought to court

IDF soldier Noam Friedman (right) arrives at a military court yesterday under heavy guard to face trial on charges of attempted murder for shooting and wounding seven Palestinians in Hebron last January. Friedman has said he was trying to prevent an IDF pullout from the city. (Remes)

BEIT MAIMON - A small family-run hotel. All rooms air-conditioned with telephone & TV. Its famous Casa Barone restaurant serves home-cooked meals on the picturesque lerrace. Fax: 06-639 6547 Tel. 06-629 0390 email: malmon@pobox.com.ll ditioned, shower and toilet, TV, retrigerator, balcony, clean air. English spoken and understood

Where to stay in Israel

HOTELS

HOTEL NEVE ILAN - Located off highway #1 between Tei Aviv - Jerusalem, a first class

Discount Aug. 23-27 - Tel. 02-533 9339 Fax. 02-533 9335 email: hotel@neve-ilan.co.il

KIBBUTZ HOTEL LAVI - Neer Tiberias, in a beautiful religious kibbutz, 124 superior and daily kibbutz tour, Warm, friendly service. Tel. 06-679 9450, Fax. 06-679 9399.

KIBBUTZ HOTEL KFAR GILAD! - 180 air-conditioned rooms all with shower, bath, telephone, radio, and TV, kosher cuisine, outdoor & indoor heated swimming pools, sport & health club. Tel. 06-690 0000, Fax 06-690 0069.

OTHERS

rooms and suites. Indoor-heated pool, tennis courts, Glatt kosher cuisine. Stop for lunch hotel, 160 rooms, year-round sport & health club, tennis, bicycles, horses. Special

TIME SHARING

. CLUB SALE - for purchase/sale/rental of holiday weeks in all time-sharing clubs/hotels - Israel and worldwide! Tel. 09-862-8064, 052-991-645.

Where to eat in Israel

THE LEBANON RESTAURANT - Main road outside Rosh Pine, near Paz filling station. A connoisseur's oriental restaurant. Selection galled meats, salt-water fish, schwarme, humous + ful bread, salads, and many main courses. Tel. 06-693 7569.

Where to visit in Israel

SAVE TIME AND MONEY - Contact Judy at SIGHTSEEING TOURS, 81 Hayarkon St., Tel Aviv. Tel. 03-517 6248, Fax. 03-517 8835 (from internatinal fax: 972-3-517 8835). Booking daily sightseeing lours to all of Israel, Jordan and Egypt.

CENTRAL ISRAEL HASMONEAN VILLAGE - An authentic recreation from the days of the Maccabees, located in the Modifin area, adjacent to Route 443. Lots of activities for children and their parents. Fluent English. Tel. 08-926 1617.

What to do in Israel

DEAD SEA

EIN GEDI COUNTRY - Dead Sea, resort hotel, restaurants, thermo-mineral spa (black mud and swimming pool), botanical gardens, special events center. Tel. 972-7-659 4760 email: eg@kibbutz.co.if

100 CONTINUOUS DAYS special rate package

To appear in this special tourism column or for more details - send fax to:

100 DAYS Tel. 02-5388 408

or call: 100 DAYS Tel. 02-5315 608, 5315 630 ask about our 100 DAYS special offer.

Yarkon River polluters face prosecution

By LIAT COLLINS

NEWS

Environment Ministry tests on sludge taken from the Yarkoo riverbed show no signs of radioactivity above the natural background levels, but the ministry is beginning a campaign to find and prosecute polluters of the Laboratory tests taken Sunday showed very small traces of iodine 131, which is not a health threat. This type of iodine is used in results show no relation to the Maccabiah bridge collapse last month. The radioactivity found was at a level suggesting it stems from the natural radioactivity in the earth, water and

Yesterday, on the orders of Environment Minister Raphael Eitan, ministry officials toured the central region looking for bodies which could be polluting the Yarkon River with hospitals in diagnostic procedures and treat-ment. Ministry officials said the laboratory The polluters face prosecution and the min The polluters face prosecution and the ministry team will submit its findings in the coming weeks. A spokesman said the ministry also intends filing charges against factories and local authorities which are not sticking to a schedule for dealing with sewage or are not abiding by the standards of wastewater treatment established by the ministry as a condition for letting the water flow into rivers and

Experts debate broadcasting ethics

By GREER FAY CASHMAN

Responding to criticism about insensitivity in its coverage of tragic events, the broadcasting commu-nity turned inwards yesterday to examine the professional, moral and ethical dilemmas which confront reporters in the field and editors and media execuóves in the Panelists in a symposium organized by the Channel 2 news department probed issues such as restraints which should be exercised in live broadcasts from sites of terrorist attacks, plane crashes or other disaster areas; intrusions on the grief of bereaved families; exposure and exploitation of children; respect for the dead and injured and placing the value of human life above all professional considerations.

Some comprehension of the extent to which these problems trouble both electronic and print media journalists could be gleaned from the large attendance at Beit barred latecomers from entering the crowded hall in which the overflow audience already lined the walls and sat on every available inch of

Roni Daniel, Channel 2's military reporter who was the first to show footage of Shani Winter, the baby who survived the suicide bomb attack on the Apropo cafe in Tel Aviv last March, said that when he arrived on the scene, there was really oothing of visual interest except the baby. "That was the most hardhitting picture. She became the symbol of the story." With hindsight however, he would have avoided the close-up shot of the kit-bag bearing the name of one of the 73 soldiers killed in the helicopter collision in February this year. He hadn't expected to see the kit-bag when it appeared on the screen, and he had to make a snap decision as to whether or not to relate to it. In the general confusion, he had erred in judgement.

Daniel's boss Shalom Kital

Sokolov where security guards would also have avoided close-up shots of the devastation wrought in November 1994 by the bomb explosion in a number 5 bus on Tel Aviv's Dizengoff Street.

While large segments of the public objected to the showing of such borrific footage Kital observed. there were people who thought that coverage by both Channels 1 and 2 of the recent bombing in Jerusalem's Mahaneh Yehuda market had been relatively sterile. Some had even suggested, he said, that coverage was politically influenced in order to show that there was less damage resulting from terrorism under the Netanyahu administration than there had been under the administrations of Yitzbak Rabin and Shimon Peres.

While Chaim Yavin, veteran news anchor at Channel I attributed blood and guts coverage to technological development and ratings rivalry. Israel Broadcasting Authority director-general Mordechai Kirschenbaum was of the opinion that if the IBA still had a monopoly, but with the technology of today, "we'd do the same thing because of the CNNization of coverage. There was consensus that CNN was setting the rules by which local channels function, and many things have changed as a result.

"Ten years ago, we never photographed soldiers crying at funerals," Kirschenbaum recalled. It wasn't that they didn't cry, he added, but they controlled themselves. Now there are new norms for military funerals he said, and the soldiers are ready as soon as they see the teameras.

IDF Spokesman Oded Ben Ami, former IBA radio and television reporter, took exception to the way some reporters, cameramen and still photographers gathered like vultures around wounded soldiers transported from Lebanon to Rambam hospital. The wounded are often in a state of trauma he noted, and it's cruel for a reporter to ask if they knew any of the soldiers killed. Often the news that anyone was killed comes as a shock.

HEBREW PRESS REVIEW MICHAL YEDELMAN

A year and a bit after the elections, Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu is putting us all on a dream-diet regime, comments Yediot Aharonot's business editor Sever Plotzker who brings us what he sees as Netanyahu's vision: partial peace, slow growth, old

Middle East. After the elections Netanyahu continued to cultivate, in speeches and interviews, a vision of grand fantasies, says Plotzker. This was a continuation of the Rabin government's estimate in 1995 of economic growth, 70 thousand new immigrants a year and receding inflation and unemployment,

But two or three months ago Netanyahu underwent a change and began toning down "Reality jumped on him suddenly with all its streogth and ugliness," suggests Plotzker. When Netanyahu says the Palestinians must "internalize" the change in Israel's government, notes Plotzker, "he is referring to us, as much as to them." Netanyahu is asking Israelis to internalize the descending expectations be is leading. "The improvements in Israel's status and condition will be small and slow, he is now saying. After one year Netanyahu and his aspirations have gone on a diet; a diet of harsh reality," states Plotzker.

Historic justice

Jerusalem Mayor Ehud Olmert did historic justice to Shimon Peres, when he announced there was no place for the false Likud election slogan "Peres will divide Jerusalem," even though it was too late to help Peres, writes Dan Margalit in Ha'aretz. Margalit notes that so far no one else in the Likud has dared admit this, for fear of arousing Netanyahu's wrath. But Peres deserves historic justice oot only in Jerusalem, but on the things attributed to him concerning the Jordan Valley and Golan, where he marched in Rabin's footsteps. Now that Netanyahu has entangled himself by offering withdrawal in exchange for security arrangements in the Golan without peace, as Labor leader Ehud Barak pointed out, when will Third Way leader Avigdor Kahalani offer his apology to Rabin and Peres, demands Margalit.

Subscribe today at the special Jerusalem Post

price of NIS165 and save NIS25!

Ha'arerz's Akiva Eldar reveals how the foreign ministry's deputy director-general for the Middle East and peace process Yoav Biran, who was invited personally by Jordan's King Hussein to attend the ceremonial luncbeon in Akaba last week, was shamefully prevented from taking his place at the table "for lack of room," The foreign ministry, says Eldar, baving learned that these kinds of mishaps do not occur in the Jordanian court, looked for the malfunction in the Prime Minister's Office. They found that Netanyahu's bureau chief, Moshe Leon, asked the Jordanians to allocate a seat for his buddy, advisor David Bar-Illan. Sorry, all the places are taken, said the official in charge of ceremony. "Leon took a peek at the list, pulled Biran out and pushed Bar-Illan in. Levy heard and kept his mouth shut. How many times can one go to Beit Shean and return." Netanyahu's promises, that Levy would cooduct the talks with the Palestinians, are in as bad a shape as the negotiations, notes Eldar, Netanyahu did not ask Levy's opinion on freezing the Palestinians' tax funds and sources close to Levy say nothing has changed since the Sharon-Kitchenette crisis. 'Levy is winging on the shallowness of the ministers and grinding his teeth every time Danny Naveh conducts the government's foreign policy in talks with ambassadors, in the radio's moming news bulletins and television's evening news. If this situation continues, he will Baby you can drive my car "For many Tel Avivians, Nablus is a very distant town, much farther away than Micronesia and far less fashionable," observes Yediot Aharonor's Nahum Barnea in his report of how the leaders of the city that doesn't sleep visited the city without supplies. "It was the first official visit of the State of Tel Aviv in the State of Nablus," he notes. The initiative came from Tel Aviv Mayor Ronni Milo and was supported by the Peres Institute for Peace, which brought in the European Union. The aim is eventually to sign a twin-city pact. Arriving under a heavy border police guard, Milo and his entourage were greeted by Nablus Mayor Ghassan Shaka at the Palestinian police barrier. In the council hall, local officials spoke of the "difficult situation" under closure, cut off from supplies. When Milo mentioned the taxi driver who was murdered. Shaka replied that's what happens when people have no money and no work.

They decided to take a tour in Shaka's new Audi. Milo offered to drive. Enjoying himself hugely, he drove the Nablus mayor up and down the town, from the peak of Mount Gerizim to the slopes of Mount Eival, from the Balata refugee camp to the western exit. 'Milo drove, and passersby waved. Milo: they gave tribute to their mayor, but admired him all the more when they saw he had a driver." At a lavish lamb luncheon in a country club outside town, which ruined ests diet. Milo learned that the planned kanafe (cheese cake in rosewater) had been canceled, when the hosts remembered it wouldn't be kosher. Milo laughed. remarking "the Tel Avivians who came here take care not to eat kanafe only on Tisha

The Reform and Conservative movements' efforts to penetrate the Israeli religion market are doomed to failure, writes

Moariv's Shalom Yerushalmi. The Reform and Conservative communities are not supported by the masses, and enjoy only media sympathy, especially on Ha' aretz's Op-Ed page, and there's another good reason for the man in the street to oppose them," states Yerushalmi.

Find Out Where You Live With A Remarkable Jerusalem Post Offer The Jerusalem Post offers you a unique chance to reinvent your connection to Israel "The whole object of travel is not to set foot on foreign land; it is at last to set foot on one's own country as a foreign land." G.K. Chesterton ERETZ Magazine takes you beyond political headlines on a journey into the dramatic depths of the place you live-the place you think you know-with beautiful feature articles on Israel's history, archaeology, geography, architecture, and ethnic diversity. ERETZ Magazine digs deeper than any other periodical in its quest to unearth the romantic Books, The Jerusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000 relics of Israel's past, capture the fluid nature of its Yesi Please enter a one-year subscription (6 issues) present, and alert readers to the environmental to ERETZ Magazine in my name for only NIS165! follies in its future. In ERETZ's seventy-two spectacularly Enclosed check for NIS165 payable to The Jerusalem Post, or credit card details. photographed pages, you will travel through one of the world's most enchanting outdoor museums-the land of Israel. Join us as we explore your home.

After 158 years

e demadente

desperation of the second

Virginia military college to admit women cadets

By DAVID REED

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP) -Angelia Pickett expects equal treatment from everyone at the Virginia Military Institute, including the barbers who specialize in buzzcuts.

"I'm glad we have to do it. It makes us more equal with the guys. If they were going to allow Innger hair, that would make us stick out more."said Pickett, 17, of Kentucky. "That's the least of my worries."

She and 30 nther women were ready to make history yesterday as 158 years of all-male tradition comes to an end. All hope tn avnid the scandals that have beset The Citadel since Shannon Faulkner became the first woman to enroll in the South Carolina military college in 1995.

"All eyes are on VMI," Kevin Trujillo, this year's senior class president, told an assembly. Some are just salivating at the thought of our failure. All it will take is the mistake of one person." VMI spent six years and millions of dollars fighting federal efforts to force the state-supported behalf of a still-unidentified woman who was denied admis-

Last summer, the Supreme Court ruled that if the school accepts tax money it must accept women. The school's board voted 9-g to accept women rather than go private and stay all-male. Federal court orders require quarterly reports on the

But VMI has refused to softeo its rigid discipline. Women will wear the same drill uniforms and buzz cuts as the men. They will live in spartan barracks, just as their brethren dn. No lipstick. No jewelry. Nn dating npper-

The state gave VMI $5.1 million to help recruit women, hire extra staff and make necessary renovations, such as huilding separate bathrooms. VMI hired a female counselor and a female physical education instructor.

Last semester, with The Citadel reeling under national news reports that male cadets had tormented and driven away two female freshmen, Superintendent school to accept women. The Joseph Bunting required all

Justice Department sued on 1,200 cadets and 400 employees to complete a coed orientation and attend seminars on sexual harassment and fraternization.

Bunting said he has met many of the freshmen women and doubts they were attending "for dramatic effect, political reasons or on a whim or impulse." But some, women and men, will likely drop out, as freshmen do each year, though the pioneer women of the Class of 2001 bring with them impressive

Rachel Love, a high school cross-country number from Pennsylvania, numed down an appointment to the Naval Academy to go to VML Kelly Sullivan of Georgia pilots her own plane and was her state's high school girls' discus champion. Jen Jolin, a track star at Virginia's Highland County High School, mirrors the women's resolve in succeed at "If they step across the line of what they're allowed to do like they did at The Citadel, I'm not going to quit," she said. They're going to be out and I'm Bunting's warning to the VMI meo for any kind of misbehavior was explicit immediate and severe punishment.

But older cadets worry that the in-your-face discipline meted out to "rats" - freshmen may seem like sexual harassment when applied to women.

For six months, starting with tomorrow's initiation known as the "rat line," freshmen lives resemble Marine boot camp.

They must crisply salute upperclassmen and obey orders. If they incurrectly answer a question about VMI trivia, they pay on the spot with pushups. They must walk like automatons, arms held straight and unmoving at their sides and chins tucked against their orders, too: Be impersonal wheo disciplining cadets; any reference to gender is out of bounds. "I think the cadets will handle themselves properly," said Pickett. "They've had to go through a lot of training, and their reputation is on the line as much as ours is."

Upperclassmeo have their

Nor could the crowd place bets. "It's a shame we can't place any bets," said Werner Kiesling, a 63year-old retired teacher. "The carnels would be ideal for bets because you never know what they are going to do in the middle of the race.".

said Sanchez. "And it's got to stop."

US government awards sexual harassment victim $672,000

piled a record as an exemplary worker at the huge facility, which trains law officers from 72 federal agencies. But in 1994, Galliher complained that officials there rejected

By BELL MCALLISTER

WASHINGTON (The Washington Post) - A Northern Virginia woman who complained she was sexually harassed by officials of the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Brunswick, Georgia, has won a $672,000 verdict from a federal districa court jury there.

Lawyers familiar with sexual harassment cases said the verdict is one of the largest involving women who work for the federal government. Vickie Galliher of Fairfax, who quit the center in disgust in 1996, may receive even more money from the Treasury Department when a judge rules on the issues of potentially lost pay and legal fees. The jury that heard her case last week awarded her $72,000 in her for a promotion to instructor, giv-ing the position to a lesser-qualified Both Galliher and her lawyer, David Ross of Los Angeles, declined and $600,000 in damages. A health trainer, Galliher had com-from the presiding judge. A spokesman for the center, which predicted last week that the government would appeal the verdict, also declined to comment on the case yesterday.

to discuss the case, citing instructions

Center Director Charles F. Rinkevich, a former police officer

hack pay for her time at the center who has headed the training facility since 1983, issued a statement Friday expressing displeasure with the verdier and asserting that the center had made a "conscious and determined effort to create a healthy and worker-friendly workplace which includes an environment in which discrimination of any kind is not tolerated."

Throughout the trial, the center maintained that Galliher was not qualified for the promotion and said she saw discrimination in every action that center officials took. Galliher, who has a master's degree in sports medicine, testified. however, that center officials retaliated against her after she filed a complaint with Equal Employment Opportunity officials in Washington about her lost promotion.

First camel race excites Europeans

By ERIK KIRSCHBAUM

BERLIN (Reuters) - More than 30,000 eurious spectators numed out at a Berlin horse track last weekend to watch 25 unpredictable camels take part in what the orga-nizers said were the first camel races ever held in northern Europe.

Horse races they were oot. Two camels sat down on the track in the middle of a warm-up lap and it took 15 minutes to get them moving again, while another stopped two meters from the finish and had to be prodded over the line hy its jockey to win its race.

German animal-lovers had called for a boycott of the races, arguing that camels are not suited to northern European terrain or

MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION (RFI)

IN CONNECTON WITH BROADCASTING SERVICES AND TRANSMISSION OF TELEVISION PROGRAMS TO CONSUMERS' HOMES VIA SATELLITE (DBS)

The Ministry of Communications requests information on broadcasting services and transmission of television and radio programs and other services direct to consumers'

Documents for the request of Information can be obtained Sunday to Thursday from 8.30 a.m. to 2.00 p.m., from Wednesday, August 20, 1997 from the Cable Broadcasting Council at the Ministry of Communications, 23 Rehov Yafo, Jerusalem 91999 or by mail if requested by telephone at 02-670-2210.

Responses to the request for information should be submitted to the Cable Television Services Section, not later than Wednesday, September 24, 1997. The information received will be used by the Ministry of Communications and the Cable Broadcasting Council to formulate principles for broadcasting services and transmission of television and radio programs direct to ... a consumers' homes via satellite (DBS).

Chile debates allowing divorce

By ANTHONY FAIOLA

SANTIAGO (Washington Post) - During 16 years of violent marriage, physician Jimena Letelier, 39, became one of her own patients, she said, stitching her own wounds and tending her bruises after brutal beatings hy ber husband. But a few months ago, when he began hitting her with iron chains in front of their four children, Letelier said, she finally mustered the courage to leave him. In Chile, though, that is easier said than done.

"I can't divorce him," said Letelier, who specializes in genauics. "The law doesn't allow it. No matter what I try to do, I will always belong to him.... It makes me sick."

Letelier's situation is an extreme example in the debate over divorce raging in this nation, where the influence of the Roman Catholic Church and staunch conservatism have kept civil marriage codes virmally unchanged - and divorce illegal - since the 1880s.

Legislators are dehating whether to revamp the marriage laws, which critics say are outdated and carry a high social cost. The form of legal separation permitted in Chile is time-consuming and costly to obtain, making it extremely difficult for battered women to leave violent spouses. Even if couples do obtain a legal separation, neither spouse may marry again.

"In Chile, a mistake in marriage can cost you the rest of your life," said Nury Fuentes, a womeo's rights attorney io Santiago who represents Letelier.

The strict codes have had the ironic side effect of creating a massive sub-society composed of Chilean couples who "live in sin." It is estimated nearly half of all married adults have separated unofficially, many living with new partners without legal ties.

This has raised the hirth rate of illegitimate children - who in Chile are barred from becoming military officers or holding high police positions — to almost 40 percent, the highest in Latin America. "We cannot continue with the system we have now. . . . It is absolutely despicable and dangerous, and it leaves women and children totally unprotected," Presideot Eduardo Frei said in a recent interview. "I think that now there is a great awareness in Chilean society after many years [during which] there was a lack of debate over cultural values," said Frei, who has thrown his support behind a divorce hill being debated in the lower house of the National Congress. "We are finally looking at this issue with a mind to change it."

There is a loophole under which spouses willing to lie about where they were living at the time of their wedding can obtain an annulment, since couples must be wed in districts in which they reside. But this process is expensive, involving records searches and automeys' fees, effectively limiting the option to the wealthy.

There are conservatives who believe that the people of Chile are children who must be told what is socially acceptable," said Congresswoman Mariana Aylwin, sponsor of the current bill to legalize divorce, which polls show 70 percent of Chileans support. "But they are failing to see the reality of modern Chile. We have an enormous rate of adultery, illegitimate children and of couples Larrain, an opponent of changing living together out of wedlock. It's the civil marriage codes. "We cantime we moved the marriage lawa of Chile into the modern world." Under the military dictatorship, the Catholic Church was seen hy many as protector of the people, speaking out against abuses committed by the government of Gen. Augusto Pinochet. Now, experts say, the church in effect is calling in its chit, demanding Chileans adhere to the strict marriage laws. "It serves no purpose to our society to destroy the institution of the family," said Sen. Hernan not stand hy and watch the moral integrity of this country decline." Analysts say that although supporters have votes to pass the divorce law in the lower house of Congress, the Seoate - which includes eight "designated" lawmakers appointed by the military - poses a more significant harrier. However, the designated senators are expected to he voted out of office in December. opening the way for final

But that is not sooo eoough for Maria Veronica Sanchez, 42, who has lived with her lover in their homey towo house for more than eight years. Because the man she considers her hushand in all but legal title was unable to divorce his first wife, their child, Barhara, 5, is considered illegitimate. Sanchez, who herself was born illegitimate and, she says, was stigmatized because of it, wants her daughter to feel no sharne. "This is hardest on the children,"

book—

Today's Israel – In Antique Style

IP Price:

NIS 39 each

JP Special:

any 2 posters for

NIS 75.

Beautiful touring maps of today's Israel - decorated in old-fashioned style, with drawings of the historical and holy sites incorporated into the ornamental frame.

42 cm. x 113.5 cm.  $(16.5" \times 44.5")$ .

Israel Pilgrims' Map The Land that Jesus Walked (English)

Israel Touring Map The Holy Land (Available in Hebrew or English)

Suitable for framing perfect gift for tourists, friends, family - in Israel or

Books, The Jarusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000 Please send me____copies of:

ISRAEL PILGRIMS' MAP at NIS 39 each .. ISRAEL TOURING MA Pat NIS 39 each _ DEnglish DHebrew Postage in Israel: NIS 6 . or Door-to-door delivery (where available) NIS 19.

Enclosed check payable to The Jerusalem Post, or credit card details. Please list gift recipient's name, address and message separately.

Some 50 fragments of medieval manuscripts are now at the Israel Museum. Sounds dull? Well, they form one of the most exciting and moving exhibitions I have ever seen.

Meir Ronnen The Jerusalem Post

THE CAIRO GENIZA SEMINAR

In 1896 at the Ben Ezra Synagogue in the Fustat area of old Cairo, Prof. Solomon Schechter of Cambridge University revealed to the world the staggering contents of its Geniza. 140,000 fragments were given to the Cambridge University for study. In the whole history of Judaic studies there has never been a more dramatic event than the discovery of these ancient documents. Poetry, prayers, accounts of journeys, files, tens of thousands of handwritten documents, some signed by the Rambam himself, and much more. A hundred years have passed and still not all the material has been studied. Now a selection on loan from Cambridge is on view in Jerusalem. It presents a vivid picture of the spiritual - and not so spiritual - mores and business dealings of a medieval Jewish community.

Shorashim and The Jerusalem Post Travel Club invite you to a weekend seminar with the experts, Prof. Stefan Reif, Head of the Cairo Archive. Cambridge University, and Prof. Mordechai Akiva Friedman, Jewish Culture in Moslem Lands and Cairo Geniza Studies, Tel Aviv University.

DATE: AT:

Friday and Saturday, 19-20 September

PRICE:

Holiday Inn, Crowne Plaza, Jerusalem. NIS 670 per person in double room, half board (Shabbat dinner and breakfast), three lectures, tour of the exhibition at the Israel Museum, and use of hotel facilities.

Reservations and further information:

SHORASHIM, POB 7588, 14 Rehov Abarbanel, Jerusalem 91074, Tel. 02-5666231 (9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.) Ask for Michal, Vered or Varda.

Column One

Mir's main computer fails in space

By MITCHELL LANDSBERG

MOSCOW (AP) - The main computer on the Mir space station failed today during a cargo ship docking, sending the problemplagued space station wobbling in its orbit and forcing the crew to shut off central systems.

Russian space officials said the problem was not life-threatening for the Russian-American crew. But they acknowledged the situation was serious and said the Mir's orbits will be "chaotic" until the problem

"It's not extraordinary, because we've had such situations earlier," said Mission Control chief Vladimir Solovyov. "It's not a super-complex

However, Solovyov said flight controllers don't know the cause of the failure. He said the breakdown would force yet another delay in a long-awaited mission to repair damage caused by collision in June.

NASA officials at Russian Mission Control also said they did not consider the situation danger-

"li's a situation that we'll watch carefully, but we're not worried," said Kathleen Maliga, a spokeswoman for the US space agency.

As a result of the computer failure, Mir's solar panels are no longer held in proper orientation to the sun, which will deprive the station of its main power source.

To conserve power, the crew has shut down most of the station's operating systems. Life support systems did not appear to be in any danger - even without the main computer, the crew has enough oxygen and food.

"Unfortunately, right now the system of station orientation is not operational," Solovyov said. "The computer will be switched off until morning. There will be no altitude control at all. It will be chaotic. We don't know the consequences of this chaotic flight.'

To maintain some control of the station, Solovyov said the crew can use thruster engines on the newly docked Progress resupply ship and the Soyuz capsule that brought the current team to the Mir earlier this went out of control during a practice Asked how the two Russian cosmanual docking, crashing into the monauts and their American colstation's Spektr module. league were faring during the crisis, Solovyov said, "Well, they're trained to deal with such consequences."

The computer failure occurred during the docking of a Progress cargo ship. On instructions from Mission

In that incident, a similar cargo ship

The collision forced the crew to seal off the depressurized Spektr module and disconnect electric cables leading to its solar batteries, reducing the station's power by about half.

Control, Mir commander Anatoly The crash and power loss were the worst in a long series of misfornines Solovyov switched off the automatic docking system and successfully to beset the Mir. Others included a moored the vessel manually. fire and breakdowns in the oxygen The commander of the crew and cooling systems.

The new Progress ship, which immediately took charge and started manual operations," the Mission Control chief said.

brought supplies to Mir in July, was disconnected to make room for a Today's manual docking was the Soyuz capsule carrying the new crew. It has been flying 43 miles same kind of maneuver that on June 25 resulted in the worst accident in from the Mir. the space outpost's 11-year history.

After the old Russian crew returned to Earth in another Soyuz freed for the Progress.

From its new position, the Progress's engines and its fuel were expected to help to correct the station's position in orbit. The ship would also protect the steel docking unit of the Kvant-I module from being overheated by the sun.

The Progress - and the trash it is now carrying - will be abandoned to burn up in a descent to Earth before the next Progress ship arrives in October.

The crew aboard Mir had planned a series of spacewalks to fix the damage caused by the June crash. The first is supposed to take place

In that operation, mission com-mander Solovyov and Pavel Vinogradov plan to venture into last week, the new docking port was the dark and airless Spektr module to reconnect power cables leading to its solar panels. If successful the mission would restore the Mir to 90 percent of its normal power

> A second mission, a spacewalk outside the Mir. is aimed at pinpointing and possibly patching up the holes in the Spektr. All together, about six spacewalks > repair job, depending on the location and severity of the ruptures. The crew flew around the Mir in the Soyuz escape capsule on Friday to film the outside of the damaged > may be needed to complete the

They reported no significant findings, but today they were planning to transmit to Earth pictures they hope will allow them to find the damage.

The authority for that statement is no less than the former secretarygeneral of the United Nations. Javier Perez de Cuellar. At the center of the storm of those who agree with him is an Israeli-born media crusader and a surly president of dubious origin. Of course Perez did lose a presidential election to Alberto Fujimori two years ago, so he is unlikely to be too enthusiastic about his rival. Still, it is a serious charge leveled at his own country by a respected world figure and therefore worthy of note. "We are a country run by an autocratic regime," Perez de Cuellar added in his recent comments. It begins to look more and more as if he is right. But then, if anyone outside Pent noticed, Fujimori already showed signs of authoritarian disease in 1992, when he dissolved Congress and enhanced his own executive powers. As always in South America, there was suspicion of an army lurking in the shadows and since his rise from obscurity Pujimori has always been a close friend of these all-too-Latin strongarm merchants.

Peru is no longer a democracy.

Almost as typically sinister as a South American general in comic opera uniform and dark shades is the shadowy figure of the "intelli-gence chief."

Apparatus Voila! Meet Fujimori's own powerful adviser (every insecure leader must have one) Vladimiro Montesinos, on a reported fat salary of half a million dollars. That's for advising - and for heading what is euphernistically referred to as the "intelligence machine" - that all too human "apparatus" capable of grinding undesirables out of existence. It was a military and intelligence operation that last propelled Peru into international headlines in April with the dramatic end to the long siege of the Japanese ambassador's residence in Lima by Tupac Amaru

Fujimori and his tough guys won a lot of praise and respect for tunneling under the terrorists' lair. blowing them away, and freeing the hostages in an operation that would have done credit to Arnie Schwartznegger.

Fair enough. But the world is also getting more than a little sick of shadowy state terrorists and those who either lead them or are run by them - a distinction often hard to

What Peruvians - and foreign investors - are getting more sick of is a leader who was elected by popular vote but who resorts to autocracy and bending of the constitution when the popularity wanes. Like Mr. Fujimori, for example.

The Israeli One of the most strident opponents of increasing Fujimorism has been a television station run by Israel-born Baruch Ivcher. Goaded by Ivcher's relentless coverage of a high-profile torture case, Fujimori has added harassment of the media to his growing list of anti-democra-

In Fujimori's

side, an Israeli thorn

By Thomas O'Dwyer

Fujimori is attempting to corral general press freedoms, as well as specifically and childishly attempting to revoke the lycher's Peruvian citizenship.

Now there's an irony. Just as he was winding up his usual authoritarian toys of wiretapping, spying on the citizens, harassing journalists and political opponents, Fujimon has fallen foul of an accusation that his birth documents were fulsified to show he was born in Peru. As in the United States, birth on native soil is required of anyone seeking the highest office of state. The reports suggest Fujimori's Japanese parents may have altered the documents. He denies it, but if the charge is substantiated, he would have no choice but to resign - or openly overthrow the constitution. As in most poor countries, the esoteric ramblings of intellectuals, politicians, and media gurus are a parlor game for the elite which is about as relevant to the mass of people as last week's meal. Their hero is the one who gets things done and assures them of today's food for their families.

Non-deliverable

In that test, Fujimori has had them fooled for almost eight years. His much-praised hitching of the stagnant economy to global free-marketry promised growth, wealth and employment for all.

It has dawned on the poorer classes that the promises may be stamped "non-deliverable." Recent polls show Fujimori's popular support has plunged since April from 75 percent after the Lima hostage crisis to 25 percent. The reason is not birth certificates, or constitutional tinkering. It's bread and jobs.

Those buzz-wordy policies - privatization, free currency, free trade, foreign investment - worked in Lima. The tower blocks rose in already uptown city areas, the rich got richer.

The poor stayed where they were, if they weren't sliding backwards. Figures for last year put the number of Peruvians below the poverty level at near 50 percent. Three years ago, it was 46 percent.

Modernizing factories with foreign investment allows the owners to leapfrog from smoke-stack to digital-do in one go. In other words, in come the robots, and out go the unskilled workers by the thousands. It may also be dawning on ordinary Penuvians that democratic freedoms are not just a luxury the middle classes can afford while dawdling over a cocktail. There is a connection between a failing democracy and a failing economy.

That is why thousands have taken time off their already hard lives to gather outside Baruch Ivcher's crusading television station. Even in a poor country, when the lie grows bigger, truth becomes recognized as one of the most precious national commodities.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin (right) shakes hands with his Chechen counterpart Asian Maskhadov in the Kremlin yesterday. The Chechen president was

AFTER COMMUNISM

Central Europeans demanding right to visit US

BY DEAN E. MURPHY

PRAGUE (LA Times) - Maybe cold and soggy. It was impossible to get a comb through your bair. And there wasn't a warm cup of coffee to be had.

By sunrise, the dream of visiting America for 70 Czechs receotly camped on a narrow sidewalk outside the US Embassy here was fast becoming a nightmare.

"This is humiliating," said Eva Svozilova, 20, a weary-eyed computer technician hoping to speod two weeks in Los Angeles next month. "It is crazy having to do this, in the rain and all. But what other choice do we have?"

Spurred by unusually cheap air fares, newfound prosperity and a fascination with things American, a record number of Central Europeans want to vacation in the United States this summer. But because of a highly restrictive US policy on tourist visas, uotold numbers are not making it beyond the consular offices of American Tough visa requirements are not new for Central Europeans - they have a well-documented habit of overstaying visits, US officials say. But this summer there has been an unexpected change in attitude among the trans-Atlantic travelers. Following the decision last month 10 invite the Czech Republic, Hungary and Poland into NATO, residents of the three countries are demanding to be treated as close family - not the bumbling cousins of yesterday unwelcome at the American dinner table.

People around the world complain about US visa policies, the indignity of waiting in long lines and the seeming arbitrariness of consular officials.

But upcoming NATO membership has transformed the ever-sensitive debate into a simple issue of fairness for many Central Europeans: If we are good enough to risk our lives with you on the banlefield, they say, we should be good enough to share your campgrounds and theme parks.

"You cannot be accepted as military allies and have travel restrictions at the same time - what kind of partnership can that be?" said lerzy Borowczak, 40, the Solidarity union leader at the bankrupt Lenin Shipyard in Gdansk, Poland. "If they had to choose, I think Poles would prefer if the Americans changed their visa policy rather than invited us to join NATO."

Outside the US Embassy in Prague, a chorus of groans erupted from the soaked crowd when the issue of fairness was raised.

Americans can come here without a visa, and there are thousands of them in Prague," said Jana Zajicova, 28, a philosophy student it wouldn't be so awful in nicer from the Czech capital. "But we weather, but it rained buckets all have to sleep on the ground. It is want to go to the United States after this - NATO allies or not."

Zajicova, like many first-time US visa applicants here, is young, relatively well-off and an experienced traveler. Unlike the generations of Iron Curtain vacationers before them, a growing number of Central Europeans are enjoying the benefits of the economic changes, baving already toured the Roman ruins, swum the Spanish beaches and biked the Swiss Alps. America is the next great adventure - and if it is slightly beyond their means, there is always a bank loan or a generous employer, they say.

"I have an iovitation bere from the branch of our computer firm in Sunnyvale," said Svozilova, who was awarded a company-paid excursion to Los Angeles with several fellow employees. "But still, I've been here since 10 o'clock last night."

An American diplomat in Central Europe said there has been a "hysterical reaction" to the visa requirement among recent travelers, some of whom have complained to consular officials that it violates their basic human rights, an appeal commonly invoked in the past agaiost Commuoist travel

Although more tourist visas are being issued than ever, the volume of would-be visitors to the United States - about 30 percent higher than last year here in the Czech Republic - has inevitably led to more refusals, according to US

In the past few months, about 5% of Czech visa applicants have been rejected; the rate typically fluctuates between 2% and 10%. Michael Zantovsky, until recent-

the Czech ambassador in Washington, said the visa quandary is among the most vexing issues in relations between the NATO invitees and their new American ally.

US officials say they understand the frustration among law-abiding foreign visitors.

Bui a country's membership in NATO has no effect on US immigration policies. Until the 1980s, all foreigners (except Canadians and Bermudans) required a visa to enter the United States, and even today, residents of three longtime NATO members - Turkey, Greece and Portugal - must still obtain

Under the 10-year-old Visa Waiver Pilot Program, tourists and business travelers from 25 countries worldwide are allowed visafree entrance to the United States. But US officials said none of the Central European countries meet the program's strict criteria, which include low rates for both visa refusals and visa violations. "We are grateful for the NATO expected to ask Russia for some form of official diplomatic recognition as a step towards ultimate sovereignty for Chechnya.

of those people joining it, but we still have immigration laws," said Brian Jordan, spokesman for the Immigration Naturalization Service, which must approve countries admitted to the waiver program.

"These [Central European] countries are part of a general problem of visa 'overstayers' - people who choose to stay longer in the United States without extending their visas," be said. "People who overstay their visas only hurt their fellow countrymen."

The INS estimates that there are about 70,000 undocumented Poles when the taxi driver earns more in the United States, about 40,000 of whom have overstayed their were refused.

Although numbers are much lower for the Czech Republic and Huogary, US officials say residents of all three countries fit the general pattern of high-risk travelers: They come from places where salaries are a fraction of those in America.

"The relative economic parity between the United States and countries like Germany makes it clear the average German isn't going to drive a taxi in New York City," said a US Embassy official.

That changes dramatically than a doctor or lawyer back home. If you are only making $3,000 a tourist visas: last year, more than year and you say you are going to 44,000 of the 117,500 oonimmi- the United States for vacation, we have to ask, How are pay for Disneyland?'

But critics say U.S. immigration practices are not always so clearcut. Central European violations are meaningless, they say, when compared with the 2.7 million undocumeoted Mexicans in the United States. Even among Europeans, disparities can be inex-

According to the INS, Ireland is second only to Poland in the number of undocumented U.S. residents from Europe, yet Ireland was admitted to the waiver program in 1995.
"I don't know why," Jordan said.

Hardware requirements:

* PC 386 minimum (486 preferred) with 5 MB free on hard disk

* 4 MB RAM, Microsoft Windows 3.1 or 95, CD drive

JP Special Price - NIS 249 incl VAT. and p&h in Israel

Please se	nd me	salem Post, PO copies of HEL em Post, or see	P plus. End	losed is my check,			ORDER BY PHONE OR FAX 02-6241282 Fax: 02-6241212 E-mail orders © jpost.co.il
J VISA	O ISRA	O DINERS	O AMEX
CC No					•	Ехр
Name				Address
City	-				Code	ID No
Tel. (day)_				Signature

Caught in the cross fire

العكذامن الاحز

The separation of church and state issue spawns violence in a small German village

By WILLIAM DROZDIAK

lerusalem Pg

morife

live.

or make

....

decorate state &

and the state of the said

11.00

Commence of the Commence of

Carlo Server

one of Same

18 18 W. A.A. Same of

The Same

War and Mark

might be

BRUCKMUEHL, Germany (The Washington Post) - When he decided last year to challenge the powerful role of the Roman Catholic church in state schools, Josef Obermeier never imagined that his antagonists would try to make his life hell.

Within days, he began receiving the first of a stream of anonymous death threats. Other phone callers warned that his daughter would be kidnapped. Motorists cruising down his street tossed burning packages onto his lawn. Finally, a neighbor planted a 10-foot-tall crucitix in front of his house - and then obtained a court order prohibiting Obermeier from removing it.

Such events had never occurred in this tidy Bavarian village, a serene pastoral community 25 miles southeast of Munich where respect for law and order is revered as much as sausage and beer. But once Obermeier dared complain about the crucifix hanging on the wall of his daughter's classroom and pressed his argument in the courts, the tacitum electrician became the target of a vicious hate campaign.

Obermeier's freedom-of-religion case is now wending its way through Germany's legal system, and nobody will be surprised if it winds up in the highest court in the land. For years, German legal experts have been wracking their brains trying to resolve one of the biggest conundrums of postwar German democracy: the interschool ann state.

The controversy is assuming new urgency because as Germany evolves into a multicultural society, a growing number of non-Christian children are entering German schools and rejecting the Roman Catholic or Lutheran principles that form an integral part of education programs.

More than 7 million foreigners now live in Germany, a greater number than in any other European country. They include Turkish and Iranian Moslems, Russian Jews and Asian Buddhists who consider the Christian beritage taught in German schools anathema to their ancestral backgrounds.

In addition, many secular Germans are questioning why organized religion should play so central a role in their political culture. The state collects a church tax to pay the salaries of clergy, which for archbishops can be as high as $130,000 a year. Clerics sit on influential advisory councils, including those that approve the content of radio and television programs. While the United States, France and other Western democracies decided long ago what to render unto Caesar, Germany has found it difficult to break the historical bonds linking religion, education and politics. The nation's two most powerful conservative parties -Kohl's Chancellor Helmut Christian Democratic Union and its Bavarian sister party, the Christian Social Unio - have deep Christian twined responsibilities of church, roots and draw much of their political support from churches.

Since gaining power 15 years ago. Kohl's governing alliance has been solicitous about protecting church interests. The government has rebuffed efforts to curtail a church-support tax that Germans who declare their religion must pay and has reaffirmed the influence of religious representatives on political and academic councils. Kohl himself has vowed to preserve the identity of Germany as "a bastion of Christian civilization." With Parliament unable or unwilling to establish clear guidelines in a modern unified Germany, the task has fallen to a legal system that bas become embroiled in volatile conflicts affecting society's basic institutions.

Two years ago, Germany's supreme court struck down a Bavarian law requiring the display of crucifixes in classrooms because it violated a constitutional requirement of "religious neutrality" in public institutions. The court found that while schoolroom display of the crucifix is not illegal, nobody should be forced to study in the presence of religious symbols. The ruling was the culmination of a 10-year crusade by Bavarian artist Ernst Seler, who said he did not want to send his three children to schools in which they would be horrified by what he called the "image of a bleeding, half-naked male corpse" that depicted Jesus Christ dying on the cross.

Far from settling the issue, the decision provoked an unprece- church had no place in school dented wave of public protest across Bavaria, Germany's second most populous state with 11 million citizens and a strong Roman Catholic heritage.

State Premier Edmund Stoiber accused the court of issuing "an edict of intolerance that wounded the very soul of Bavaria." The Christian Social Union, which dominates Bavarian politics, organized a protest of 30,000 people to demonstrate the depth of disenchantment with the supreme court, which has long been extolled as the principal guardian of German democracy.

Stoiber's government then began to work around the court ruling. It amended the law to allow for the removal of a crucifix from a classroom or public building if somebody who objects gives sufficiently valid reasons for taking it down.

Enter Josef Obermeier. When he escorted his 6-year-old daughter, Yasmine, to class on her first day at the local public school, Obermeier said he did not want his child to study in the shadow of the crucifix and asked that it be removed. That is when his troubles started.

"I gave what I thought were sensible reasons," Obermeier said in an interview at his home. "I told the school that a religious symbol has no place in a classroom, especially if it represents a church that is antidemocratic in nature and practices sex discrimination by refusing equal rights to women." When the schoolmaster demanded further explanation, Obermeier said he felt the

because the Catholic hierarchy appeared to be anti-science in the way it once treated Galileo as a heretic and refused to recognize that the Earth is round instead of flat.

Obermeier's rationale, he says, was rejected as "too polemical and not sufficiently personal." Local courts backed the school's decision, so Obermeier decided to march the case up the legal ladder.

The Bavarian state court is expected to make a decision soon, and Obermeier says his lawyers already are preparing an appeal to the nation's supreme court in Karlsrube.

"How can any school or court decide that reasons must be personal and not political?" Obermeier asked. "It's like saying it is only acceptable to object to Hitler because of his ugly mustache and not because of the way he persecuted Jews and other

The publicity that has been focused on the village embarrasses Johannes Mangels, Bruckmuchl's school director. He complains that too many outsiders do not recognize the unique circumstances in Bavaria that have bred an intimate partnership of religion, education and politics.

We are talking about a special situation," Mangels said. "This is not just a question of religion. It's all about cultural traditions going back more than a thousand years, and the crucifix is one of our most cherished historical symbols.

Vanity UnFair?

By HOWARD KURTZ

WASHINGTON (Washington Post) - As editor of the Wall Street Journal's editorial page, Robert Bartley is accustomed to squeals of outrage from those who bave been stuck by his razor-sharp quill.

Now the tables have been turned. Bartley used his column last week to slash at Vanity Fair magazine --- whose target, not so coincidentally, was two of his bosses: Peter Kann, chairman of parent company Dow Jones. and his wife, Karen Ellion House, president of international operations.

Honse. Bartley, "is not only Pulitzer Prizewinning journalist but, even more impressive, a stellar business executive." He accused the "editors of radical chic magazines" of "attacking women to run down conservative men." What's fascinating here is that such media warfare is generally conducted behind the scenes or limited to tart letters to the editor.

But all bets were off after Robert Sam Anson's piece "In the Company of Sharks" portrayed Kann as a weak manager and House as an overly ambitious

Robert Walsh, Vaniry Fair's legal affairs editor, dismissed the Bartley column as "a disgrace" and "a press release" for Dow

Bartley auknowledged it was unusual for him to use the editorial page to go to bat for his Dow Jones colleagues. "I suppose that among our readers some will think that corporate loyalty was the only reason I wrote this," he said. "But I think the piece stands on its own merits, and that most readers will take it that way.

This is not to deny corporate loyalty and personal friendship played a role. A large number of people at the Journal shared my sense of injustice, and a number of people have sent messages saying they're glad I could express it because I have a license for opinion." Bartley says he told House that "I was going to defend her whether she wanted it or not."

Bartley began his column by assailing Vanity Fair for digging are armed only with words.

into the love life of New York Mayor Rudolph Giuliani, but soon got to the real issue. He noted that Richard Tofel, Dow Jones's communications director, had fired off a letter listing 21 alleged errors in the piece. Walsh insists the article was vigorously fact-checked." Vanity Foir agreed to correct three minor errors, along the lines of having called the Journol's former Washington bureau chief "Mark" Miller, not Norman "Mike" Miller.

One of the more acrimonious disputes involves Vanity Fair's suggestion, flatly denied by House, that as a State Department reporter she was sleeping with her sources. One supposed incident took place in 1977 while Zbigniew Brzezinski was staying at the late Pamela Harriman's home. Vanity Fair says Harriman saw House "creeping across her Georgetown garden" to a surreptitious ren-dezvous with Brzezinski (identified only as President Carter's senior foreign policy adviser). But Tofel says Brzezinski moved out of Harriman's home well before he met House, and that he continues to deny the incident. Vanity Fair says Brzezinski has made no public complaint about the article.

An e-mail correspondence between Tofel and Walsh grew increasingly impolite. "I've had quite enough of your condescending tone.... I look forward to not hearing from you again," Walsh

"I'm sorry that you find my doggedness about trying to get your magazine to print the truth tiresome," Tofel shot back.

Nor is there any love lost at higher levels. Disparaging the editor of Vanity Fair, Bartley told a reporter: "Graydon Carter's formula is built on the discovery that there's a market for viciousness."

"Vince Foster's family might well say the same about the Wall Street Journal's editorial page,' Carter replied, recalling the White House aide who committed suicide after being pummeled by Bartley's page. "In truth, there is probably not much of a market for viciousness, but there is one - for tough, uncompromising journalism." Good thing these guys

Share in the Legacy

and civilization. It represents the around the world, and provides a culmination of over 30 years of intensive work by scholars comprehensive picture of all aspects of Jewish life.

From the young person preparing for a Bar or Bat Mitzvah to a college student conducting research for a class presentation, to a scholar collecting data for a Ph.D. thesis to anyone just interested in learning about the Jewish world - The Encyclopaedia Judaica CD-ROM Edition makes the perfect gift for all members of the family and a standard item in any library collection.

System requirements: 496 PC, double ed CD, 256 coints, Windows 33ct Windows @ 95; 4 MB RAM, 13 MB HD

* 25,000 articles

* 100,000 hyperlinks

Category explorer

* Interactive timeline

2,200 contributing authors and 250 editors

* Pull text search

* Media gallery

the CD-ROM Edition

maps, charts, tables and Hebrew pronunciations

* Special media collections on topics such as Art in * Selected updates and feature articles prepared for

* Bibliography, See Also and Glossary features

* Word processing and annotation features

the Bible, US Jewry and the Holocaust

book Medepartment No Matter What You Think of the Peace Agreements OLEG IN OSLOLAND will make you laugh, or cry, or both...

Oleg strikes again... 112 new cartoons on the "peace process by Oleg Schwartzburg, one of today's most impudent and controversial cartoonists. This time - with Hebrew and Russian texts !!! Hot off the press - in a softcover souvenir album. JP Price NIS 30

To: Books, The Jerusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000

Please send me Cl Oleg in Osloland - NIS 30 per copy

Still available

Oleg in Peaceland - JP Price NIS 25

JP Special for both albums - NIS 49

Airmail overseas - please add NIS 12 per book

.t.c	Oleg in Pea	aceland - NIS 25 per copy
1282 2 @jpos	D Both album Postage in Israel: one of	ns - NIS 49 per set copy NIS 6, two or more NIS 10 _	_
02-624-1 624-1212 orders@	Enclosed check payable to T Please list gift recipient's na	Total NIS _ The Jerusalem Post, or credit card ame, address and message separate	det
: 5 ::	O Visa Diners	. C AmEx	•
phon fax: 0 e-mai	CC No	Exp.	_
	Address
	City	Code	_
	Phone (day)	ID No	_

DRIVE AREFULL ha

an wi St Bo

₽LEG €5 97

F. DAVID RADLER Chairman, Bourd of Directors NORMAN SPECTOR, President & Publisher

CARL SCHRAG, Managing Editor AMOTZ ASA-EL, Associate Editor, Business DAVID BRINN, News Editor ELIOT ZIMELMAN, Night Editor LEORA EREN FRUCHT. Features Edito JUDY MONTAGU, Op-Ed Editor

JEFF BARAK, Editor

AVI GOLAN, Executive Vice President, Marketing & Advertising PAUL STASZEWSKI, CPA, Vice President, Finance YOSŞI HORN, Vice President, Production MARRA MESSINGER, Circulation Manager BENZION MILLER, Tel Aviv Office Manager

Founded in 1932 by GERSHON AGRON

EDITORIAL OFFICES AND ADMINISTRATION The Jerusalem Post Building, P.O. Box 81, Romema, Jerusalem 91000 Telephone 02-531-5666, Fax 02-538-9527. CIRCULATION— 02-531-5610, Fax 02-538-9017, ADVERTISING - 02-531-5608, 02-531-5657-40 Fax 02-538-8408. TEL AVIV: 5 Rehov Hamasger, POB 28398 (61283) Telephone 03-6390333, Fax 6390277. Published daily except Saturday, in Jerusalem, Israel by The Palestine Post Ltd. Printed by The Jerusalem Post Press in Jerusalem. Registered at the G.P.O. © The Jerusalem Post 1997, Reproduction, or storage in a retrieval system, or in any other form, is prohibited without permission. Editors: 1932-1955 GERSHON AGRON, 1955-1974 TED LURIE, 1974-1975 LEA BEN-DOR, 1975-1989 ARI RATH and ERWIN FRENKEL, 1990-1992 N. DAVID GROSS, 1992-1996 DAVID BAR-ILLAN INTERNET EDITION: http://www.jpost.co.il General E-mail: jpedi@jpost.co.il Editorial E-mail:editors@jpost.co.il Subscriptions E-mail: subs@jpost.co.il

Inflammatory warning

government ministry has its own version: The generals warn of lack of readiness for the next war, the education minister warns of school's opening being postponed, and now the labor minister warns of rising unemployment.

Scare tactics are a time-bonored tool of ministries fighting for their slice of the pie in a time of budget cuts. Whether the problems are real or exaggerated, the solutions rarely are just a matter of increasing budgets.

In the case of the large budgets for defense and education, there is no doubting the high priority that must be attached to each, and that certain areas are underfunded. But if the needs are as dire as the ministers paint them to be, then one might expect an intensive effort to root out the inevitable waste that exists within a large ministry to assure funding for absolutely critical programs. Instead, the only solution presented is a bigger budget. Would it not be refreshing if ministers were to present before the cabinet the internal savings and cuts they were willing to make that would at least partially fund their pri-

In the case of the figures released this week by the Labor and Social Affairs Ministry, not only was the alarm sounded possibly exaggerated, but their effect may be detrimental to the very people whose plight is being highlighted. The ministry released figures showing a growing number of job seekers, up 1.1 percent in July to 145,000. What they did not point out is that "job seekers" is not the same as unemployed, and the number of unemployed has not risen signifi-

The figures for job seekers do not distinguish between a young person entering the labor force who approaches an employment agency and people who have been unemployed for a significant amount of time. When pressed, Labor Ministry officials agree that the expected unemployment level this year will be about 7.5 percent. This is up from the low of 6.5 percent reached in the second quarter of 1996, but lower than most industrialized economies in Europe.

According to figures published in The Economist. France, Germany, Spain, Belgium, Denmark and Sweden all have higher unemployment rates than Israel. This is particularly remarkable given the fact that Israel has absorbed about 750,000 immigrants from the cate, however, that Labor and Social Affairs prioritize in an era of tight budgets.

The news is the sky is falling, but each Minister Eli Yishai's warning of a "social explosion was unnecessarily inflammatory.

Predictably, Manufacturers Association chairman Dan Propper took the opportunity to call for Bank of Israel Governor Jacob Frenkel to resign, as if bis responsible monetary policy had caused massive unemployment. In fact, the attempt of budget-bungry ministers and creditbungry induatrialists to saddle Frenkel with the blame for unemployment bas no economic basis. The Hobson's choice that is commonly presented between high inflation and bigh unemployment is a false one.

Of the six industrialized economies that have dramatically brought down inflation in recent times, half saw unemployment rise, while the other balf kept unemployment under control. According to most economists, inflation and unemployment must be fought separately inflation by keeping a tight rein on the money supply, and unemployment by maximizing the flexibility within the job market.

In Spain, France, and Germany a combination of high barriers to firing workers (which made companies reluctant to hire), high unemployment insurance, and high minimum wages reduced the flexibility of the labor market, leading to high unemployment. In the United States, Great Britain, and Holland, more flexible policies allowed those countries to reduce inflation and fight unemployment at the same time.

Economists rate Israel as somewhere in between the two groups of countries in terms of labor market flexibility. If Yisbai and others were serious about fighting unemployment, they would be clamoring to do what has worked in other countries. As Yishai correctly points out, the main problem is not in the cities, but the peripbery. But the way to address the higher unemployment in the Negev and Galilee is not by pumping in more government projects, but by improving transportation access, education and training, increasing competition in the economy, and increasing the flexibility of the job market.

In Jewish tradition, the highest form of charity is not giving money, but helping someone find a job. Behind every percentage point of dry statistics are thousands of people whose lives are on hold, and who are desperate to begin building their future.

Those who sound the alarm in their name bear former Soviet Union since 1989. This is not to a responsibility to advance solutions that are not say that there is no unemployment problem, or just politically self-serving exercises in bureauthat the current level is acceptable. It does indi-

Of peace and partners

given by Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu at the National Defense College last week, I told myself that George Orwell would have been proud of the arguments he made against the Oslo peace process. Only where war is peace and peace is war could it be said that our agreement with the Palestinians has led to an escalation of violence and created cities of refuge for terrorists in the

The Oslo accords achieved a twofold purpose: they minimized the danger of a surprise offensive against Israel; and they removed the PLO from the list of terrorist organizations attacking Israel. The agreement between Israel and the Palestinians paved the way to the peace treaty with Jordan and led to the budding ties with the Persian Gulf and North Africa. Our strategic position in the region has changed radically since Operation Desert Storm, when we were not even allowed to join the allies fighting Iraq.

Anyone nostalgic for the pre-Oslo days should remember that most of our victims are IDF soldiers killed in battle, some 19,000 casualties; if we do succeed in avoiding the danger of another war, we bave averted future casualties on this scale. Neither is the prime minister painting an accurate picture when be calls the PA-controlled ciries a refuge for terrorists.

During the years of the intifada we were habitually treated to the spectacle of organized marches by masked demonstrators in the West Bank in which arms-bearing teenagers set fire to the Israeli flag and shouted abuse at photographers. The IDF was nowhere to be seen; just before Oslo we no longer bad any real control in many villages in the territories.

YOSSI BEILIN

THE OSLO process gave us a partner. For the first time in many years we can coordinate our

Netanyahu risks going down in history as the leader who extinguished the light at the end of the tunnel actions with the Palestinians, conduct investigations and joint patrols with them, as well as level accusations and receive answers. If our ally enjoys a secure status, the solutions it proposes will be effective; weakening our partner will cut off his oxygen and we will lose him, along with the chance of Israel has witnessed all too many acts of vile terrorism, with a great number of casualties: the bus at Avivim in 1970, the Munich massacre and the attack on Lod airport in 1972. We will never forget the slaughter in Ma'alot in 1974, the Savoy Hotel in Tel Aviv in 1975, the coastal-road bus attack in 1978 and bus 405 in 1989, the intifada victims and the Argentina bombings; many more were killed and wounded in knifings in our cities.

Anyone who starts counting The writer is a Labor MK.

the acts of violence since the Oslo process began should know the facts: in the long stretch between 1956 and 1967, 12 soldiers but Netanyahu would surely not propose a return to pre-'67

The new situation created by the Six Day War led to an escalation of Palestinian violence in Israel and the rest of the world as the cycle of war continued unabated: we were forced to muster for battle every seven or eight years.

paying a terrible price. The change came about after Camp David and Menachem Begin's successful peace agreement with Egypt, and was fol-lowed by the Madrid Conference during Yitzhak Shamir's premiership and the Oslo accords and peace agreement with Jordan under Yitzhak Rabin's leader-

It is a heavy responsibility that Netanyahu bears. Public memory is notoriously short; he can present peace as a security risk, lay the blame on the other side and lead us into a situation in which Hamas terrorists will be joined by others and the threat of war looms ever greater.

He might, however, make courageous decisions and lead Israel out of the vicious cycle and international isolation. He might conceivably admit that our partner, admittedly no saint, is better than none.

Some people might believe Netanyahu's words that peace encourages violence, but he risks going down in history as the leader who extinguished the light at the end of the tunnel. It is his decision to make.

Too much

going to be the test of the modern world and that in this new opportunity to see beyond the range of our vision we shall discover either a new and unbearable dissurbonce of the general peace or o saving radiance in the sky. We shall stand or full by television, of that I om quite sure.
- E.B. White, 1938

framed almost 20 years ago, and it hangs on my office wall to this day. To me, it stands as an eloquent reminder of the awesome power of the medium.

focused on a new program-raiings system and the V-chip technology that will be the tool used to help enforce it. Both are now on the books, one as law and the other in the form of a deal struck between US broadcasters and a group representing parent organizations, doctors and edu-

The questions raised are familiar: Are the new rules needed? Are they fair? Does this constitute censorship? Have First Amendment rights been violated? And what would White have thought about this particular debate if he were still alive?

My guess is that he would have joined the growing chorus of parenis, educators, doctors, government leaders and others who argue that television's influence on society has exceeded all reasonable limits: that its influence on our mores may exceed that of

In the 50 years since it was introduced. It transforms everything it touches - politics, the judicial system and the presiden-

Television has fed into the distortion of our values and standards and shaped the minds of two generations of children, with much evidence that the shaping society's mental and physical health. It now swallows up more than one-quarter of the

At the very least, it has desensitized children and adults to the true effects of violent behavior. And there is new evidence that heavy viewership can lead to a decline in physical fitness, leading to growing rates of obesity among young and old

Some steps have been taken with the new ratings system and the V-chip - and they clearly are within the boundaries of First Amendment parameters - to bring some common-sense controls to bear. But there is more to be done. Next, we must develop ways and means - through public persuasion, not further legislation, if possible - to convince the American people to watch less television. Less exposure will translate to less harmful effects and more time spent with families and children, more time for community and public issues and cul-

that the anti-smoking and environmental campaigns began in earnest. At the time, many of us scoffed at these initiatives. But today our lungs, the air we breathe and the water we drink all have been dramatically improved. If we got those things done, we can - with the same kind of will - cut into our TV viewing habits. 1 think E.B. White's reaction would be: Amen.

The writer recently retired after o 43-year career in American tele-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR I CONTEMPT FOR WOMEN

Sir. - If anything proves Orthodox contempt for women, it is the plan of Transport Minister Yitzhak Levy to relegate them to the back seats of buses. As a former rabbi in Alabama, 1 remember with revulsion the racial laws which forced blacks to take the back benches. If the Orthodox were serious about their often-invoked regard for women, they would obligate the men to sit in the back. PROFESSOR N. PETER

LEVINSON Rabbi Emer. of Hamburg

Jerusalem.

NEW RELIGION? Sir, - Are we witnessing the birth of a new religion? Around 2,000 years ago, the disciples of a Galilean rabbi believed that their dead leader was the messiah, and that although he had died, he was still with them every day till the end of the world (Matthew 28:20). Eventually the belief in Jesus as the messiah evolved into a new separate religion.

Matthew's words are now echoed by Rabbi Yehuda Leib Groner, the long-time secretary to the late Lubavitcher Rebbe, Rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson. when he says "the rebbe is with us now. He is looking at each and every one of us."

Will the Lubavilchers' belief in Schneerson as the messiah also eventually evolve into a new separate religion? DAVID MANDEL Savyon.

SECULAR VIEW

Sir, - A blanket coverage of the Jewish religion as an abomination invites a similar, highly selective condemnation of secular Israeli culture. But it would be difficult to lower oneself to the viciously vituperarive level expressed in Israel

Shahak's letter of July 14. This letter is not just a one-off example of a member of the ultrasecular minority venting his spleen. Shahak appears to devote a considerable part of his time to the subject. He has in fact written an entire book, The Jewish Religion and Jewish History, in which his hatred of Judaism is clearly appar-

In case anyone thinks I am religious, I am not. But like the majority of the secular population, whom Israel Shahak falsely claims to represent, I am not averse to acknowledging the good as well as the bad in the Jewish religion. GORDON SHIFMAN

Kiryat Ono. -

KOSHER RECIPES

Sir, - 1 was distressed to read Daniel Rogov's July 10 column ("Linchis and other summer fruits"), and find three paragraphs about shrimps and pork. Give us a break - please! If we can't induce you to stop giving us non-kosher recipes, at least don't hide them in a column whose fitle seems per-

feculy kosher! FRIEDA E. ROSEMAN

Jerusalem

ADVICE TO THE KING

Sir, - I am glad King Hussein decided not to visit Israel and Prime Minister Netanyahu at this time, even though it was just another blatant attempt at manipulation. He has more important things to do. Now that he has some spare time on his hands due to his canceled visit, the king might be well try and sell the "peace process" to his own kinsmen. He could try and convince Abu Marzook, the master terrorist who has found refuge in Jordan, that he might to well to give "peace a chance." After he's finished with him, he might find it worthwhile to visit with those wbo demonstrated in support of the murderer of the seven Israeli schoolgirls and explain to them that their unwavering support of the murderer is not in the spirit of peace. After that, he might do well to enter the refugee camps of Jordan in which thousands of refugees have been festering since 1948. He could try and explain to them the reasons wby they weren't allowed to integrate into Jordanian society. He could explain to them that now that peace is on the horizon, the cra of their manipulation is over. He can assure them that Yasser Arafat only has their best interest in mind and not to pay attention to all the rumors of correption within the PA.

My advice to the king is to sell the almost defunct peace process to his own people first. Then he should come to us.

JUDY LEV

Ra'алапа_

FROM OUR ARCHIVES

60 years ago: On August 19. 1937. The Palestine Post reported that in Zurich Dr. Chaim Weizmann and Lord Melchen opened the Fifth Session of the Jewish Agency Council. They called for two minutes' silence in tribute to the memory of the Jewish victims of the 1936 disturbances in Palestine. While Weizmann advised that the Zionist Executive must enter into British Government to demand the establishment of a Jewish state, the American non-Zionist group, lcd by Dr. Felix Warburg, opposed his ideas and were against empowering the Zionist Executive to ascertain and seek improvements in the proposals for Partition.

50 years ogo. On August 19, 1947, The Palestine Post reported immediate negotiation with the that Exodus 1947 "illegal" immigrants to Palestine held at Port de Bouc aboard the three British "floating cages" held a one-day hunger strike to protest their continued detention.

The British censor controlling ships' deliveries burned all books printed in Yiddish or Hebrew including some Bibles, since he had no Hebrew or Yiddish-speaking Briton at his disposal to check the books' contents.

Alexander Zvielli

It's time for the truth

The pictures taken last Wednesday of the empty graves of several Yemenite infants, who had allegedly died in the early 1950s are a stark reminder: there are still some dark comers in the early history of the state on which light must

It is not just for the sake of the infants' parents that the full truth must finally be uncovered though they are the first who deserve to know the truth. One of the bases of a healthy democratic society is the ability to contend with the truth, even if it is a bitter and unpleasant one. Thus, just as it was important for us to finally admit that, during the War of Independence, inhabitants of certain Arab towns and villages were evicted from their homes and banished by our forces, so we should come to terms with the fact that apparently not all the Yemenite and other new-immigrant infants reported to bave died in the early 1950s, did in fact

The Yemenite children affair relates to about 650 immigrant infants who allegedly disappeared hetween the years 1949 and 1954. According to official reports, these children suffered from various diseases and malnutrition, and were taken from transit camps for treatment in hospitals, where they died. However - so it was claimed since their parents could not be located due to the prevalent bureaucraric confusion and the ignorance of the parents, and since in many cases their names were unknown, they were buried anonymously. In the late 1950s people started wondering aloud whether all the children had actually died. These acts around the disappearance of The writer is a political scientist.

SUSAN HATTIS ROLEF

doubts were based on the fact that records existed of children who bad recovered in hospital and were then banded over for adoption, since their parents could not be located. The issue became public in 1966, when parents who had been informed that their children had died, started receiving mobilization orders for them from the IDF. A private investigation was opened by some of the parents, and in 1967 an administrative examination committee - the Bahalul-Minkovsky Committee was officially appointed to invesrigate the issue. This committee examined the cases of 342 missing children, including 307 Yemenites. The committee managed to find records concerning 320 of them, of whom it was determined with certainty that 316 had died. The fate of 22 remained a mystery.

Why are the graves of the Yemenite children empty?

A second administrative committee - the Shalgi Committee was appointed by then-prime minister Shamir in 1988 to conrinue the investigation. This committee, which reported its findings in 1994, examined the cases of 609 children (including the 342 examined by the previous com-mittee), 90 of whom it was unable to trace. It concluded that these children, or of illegal adoptions, though it did find that the authorities had frequently acted condescendingly toward immigrants from Moslem countries.

Neither the parents nor other representatives of the Yemenite community (including the current Internal Security Minister Avigdor Kahalani) were satisfied with the findings of this committee, and in January 1995 a National Commission of Inquiry, headed by retired Supreme Court Justice Yebuda Cohen, was appointed to deal with the issue.

ONE OF the problems surrounding the inquiry has been that various extremist individuals and groups - such as Rabbi Uzi Meshulam, who is currently doing time, together with some of his followers, after being convicted on criminal charges - have tried to make political hay of the affair. Meshulam bas claimed that no fewer than 4,500 children disappeared. He accuses what he calls the "Ashke-Nazi" establishment of selling many of the children for large sums of money to Jews abroad, and of carrying out medical experiments on others. Another problem is that some children are reluctant to talk some out of shame, others because they maintain the same condescending attitude they held some 40 years ago. But despite the difficulties, the Cohen Commission must at long of the people who treated the sick

last uncover the truth. The fact that marked graves have been found to be empty is not something that can simply be abrugged off as "bureaucratic confusion."

AL VECCHIONE "I believe that television is had that not-so-tamous quote

The most recent wrangling has our religious institutions.

cy, to name a few.

has been largely negative.

Television has become a challenge to our waking day of adults and children

Each year, while its influence has increased, our control over television has diminished. We have been mostly unsuccessful, if not helpless, in our efforts to channel television for the greater good, although there have been many who have tried through the years. Those efforts deserve our praise indeed our gratitude - but the truth is, the impact has been minimal.

Trash continues to dominate. The television industry has defended itself by pleading its rights in a free-market economy, and its free-speech prerogative as guaranteed by the First Amendment. The courts largely bave agreed, as does public tural interests.

It was only 25 five years ago

© The Los Angeles Times

Baby boom town

By ANDREW SELSKY

from a school fronting the village plaza comes the bubbling sound of children's voices. Across the way, some men are drinking beer at the Carretas Bar. Nearby, two women leave church after Penolite (pronounced peh-nyo-LEE-teh), with its whitewashed houses clinging to a hillside studded with olive groves seems, on the surface, like many othervillages in Spain. But its size is an illusion.

Like a Hollywood set, many of the houses are empty. In the span of a generation, its population has plunged from 1,100 to 320 as residents moved to the cities for jobs. mirroring Spain's transformation in the last half-century from a primarily rural society to an urban one.

Now, Penolite's mayor has come forward with a bold plan to save the village from withering to extioction: Give 200,000-peseta (NIS 4,200) rewards to cooples who have babies, and sell land at cul-rate prices to

"It's a question of survival," said Mayor Juan Maria Rodriguez, whose family has lived in Penolite for generations.

Since the offers were made in January, a dozen people have moved into town and six village women have become pregnant. Although most deoy that the cash incentive induced them to become pregnant, Rodriguez believes the money is prompting couples who were thinking about having a baby to go ahead and do so. But skeptics say that Rodriguez's strategy, like perhaps Penolite itself, is doomed.

"There are no jobs here," said Petra Guirado, a mother of four grown children, as she walked alone on one of Penolite's narrow streets. "My kids would never have left if they could have found good jobs here. What are the newcomers going to do?"

HEADS 'N' TAILS

Penolite is dependent on the heavily subsidized olive oil industry for jobs. And the subsidies, provided by the European Union, may soon be cot. Unless you're the only bartender, storekeeper, teacher or doctor in town, there's little employment outside of harvesting olives and pressing them for oil. The work lasts only four months, providing enough for a family to get by, but little else for the more ambitious.

Bot Rodriguez's efforts are not only bringing new people into the village, they're bring-

Antonio Martinez, 35, was unhappy with his job as a window fitter and with living in a crime-ridden neighborhood in the city of Algeciras when he heard on TV that Penolite was seeking newcomers. "I got out a map, found where Penolite is, and took a gamble and came here," said Martinez. He brought his wife, his three children, his father, his sister, her husband and their two kids. While the children attend Penolite's one-room elementary school, the men are trying to make a go of it by growing organic tomatoes and raising chickens and goats for sale.

The regional government is loaning the land io exchange for a share of the earnings. Meanwhile, the newcomers are living in a crantped rented house. If things go well, they'd like to build their own homes and Local residents have quickly accepted them as their own. "They are hard workers. We need more people like them here," said Juan Maria Bustamante, owner of the Carretas Bar.

As falls and a full moon hangs above a ridgeline outside town, Bustamante walks outside his bar and stands on the plaza. The clank of goat bells drifts up from a valley

Bustamante moved to Penolite seven years ago with his wife, a native of the village, leaving his joh as a waiter oo the resort island of Ibiza after growing tired of the fast pace and high cost of living. "It's tranquil here," Bustamante said. "In the morning, the soog of birds wakes you up.

They are our alarm clock. It's beautiful." But Bustamante worries that Penolite's days are numbered unless the population decline is reversed. Five years ago, the village had three bars and three stores. Now there is only one of each. Residents go to a larger town three miles (five kilometers away for most goods and services.

"I hope these newcomers stay and that more arrive," Bustamanie said. "If they don't, the rest of us may be out of here before long."

Te's hig. He's purple. And he's headed this way. Anyone with small children will certainly know when he arrives. After all, it's pretty difficult to ignore a dinosaur. And no dinosaur, liviog or extinct, is more

un-ignorable than Barney, the king of the preschool set in the US. Barney is the star of a top-rated television show and best-selling videos, and the model for one of the most popular stuffed animals. And so it was inevitable. Barney is a successful product, and where there is any successful product in America - hamburgers, pizza, frozen yogurt, doughnuts - you can pretty much guarantee that somewhere there also is a determined Israeli entrepreneur willing to fight to bring the product on home to the Middle East.

But Barney is on Big Mac. It is hard to exaggerate the impact that I immediately foresaw in my life

ing kind of way. The first time I heard it in the US, I felt compelled to do a rewrite: "I hate you, you hate me, we're a dysfunctional family. With a put-down, frown and a kick from me to you, won't you admit you resent me, too." But that was back in the days before I had a kid of my own.

I must say, as much as I once identified with the Barney-despising crowd, I have a strangely positive feeling about his potential impact on Israeli childhood culture. In the US, Barney's popularity taught parents a lesson: much as grown-ups might like the sophisticated humor of Disney and Sesame Street, their small children are drawn to entertainment that represents a real childhood, a place that is completely safe, warm, simple, innocent and,

ves. slow-paced and sticky-sweet. I don't think that this lesson will do a lot of harm around here. The

Much as grown-ups might like the sophisticated humor of Disney and 'Sesame Street,' their small children are. drawn to entertainment that represents a real childhood, a place that is completely safe, warm, simple, innocent and, yes, slow-paced and sticky-sweet.

Counting your chickens

By D'YORA BEN SHAUL

teenage boy in our neighborhood keeps pet chick-Lens. They are the small bantam type known here as "baladi" chickens. The small hens, and especially the cocks, are very beautiful, with brightly colored feathers. In addition to having lovely chicken pets, our neighbor has a steady supply of fresh eggs for the family table. That is, if he can find them. Bantams are the world's experts at hiding their oests in the most unlikely places.

Keeping pet chickens is an interesting hobby and oot much of a bother at all. They readily learn to come home at feeding time and can be enclosed in a pen. That is, of course, if you live in a place where you can allow them to range free. In my neighborhood no one seems to mind, but some people object to having them come into their gardens.

The second problem is noise.

Cocks crowing at dawn - and, in fact, most of the night - can be a real ousiance. You can, of course, keep only hens, in which case there is oo ooise at all, but then you will oot have the beaoty of the cock and you won't have any baby chicks, although the number of eggs laid will be the same.

One needs to be sure to keep the chickens free of parasites. Check them regularly for mites, and be sure they are vaccinated against the multitude of diseases that chickens are vulnerable to. This is especially important in Israel. where we have such a large number of poultry runs. Ask your veterinarian or any professional poultry keeper what needs to be done. As for feeding, in addition to a good commercial chicken feed, chickens can eat a variety of table scraps and greens from the garden. They especially relish young nettles, wild portulaca and the like and, if allowed to range, they will supplement their diet with a variety of foods from beetles to seeds. If chickens are kept penned up, they need a clean coop because dirty surroundings not only take all the pleasure out of keeping them but also breed diseases, Nesting boxes should be cleaned and left in the suo for a few hours on a regular basis, straw or bedding changed, roosts scraped and cleaned, and floors mucked out. It doesn't take much time, and the reward is a pleasant place to watch one's pets.

In most areas where one might keep chickens, there will also he wild mongooses, and this is a danger, especially to chicks. The adult chickens usually fly up to a high object - even into a tree - at the sight of a mongoose, but the chicks are extremely vulnerable and should be kept penned up until fully fledged. Contrary to popular helief, the moogoose does not break into chicken coops. It simply takes advantage of any place when I learned last week that Barney is making aliya. If the plans go as scheduled (Israeli Barney is to debut in November), Barney marketing fever should hit its pitch just as my child hits prime Barney age.

When I told friends and relatives in the US the news, those who are fellow parents of small children advised me to surrender immediately. Don't even bother trying to resist the influence of this big. purple, puffy, ever-smiling, constantly upbeat creature, they said. He has a magnetic pull to the under-six set that none of us jaded adults can understand. Children are simply entranced by him.

My best frieod in New York has a young daughter who curreotly says only three words: "Mama," "Papa" and "Bom-Bom." "Bom-Bom" is Barney, a creature as repellent to many adults as he is attractive to toddlers. The cultural backlash against him has gotten pretty nasty - for proof, turn to the multiple sites on the Internet against poor old Barney (for example, 38 Ways to Kill Barney at http://personal.nhnet.nh.ca/iter-hune/short.html). I must admit, for a while I had a certain amount of sympathy for and identification with the reactions of the Barney-haters. Take the saccharine Barney theme song: "I love you, you love me, we're a happy family. With a great hig hug and a kiss from me to you, won't you say you love me, too?" It's sweet, but in a stomach-turn-local children's video market has descended recently into choruses of sexy, svelte, bare-midriffed twenty-something stars of the Children's Channel, maniacally swinging their hips while dancing the "Macarena." By contrast, the local Barney production people are purposely not using children from Tel Aviv, preferring to spotlight kids from a more typical town -Ashkelon, And, as in the US, they are making sure to use not only ethnically mixed kids, but also ones that look like actual children - tall, short, chubby, scrawny decidedly not perfect shiny showhiz veterans. That's a good thing.

And in a hurly-burly Middle East that thrives on relentless conflict, toughness and cynicism, which our kids are exposed to at younger and younger ages, I think it's actually going to be rather revolutionary to have a dinosaur sing of eodless love, tolerance, cooperation and sweetness.

Maybe the ultra-loving, everning, on-so-politically-correct dinosaur can do some real good around here. I'm actually looking forward to his arrival.

But that's how I feel right now. You'll have to check back with me in six months when the hig purple lug has invaded my house. You may find me on the Internet, hanging out on Dave's Anti-Barney Page -Dedicated to the Destruction of Purple Dinosaurs Everywhere, or commiserating with the members of the Usenet group cotitled alt.barney.dinosaurs.die.die.die

In these times you cannot AFFORD to be without THE JERUSALEM POST

vision ha

ecome

enge to:

s mental.

al health

waitowsa

acht ou

arter of

day of ac

children

DEAR RUTHIE

Nasty new boss makes life a misery

By RUTHIE BLUM

ear Ruthie, I work in an office that is made up mostly of men. Our new boss is o woman, ond she's making my life miseroble. This is ironic, because I had been unhappy about not hoving other females around. I should olso be happy according to many of my colleagues, who have been teasing me - because the first thing she did was to order o renovation of the lodies' room (which was, indeed, in bad shape).

I never got along with the man she replaced. When he announced his therapy to figure out if I should retirement. I couldn't have been happier. But now I miss him terribly. She has become the bane of my existence. She is constantly critical of my work, and silent when pleased with it. Because of this. my performance has dropped tremendously, and professionally,

I'm in an awful slump. The work I do reflects on her department. She should want nothing better than for me to succeed. I am afraid to talk to her, because every time I open my mouth in her presence, I put my foot in it. This problem is affecting every area of my life. I am tense at home with my husband and my kids. You are my last resort before I go into quit this job altogether. Frustrated Female Employee Somewhere in Israel Dear Frustrated Employee,

To be sure, finding another place of employment is one option. But doing so would oot guarantee you would avoid a similar situation elsewhere. Far better for you in the long run – even if you eventually leave this job – would be to learn how to turn this situation to your advantage.

The fact that you make a point have are being projected (albeit unconsciously) in her directioo. She may be responding to your vibes just as much as she is giving off some of her own.

And just as you oeed a period in which to adjust to having a oew boss, so does your boss need to adjust. Though her treatment of you may be simply bitchy behavior, there might be another explanation. Perhaps this woman is terrified of failing at her job. Perhaps the only way she can feel secure and "boss-like" is by putting others down. And, if putting others down is on the cards, then being a woman would make you the easi-

Analyzing your employer's unkind manner may help you deal with her better. Rather than donning your armor before approaching her next - which, until now, has led only to your "putting your foot in your mouth" - try viewing her as a sister. with a foot or two of her own at mouth level these days. You could start by complimenting her on having renovated the ladies' room.

Letters should be addressed to: 'Dear Ruthie,' POB 81, 91000 Jerusalem. For E-mail: editors@jpost.co.il book -

Golan Heights by Aviva Bar-Am and Yisrael Shalem

Guide to the

Renowned travel writer Aviva Bar-Am has teamed up with guide Yisrael Shalem for this upto-date, full color guide to the Golan and its environs. Incorporates a unique English-Hebrew dictionary of the Golan's flora and fauna, local legends, and vital information about sites. Softcover, 152 pp.

Books, The Jerusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000 Please send me copies of: GUIDE TO THE GOLAN HEIGHTS at NIS 45 each Postage in Israel: one copy NIS 6, two or more NIS 10 Enclosed check payable to The Jerusalem Post, or credit card details. Please list gift recipient's name, address and message separately.

WALTER FRANKL department [ ISRAEL GARDENING gardening experience and thousands of questions raised by readers of his column in The Post, Gardener's ENCYCLOPEDIA Corner, in this year-round book devoted entirely to gardening in Israel. Chapters are arranged month-bymonth and cover all gardening possibilities as well as special subjects including roses, herbs, vegetables, balcony and roof gardens, helpful tips, illustrations and more. Hardcover 252 pp. JP Price: NIS 75 Books, The Jerusalem Post, POB 81, Jerusalem 91000 Please send me _____ copies of: ISRAEL GARDENING ENCYCLOPEDIA at NIS 75 each Postage in Israel: one copy NIS 6, two or more NIS 10 _ Enclosed check payable to The Jerusalem Post, or credit card details. Please list gift recipient's name, address and message separately.

322.95

$ per barrel of brent crude

DOLLAR / DEUTSCHEMARK

DOW JONES INDUST. AVG.

August 1996 - August 1997

Subscribe now GLOBES

Israel's Financial Daily 03-697-9254

Treasury: Economic forecasts over-optimistic

The new figures on the state of the economy prove that the forecasts we presented to the government for the next two years were over-optimistic," Tzipi Gal-Yam, head of the Treasury's economic research and state reveoue administratioo. said yesterday.

"[The forecasts] may prove dif-ficult to meet due to the market's performances in the first balf of 1997." she said.

On Sunday, the Central Bureau of Statistics reported a 1.8 perceot increase in the GDP and a product in the first half of the year. According to a Ministry of Finance forecast, the growth rate of the economy this year should reach 2.5%.

BUSINESS&FINANCE

Gal-Yam also said the budget deficit must be reduced to 2.4% next year through a NIS 2.3b. budget cut. Gal-Yam opposes increasing taxes, saying that such a move would aggravate the eco-nomic slowdown and exacerbate unemployment.

"Raising taxes this year should not even be thought of," she said. "Market demand and an increase in private consumptioo would have allowed for a tax rates are too high," he said. hike during the past two years. but now the economy is in a slowdown, and any increase in the tax burden should therefore be avoided at all costs."

Meanwhile, Finance Ministry director-geoeral Shmuel Slavin said unemployment will continue to rise until the middle of 1998. If the government implements the Treasury's plans and the Bank of Israel does not raise interest rates, theo unemployment will decline after mid-year, he said.

"Without going into numbers. which is the job of the Bank of Israel, I can ooly say that interest

Slavin said unemployment will hit 8.2% by mid-1998, in comparison to 7.5% today.
"Employment is the govern-meot's top priority, and we are dealing with it. I hope that the government's proposal will be implemented, since it is capable of answering the difficulties of ucemployment." said Slavin. adding that the inflation target of 1997 should not be reduced from 7%-10%, since stricter targets would result in higher interest rates and shekel appreciation. which could cause higher unemployment.

Tadiran denies blocking Sharp local venture

Tuesday,

August 19, 1997

By JENNIFER FRIEDLIN

Tadiran Appliances yesterday denied allegations that it exerted pressure on the Ministry of Industry and Trade not to grant Sharp Corp. a permit to build an air-conditioning manufacturing plant in Kiryat Shmona

"I don't know of any pressure that we put on the Ministry of Industry and Trade," said Yehoshua Tidhar, deputy managing-director of local marketing for Tadiran Appliances. We are constantly in touch with the ministry, but we didn't put any pressure on them." A former Ministry of Industry and Trade official yesterday said that Tadiran, Electra Consumer Products Ltd. and Amcor Ltd. pressured the ministry not to allow Sharp Corp. to build a $10m. airconditioning manufacturing plant in Kiryat Shmona.

Last year, following Operation Grapes of Wrath last year, it was reported that Sharp intended to invest in building a manufacturing site in the development town.

The plant was expected to employ 40 people in the first stages of operation.

However, talks broke down due to pressure exerted by Israel's leading air-conditioning manufacturers, the former ministry official said.

"Tadiran, Electra and Amcor put pressure on the Ministry of Industry and Trade not to grant Sharp a permit and they listened," said the offi-

Representatives from Electra and Amoor could not be reached for comment.

Yossi Snir, who served as director-general of the Ministry of Industry and Trade under the previous administration, said that the companies did try to keep foreign competition from entering the local market, but added that such pressure is normal.

"All companies put pressure on us," said Snir. "But that isn't what caused Sharp not to come here."

political situation caused the Japanese concern to change its "If the political position was better, they would have built the Kiryat Shmona plant," Snir said. A Sharp representative could not be reached for comment. Moshe Dovrat, former director of the Investment Center, said that he did not remember the companies exerting any pressure on him not to okay the investment. Meanwhile, a senior executive from Sharp will visit Israel in September to explore possible joint ventures in the semiconductor, laser systems, communications technology, voice processing and communicacons infrastructure sectors. Based in Osaka, Sharp is one of the world's leading makers of office automation products and home electronics. The company also makes home appliances, including refrigerators, microwaves and airconditioning units.

nalists and executives who are gambling they are oot the only frequent fliers who hate schlepping comput-finances the $3,000 systems it installs, leaving just the wiring to the hotel. "We have research showing that people would be willing to spend $30-35 a day for such a package," Hemandez said.

Much to hoteliers' delight, I-Quest

Correction

September wages will include a 2.4 percent cost-of-living allowance. a reflection of the annual inflation rate which oow stands at 10.5%, the Treasury said. Jennifer Friedlin

12 MONTHS

Absorbing Wall Street's shock

A stock trader reacts in front of the indicator panel of the German stock index (DAX) yesterday. German share prices held up

Asian firm promises liberation from laptop

By JEFFREY PARKER

TAIPEI (Reuters) - For globe-trotting executives who thought it would free them to work almost anywhere, the laptop computer has turned out to be a mixed blessing.

These machines do fit on one's lap, but those who carry them soon find the word "portable" to be a rather unfunny joke. So now one Hong Kong-based company hopes to free the Asian "road warrior" from his laptop computer. Laptops are nearer in size to a college dictionary with the heft of a sizeable sack of potatoes. Slung from the shoulder as you buy tickets and queue for a plane, your productivity tool quickly and ofteo painfully makes its presence known. Nor have they necessarily made life easier in the many parts of the developing world where telecom-

israel electric

municación links are non-standard, cumbersome and costly - particularly in Asia.

Asia's savviest travelers carry home-made wiring rigs and often can be found burrowing beneath the hotel bed, stripping phone wires to hot-wire their moderns.

But even then, balky long-distance links to the home office or Internet easily can cost hundreds of dollars a חברת החשמל

laptop creates," one such road warnor, Elizabeth Hernandez, says. Hemandez is one of four partners of I-Quest Corp. who founded the Hong Kong startup with a goal of liberating travelling executives from

'Everyone hates to carry a laptop and all the problems that carrying 3

Their solution? To equip hotel rooms with feature-packed, Internetlinked computers running a palette of business, network and information software in a package they call

WorldRoom. WorldRoom allows hotel guests to connect to their email accounts, surf the World Wide Web, use the latest versions of the Corel, Lotus and Microsoft business software "suites" and tap the Reuters Business Briefing database. The system includes a laser or prowess, but by iong-suffering jourprintshops for rush jobs - all at a flat cost to the guest or hotel of $20

Just a year old on August 15. I-Quest has put WorldRoom in executive rooms at Manila's Peninsula and Shangri-La and Hong Kong's Hyatt Regency. Installations are planned for top hotels in Hong Kong, Taipei, Singapore, Shanghai and Seoul.

I-Quest president Anthony Blass, in an Internet interview, said the parents of both the Hyatt and Peninsula were in talks with I-Quest about establishing global WorldRoom franchises.

Capitalised at $30 oxillion and focused on Asia, I-Quest is aiming at 170,000 rooms at 2,500 Pacific Rim hotels, he said.

Notably. WorldRoom was designed not by hotshot cybergeeks dazzled by their own programming

The Israel Electric Corporation is Issuing inkjet printer, copy and fax functhe following international tender: Cost of tender If you don't have e-mail documents, Inc. VAT (non-returnable)

DESCRIPTION 621975 Single Core Extruded Cross-Linked Polyethylene Insulated Power cables for Rated Voltage 26/45 ky for Cross-Section 1x240 mm² First Stage - Request for technical proposal Preliminary condition: ISO 9002 Period of contract: The contract will be for a period of two years. Option as detailed in the tender.

Last date for submission of bids: September 21, 1997 at 11 a.m.

Additional Preconditions for Participation

Participation in a tender is also subject to complying with the preliminary conditions detailed in the Tender Regulations 1993, Para. 6 (a) 1, 2, 3 (i.e., registration as required by law, compliance with mandatory specifications, and the holding of the permits required by law for transactions by public bodies). if e bidder does not attach any particular document, permit or license or any other required material, as required by the preliminary conditions, the Electric Corporation may allow the bidder to submit the missing material within a period of time to be set by the Corporation.

Tender application forms can be obtained from the Market Résearch and Tenders Department, 11 Shderot Pai Yam, Haifa , Sunday to Thursday from 9.00 a.m. to 12 noon on presentation of e receipt for payment into the Israel Electric Corporation Account in any Postal Bank branch. (The payment will not be returned). Payment slips and additional information can be obtained at the above address or by telephoning 04-881-5454/5. Tender documents can be viewed at the offices of the Market Research and Tenders Department at the above address or at the Sales Unit, 90 Rehov Yigal Alon, Tel Aviv, Ashdar Building, Entrance 3, Floor 1, Tel. 03-565-4679 or 03-565-4641. Sunday to Thursday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Bids must be submitted in closed envelopes and placed in Tenders Box No. 1 in the Pai Yam Building in Haifa at the above address not later than the last date for submission as shown above.

No undertaking is given to accept the lowest or any bid.

NOTE. In appropriate cases, the Electric Corporation will give preference to suppliers, in accordance with the Tenders Regulations (Preference for Locally Produced Goods, and Obligation to Extend Commercial

The Electric Corporation retains the right to negotiete, where this is legally permissible.

DON'T BE LEFT OUT! or even a computer you can still advertise!

INTERNET POST CLASSIFIEDS Reach all of Israel and the world for just:

☐ For Two weeks $13 US Dollars/NIS 45 $25 US Dollars/NIS 88 One Month $45 US Dollars/NIS 158 □ Two Month

☐ Three Months S70 US Dollars/NIS 245 $130 US Dollars/NIS 456 ☐ Six Months Maximum 30 words

List category and sub-

Fax this form: in US & Canada, 212-599-4743 In israel & the rest of the world: 972-2-531-5622
Don't forget your contact address /phone /fax /e-mail in your n	105549

or place your ad directly on our web site at http://www.jpost.co.il

Credit Card No....

Currency (deposit for.)
U.S. doltar ($250,000)
Pound sterling (£100,000)
German mark (DM 200,000)
Swiss tranc (SF 200,000)
Yen (10 million yen)

3 MONTHS
4.750
3.875
0.625 4.000 1.626 0.750 (Rates vary higher or lower than indicated according to deposit) Shekel Foreign Exchange Rates* (18.8.97) CHECKS AND TRANSFERS Rates* 3.7668 Buy Currency basket U.S. doller German mark Pound sterling 3,8020 3,5533 1,9587 5,7225 0,5807 3,0208 1,7373 0,4642 0,6529 2,5621 2,6339 0,7597 0,9487 2,7804 2,7804 1,0061 3.43 5.53 0.56 2.98 2.49 0.49 0.63 2.54 0.91 2.68 1.88 4.89 3.6220 1.9365 5.6641 French franc Japanese yer (100) Dutch florin 0.5714 0.5747 2.9864 1.7194 2.3390 0.4422 0.4649 0.5084 0.6470 2.5393 2.6089 0.7527 0.9376 Swise frame Swise frame Swiselish krone Notweglar, krone Danish krone Finnish mark Cenadian dollar Australian dollar S. African rand 2.5214 2.5920 0.7478 0.9336 2.7362 1.9722 4.9286 0.9900 Beiglan franc (10) Austrian schilling (10) Italian line (1000) 2.7523 1.9800 4.9424 1.0918 1.0800 3.8416 5.2128 3.8036 Spenish peseta (100) 2.2767 *These rates vary according to bank. SOURCE: BANK LEUM!

Patah (foreign currency deposit rates) (11.9.96)

6 MONTHS

and packaging them for local distribution

Although the 500-employee enterprise -

70% of whom are members of Ma'agan

Michael - is in every way part of the kib-botz, the company's keen business sense has belped propel it onto the world stage.

Via wbolly owned subsidiaries in Germany,

France, Italy, the UK, Australia and Brazil,

as well as joint manufacturiog ventures in India and Italy, the company has succeeded in becoming an industry name in more than 50 countries, such as Thailand, where the

The future is in plastics

and export.

By JENNIFER FRIEDLIN

the 1967 hit film The Graduate, Beojamin, the anti-establishment protagonist stares disbelievingly when a conservative businessman tells him that the future is in plastics.

While the line was meant to serve as a metaphor for the increasing superficiality and materialism of American society, companies such as Plasson were already beginning to understand the face-value of the prophetic message.

Founded in 1964 to serve as an alternative source of income for Kibbutz Ma'agan Michael, Plasson bas grown from a small manufacturer of plastic wrappings and buckets to a world leader in specialized injection-modeled plastics, supplying pipe fittings, toilet tanks and plastic feeding sys-tems to companies around the world — and making the kibbutz rich to boot. Sales in 1996 totaled $86 million, one-third of all the reveoue generated by Israeli plastics companies, and growth has averaged 10 percent per year for the last several years.

of and and

of Primite

· stine to

A recognition

 $a^{r_{i,j,k}} \cdot \{q_{i,j,k}\}_{i \in \mathfrak{q}_{i}}$

Haras.

La spania

have allowed

terape g

 $as_{\rm antitod}$

· Main - We

to to her week,

n fig. atc.

the wheel h

Serve of pea

at the other on the state of the food he

in that nee

THE YEARS HE

er est storage

Car Strong

the or side and

 $\mathcal{P} = \operatorname{tr} (\mathcal{Q}_{\mathcal{P}})$

State &

 $k_{\Delta \pi}$

Same of

And the

1 1 1 1 1 1 Car

Mariana de la compansión de la compansió to distribute

Acres to 19

71.00 1741

1.18 60

A 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1

15

1.5.2

900000

ti Fugg p ... · 1; · «...

TOVER IN

Samuel S.

This is one of the most impressive operations in Israel, both in terms of its size and efficieocy," said Keith Phillips, Israel analyst at Societe Generale. "You're looking at a world-class company in its field with especially good marketing channels for an

Once Plasson began to realize plastic's potential, the company began to devise new ways to employ its technology. While steel, aluminum and other metals were commonly used to make products that held, stored or channeled water, Plasson realized that plastic, which does not rust or corrode and is more flexible, could be used as an alternative for a variety of items.

After its early success with wrappings and buckets, the company decided to try to manufacture plastic toilet cisterns. The experiment succeeded, and today Plasson holds about 60% of Israel's toilet-tank market. They also developed and patented the half flush option, which allows bouseholds to save up to 15% in water consumption.

Although the cisterns were a hit in Israel setting the standard in the bathroom fixtures market - Plasson does oot sell them abroad. The clumsy shape and fragility of the items means that each tank must be packed individually, making shipping prohibitively expensive. And since most countries have very particular standards, Plasson could not sell its toilet cisterns overseas.

In the 1970s, with the idea to export, Plasson again decided to expand its product line. From the kibbutz's experience, there was no efficient system for distributing clean water to chickens. Thirsty chickens would and packaging them for local distribution flap around the troughs, preventing others from getting their fill. Plasson's automatic drinkers for chickens and turkeys drip water into trays, making water distribution more efficient and sanitary. Today, Plasson has

لفكتنا من الاجل

30% of the US market for poultry drinkers. While the toilct cisterns and poultry drinkers gave Plasson its foundation, the company's third development propelled the business into the ranks of an international plastics heavyweight. About 20 years ago, Plasson began to manufacture pipe fittings. Today the company's 420 fittings and valves, word for pipe fitting is "Plasson." which comprise 70% of sales, are used in While, the company's sandal-clad execuirrigation systems, water and gas distribution tives readily admit that their products will and industry and mining operations. In all the areas where we operate. we brought oew developments," said Marketing and Advertising Director Yaval Kam. "Our philosophy was to always be at the cutting edge by thinking about what exists today and bow we can use plastic to make better goods."

> Plasson's Yuval Kam: 'Our philosophy is to always be on the cutting edge.' (Inset) Kibbutz members sort plastic fittings.

INSIDE A buge, bot factory, big tubs of imported polyethelene pellets are dropped into sealed vats. There, they are heated to the melting point. The liquid plastic is then funneled through the pipes which channel the goo into moldings located at various stations aloog an assembly line. Once inside the molds, the plastic cools and the automated machines spit out the pipe fittings, toilet tanks and chickeo feeders.

Dressed in the kibbutzim's trademark blue workshorts, company workers then x-never be cheaper than the competition's, they say that a customer who buys Plasson's products is more interested in quality than cost.

And, if mimicry is success's hest measure, theo their boast is oot unfounded. Counterfeiters in Italy, Cyprus and Gaza have pursued Plasson's market share in the pipe-fittings sector by developing lower quality fakes that look just like the originals. A 20-person factory in a town west of Gaza City manufactures Plassonesque pipe fittings, which are emblazoned with misleading names such as Plassok.

Israeli distributors buy the counterfeit goods and then sell them locally, said Larry Schwartz, one of Plasson's lawyer. "We've had to spend a significant amount of time and money in tracking down the fakes," he said.

DESPITE THE company's success, Plasson has not yet been able to sell shares to the public. Twice last year the company attempted an initial public offering on the London Stock Exchange (LSE), a bold move for an Israeli company manufacturing low-tech products. While several technology companies have succeeded in going public on London's Alternative Investment Market, an offering on the LSE would have represented a major coup.

We thought a company like ours, which has a strong sales history and a well-devel-oped infrastructure, would bave a good chance for a successful IPO," Kam said.

Societe Generale, the underwriters for the offering, agreed. While a kihbutz's unique structure needed to be explained to potential investors, the cutting-edge products, dedicated workforce and two-decade-plus track record made Plasson a prime IPO candidate for the LSE, said Societe Generale's Keith

"You just get the feeling when you walk in that this is a top company," he said.
In the summer of 1996, however,

Plasson's underwriters decided to postpooe the offering due to the political nocertainty that followed Bioyamin Netanyahu's prime mioisterial victory. Then last October, arguably due to the riots following the opening of a second exit for the Western Wall Tunnel, the market failed by a narrow margio to generate the minimal demand occded to meet LSE regulations, when several British, German, French and Italian companies withdrew their backing.

On both occassions the company hoped to raise £20m. by issuing 25% of its shares. thicking that such an issuance would briog the company eoough money to expand operations and boost its balance sheet, while allowing the kibbutz to retain managerial control.

Despite the past abortive attempts, Kam says the company is not discouraged. Plasson's management is once again considering a stock issuance, although questions regarding the where and when are still being discussed.

Several months ago, during a visit to Israel, Roger Hornett, executive director of Societe Generalc, said that the cootinuance of the peace process was much more certain, boosting foreign investors' confideoce in local companies and increasing Plasson's chances for a successful IPO either locally or abroad.

But, today, following the recent bombings and the stalled peace talks, Plasson's future steps have yet to be determined.

Pepsico Foods' local district manager Peter Robinson (left) flew into Israel for the launch of Doritos, the flavored corn chips produced under the authority of Pepsico Foods International by Elite Foods Limited. Robinson and Elite Foods' General Manager Ilan Admon (right) pampered photographers by feeding each other Doritos. Also on hand to sample the new product were National Infrastructure Minister Ariel Sharon and his wife Lily, who earlier in the day entertained Michael Strauss, Elitc's major shareholder, for lunch at their farm. Strauss said that Lily Sharon's cooking was so good ple at least one corn chip. Lawyer Hana Matzkevitz has been appointed legal counsel to Israel Broadcasting Authority, scoring points over a large number of her colleagues who applied for the position when the tender was issued. A graduate of the Hebrew University, Matzkevitz has been practicing law since 1971. For the past two years she has been legal adviser and secretary to Clal Computers and Technology Ltd., and prior to that she spent 13 years as legal adviser to Malam Systems. She replaces Amit Shechter, who resigned. after three years in office.

Shechter is taking up a teaching position in the communications department of Tel Aviv University. He has also joined the legal from of Your Levy and Partners, where he will special-that be could barely move. But he had to find the room to sam-

Prof. Eliatin Nissim, professor of Engineering at the Haifa. Technion, has been named presitient of the Open University. A NASA, Nissim has held various senior positions in Israel and abroad; among them consultant to Israel Aircraft Industries.

ize in communications law.

Ran Gottfried, managing director of April, the chain of discount stores for perfumes and cosmetics, has amounced his company's intention to put in a tender for the Duty Free franchise at Ben-Gurion Airport. The contract of current franchisee James Richardson expires in November, 1998, but the Airport Authority has an option to extend it for four years.

Oren Grossman, 28, has moved from the position of sales manager at Eldor Information Systems to that of sales manager of Techvision.

become the manager of Reliable.

the Canadians, Ruth Ben-Tzur is doing a turnaround and selling Canada to the Israelis. Air Canada has announced the appointment of Ben-Tzur as its first general manager for Israel. Ben-Tzur is returning home following a highly successful term as director of the Israel Government Tourist Office in Canada.

Air Canada has experienced spectacular growth on the Israel-Canada route since its debut in June 1995, said Douglas Port, Au Canada senior vice-president for Europe. The company is confident that Ben-Tzur will play a significant role in belping to increase its market presence.

::

10

ig re

:d

th

MK Naomi Bhumenthal, who heads the Knesset committee on Immigrant Absorption, has promised representatives of caregivers' organizations to impress upon Labor and Social Affairs Minister Eli Yishai the importance of increasing the minimum rate of pay for people employed as caregivers to the aged. Blumenthal said that it was important to prevent the system of home care from breaking down, both from the perspective of some 4,000 elderly people who are receiving care under the terms of the Home Care Law and 2,500 people - approxi-. mately half of them from the former Soviet Union - who work as as caregivers:

Yitzhak Biran has been appointed head of Pele Phone's. Castomer Service Division. Biran, who holds degrees in electronic engineering, engineering science and industrial engi-neering and management will be responsible for all of Pele-Phone's 14 branch offices.

Although things could change by next week when Prime; Minister Binyamin Netanyahu caves on an official visit to Japan, at this stage neither Dan Propper, president of the Israel Manufacturers Association, nor Yorum Belizovsky, IMA director-general, will be part of the business and trade delegation accompanying the PM. The reason? The trip was not included in the IMA's budget, and since the IMA is currently engaged in an efficiency and cost-savings campaign, it does not want to take on added expenditure. The trade delegation will be headed by Danny Gillerman, president of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce!

Shosh Oren has been appointed. as the active chairperson of the Shiluv Pension Fund, which was launched by the First. International Bank and Menora Razi Gaoni, general manager of Oren, 47, who for the past six-Hertz Israel, has quit in order to and a half years served as chairperson of the Secondary Teachers After five years of selling Israel to at the beginning of this week.

MOTORING

Improving on old reliable

Toyota is shedding its conservative image with a trendier yet still refined Corolla

By JOEL GORDIN

don't need to be lectured about the qualities of the Toyota Corolla, the largest-selling automobile of all time which was first launched way back in 1966. My 87-year-old mother who lives in Cape Town, South Africa, still drives the same Corolla she bought (second hand) in 1978. She's not a collector of vintage cars - she keeps it because it just goes and goes.

Nevertheless, during a recent visit to Japan, Toyota engineers did lecture me about the newest Corolla which went on sale here last month.

Toyota bad invited Israeli motoring journalists to their headquarters to drive the new Corolla and to "get to know the company." The men who built the latest Corolla describe it as "the most European car we have ever made." As I have discussed in past columns, traditional lines dividing Japanese, European and American cars have become blurred, therefore I would simply describe the. new Corolla as one of the youngest-looking, most sporty family-class automobiles ever designed by Toyota. The Japanese outfit was obviously reacting to Western criticism that though reliable. Toyotas are conservative at best, and boring at worst.

The new Corolla's trendy appearance is accentuated by the round lines of the front section. which boasts a pair of small, round headlamps and a grille riddled with small holes, like a Swiss cheese or honeycomb. The rear lines are straighter, resembling those of the smaller Mercedes models. But despite the fact that the designers have done a splendid job in their bid to make a more exciting exterior, the interior remains cold and unfriendly. The parts are made of the highest quality materials and are ergonomically placed to a fault, but the design simply does not shout "buy me."

The new design gives the optical illusion that the new Corolla ia smaller than the model it is replacing, yet it is slightly longer, wider and higher than the older model. The seating space offers adequate head and shoulder space, and it's easy to get in and out of the car. The trunk can be enlarged by folding the rear seat forward. There are useful storage pockets and boxes in the inside of tion through its light, stiff body. Not the doors and between the seats, even the most critical driving The radio is placed in the center

Consider the following passive-safety (protection for the driver and passengers after the crash) features: Although the new European Union regulations require cars to withstand frontal impacts at 56 km/h., the Corolla has been designed to withstand impacts at 60 km/h. Driver-side and passenger-side airbags are standard equipment on all models. There are three-point seat belts for all three rear passengers and the front seat-belt system has electric pre-tensioning and force-limiting functions.

The model that I tested was the top-of-the-line sedan version with automatic shift, which includes central door locking, power windows and a rev. counter.

The manual-shift version costs NIS 85,900. A version without some of the above electric toys starts at NIS 81,900 (manual shift) or NIS 85,900 (automatic). Station-wagon and "liftback" versions are also available in different levels of trim and with either manual or automatic shift.

The seats initially have a hard feel, but once you get used to them, they are extremely comfy. Eveo after longish trips. I climbed out of the Corolla feeling as if I'd just started my journey.

The new Corolla is not merely a face-lifted version of the old Corolla - there have been substantial improvements made to its insides. The most noticeable is the silent ride of the engine. Panels and flooring have been utilized to absorb vibrations and noise, and the cabin picks up a minimum of vibraenthusiast could fault the soft susabove the climate-cootroller pension and stable road holding tered in a car of this size. The model has also been equipped with a sensitive steering system which does wonders for what is known as "driving feel." The 4A-FE engine of the old Corolla has been refined so that it now generates 111 horsepower at 5,600 r.p.m. (compared to 106 at 6,000 r.p.m. in the old Corolla). The torque has also been slightly improved (from 14 to 15.1).

speeds. The thrifty fuel consumption is a welcome bonus - during a two-day test drive in Israel, I calculated it to be an average of around 13 km./l. - excellent figures for an automobile with automatic shift.

Local Toyota dealers, Union Motors, have kept the new Corolla's price competitive with its main rival, the Mitsubishi Carisma. There are a number of other Japanese 1,600cc TOYOTA COROLLA four-seater automobile ENGINE: 1,587cc HORSEPOWER: 111 at 5,600

Corolla. And

nobody beats

Toyota for reliability. If you don't hetieve me, ask

TORQUE: 15.1 at 4,200 r.p.m. GEARS: automatic ACCELERATION: From 0-100 km./h. in 12.5 secs.

MAXIMUM SPEED: 175 km./h. GASOLINE CONSUMPTION: 8.3 km./l. in town; 15.3 km./l. at 90 km./h. PRICE: NIS 89,900

Market strategy - Japanese style

A spone who has done basiness companies will usuity that parties will usuity that prover 500 and 1,000 and satisfies a pervent 500 and this year with the provent to the satisfies graph continues to rise that manufacturer to the satisfies graph continues to rise at manufacturer to the satisfies graph continues to rise at manufacturer to the satisfies graph continues to rise at manufacturer to the satisfies graph continues to rise at manufacturer to the satisfies graph continues to rise at manufacturer to the satisfies graph continues to rise at this rate, market domination by the year 2002 will be a cincti.

Among the company's manufacturer are plants for the Israeli market is to make use of the production lines it has set up in Emonean experts are asked to predict the state of the market in five years time, they inevitably give a "how-can-i possibly know now" strug. The Toyota management on the other hand has no reservations. We will doubtine, "success Kunio Komada, general manager of the company's Middle East department without any false modests. incit, without any false modesty.

In its fast year of operation, heat, Joyou sold 5,676 units and experts are asked to predict the lines it has set up in European ines it has set up in entopean they vealure of this size to be and Middle Eastern countries implaned from Japan such as the UK and Turkey to boots sales in the posti-Already by the end of the this group off-road segment by year the new Carina will be important the Prado All-terrain imported from the UK Other prehicle. Toyota has decided not and Middle Eastern countries year the new Carina will be plans for Israel include: - to push sales of the trendy-looking, new Corolla (see adjoinng story);

- to consolidate the Hi-luxe's. ing story), position as the country's No. 1 with both a diesel cognic and automatics and should be equipment with both a diesel cognic and automatics that the current formake for success on the local pick up parket, to import a 19-scater minibut foot in he confused with a mini-bust talled the Conster, which is assembled in Nagoya. lapsia, by a daughter company called Arsen This will be the first vehicle of this size to be to send us the legendary Land Cruiser, but will call the Prade the "Land Cruiser Prado." The Practice will reptace the Four-Rutiner and will be sold along side the Rav4. — J.G.

→ THE CONFERENCE CIRCUIT ◆ By Greer Fay Cashman

19.8 Lloyd's Register Quality
Assurance Israel is hosting an Environment Management Systems seminar at the Dan Hotel. Eilat, featuring guest speaker Dr. Anne Marie Warris, managing director of LRQA. One of the world's foremost experts in her field. Warris specializes in resort areas and will speak about building an environmental management system in the Eilat area. Other participants include Mel Pearson, regional group manager of Lloyd's Register. Alan Whitehead, managing director of LROA: Isaac Schwartz, Lloyd's Register country manager for Israel and Menachem Lerer, LRQA Business Manager.

2.9 A General Meeting of Shareholders in Osem Investments will be held at the company's registered offices, 61 Jabotinsky Street, Petah Tikva. The agenda includes a discussion of the financial reports and balance sheet: the declaration of the 1996 thividend; the election of a board of directors; the approval of acting directors, the appointment of an anditor and the determination of his salary; the approval of a grant for the managing director for 1996 and the approval of salary increases and bonus for various employees.

8.9 How to Do Business and Stay Healthy is the provocative title of a dinner-time symposium to be held at Gan Oranim in Tel Aviv under the joint auspices of Shahal, Focus Ha'aretz and Bank Discount. While business executives dine on a gourmet dinner prepared by Chef Ran Shmueli, they will hear a series of medical experts discuss the health risks involved in being a highpressured business person living a tension-filled existence, and how some of these risks can be avoided.

8.9 A General Meeting of Stockholders in the Trust Company of the Israel Maritime Bank will be held at the bank's headquarters, 35 Ahad Ha'am Street, Tel Aviv. Shareholders attending will be updated on the company's standing and will be asked to make special decisions with regard to the company's future.

9.9 Technopolis '97, a four-day international conference on metropolitan concentrations of knowledge-based industries, will be held in Ottawa, Canada. The event will include a trade fair with over 40 plenary and worksbop sessions. Participants will come from over 20 countries.

fπ

in

ha

B

TASE ROUNDUP

Stocks close mixed

Mishtanim 294.68 ▼ -0.11%

303.13 🔺 +0.15%

Israeli stocks closed mixed yesterday as investors expressed concem about continued drops on

The Maof Index of 25 mosttraded issues added 0.15 percent to 303.13. The Mishtanim index of 100 most-traded shares fell 0.11% 294.68. Declining shares included Africa-Israel Investments Ltd., down 3% to 250.41 shekels ($71.38), Dead Sea Bromine Ltd., off 2.5 percent at 25.2 shekels, and Leumi Insurance Holdings Ltd., down 2% to 2.51 shekels.

Key Representative Rates

Sterting . . . . . NIS 5.6641 + 0.94%

Mark . . . . . . . NIS 1.9365 + 1.43%

NEW YORK MARKET INDEXES

DOLLAR CROSSRATES (US)

US COMMODITIES

SPOT MARKET METALS (US)

NEW YORK METAL FUTURES

LONDON METAL FIXES

DATA COMMUNICATIONS VIA

Foreign financial data courtesy of

Œ

CommStock Trading Ltd.

34 Ben Yehuda St., Jerusalem

Ta), 02-624-4963, 03-575-5826/2 Fax, 92-625-9516

Mediterranean Investments,

Stock broking

J72.0 0525896

"In local currencies

Equity & macro research

Mad 197074-136 of compositive con

Money management Corporate finance

Futures, Options,

and Mutual Funds

Stocks, Bonds

Septimize (CAE)
Yen; spot
Septimize (CAE)
Cantur, spot
Septimize (CAE)
Septimize (CAE)
Septimize (CAE)
Septimize (CAE)
Franc, spot
Rusz spot
Austra, spot
Austra, spot

Rand spix
ECU: spot
Bonds Septimire
Sand P Septimire

Change -0.0044 +0.0038 +0.0204 -0.0004 +0.0112 -0.0018

-1 -0 -0.003| -0.009 -0.009 -0.009 -0.009 -0.009 -0.005 -0.005 -0.15 -182

Orang +57 +225 +335 +335 +335 +331 -231

NIS 3.522 + 0.069

Offsetting the drops were Delek Israel Fuel Corp., up 2 % at 117.8 shekels. and Electrochemical Industries Ltd., jumping 9.75 % to 4.34 shekels. Holding company Koor Industries Ltd., up 2 % to 368.07 shekels, was the most heavily traded issue, with 10 million shekels in transactions.

"People are concerned in the short run that there is going to be a drop" on Wall Street "that is going to affect Tel Aviv," said Ron Weisberg, an international trader Israel Brokerage

"Up to 40 % of the Maof is directly or indirectly" influenced by performance of Israeli shares traded in New York, said Yaron Pitaru, head of research at Ofek Securities.

just a short-term correction.

German interest rates.

als as safe financial havens.

Dow, fell 1.47 % yesterday.

Steadier stock markets rubbed off on the dollar, which ended with little net change. It earlier suffered jit-ters over the possibility of higher

But gold lost earlier moderate gains and dealers said investors still seemed to lack trust in precious met-

Tokyo's 225-share Nikkei average in Tokyo, taking its cue from the Continental European markets,

several closed on Friday for a holiday, were then generally hit more than London, Europe's largest stock

London's FTSE index had turnbled 125.5 points or 2.5 % on Friday

but this compared with a much larger plunge of 250.7 points, or 12.22

% in the "crash" of October 20,

Across the Tel Aviv exchange 161.5 million shekels ($45.8 million) of shares traded. Two shares declined for every one that rose. Israeli companies continued to publish earnings reports today.

(Bloomberg

WORLD MARKET ROUNDUP

European shares cut losses

LONDON (Reuters) - European stock markets defied fears of a major slide to curb their losses yesterday, while Wall Street made a hesitant recovery from its second biggest points fall in history. The Dow Jones Industrial Average, which had lost 247.37 points or more than three percent on Friday, showed only a fractional net change as European trading ended for the day.

"There was just a sense of disappointment that the market could not hold in and there is a little bit of nervousness about tomorrow's Fed meeting," said Peter Coolidge, senior equity trader at Brean Murray & Co. in New York.

European investors had looked to Wall Street for tips on what to do next amid uncertainty on whether Friday's drop marked an end to a rise in US and European share prices or

WALL STREET REPORT

Dow rebounds

NEW YORK (Reuters) -- The Dow Jones industrial average rebounded strongly yesterday as bargain hunters resurfaced after the high drama of Friday's near-record

Based on early and unofficial data. the Dow stormed 108.70 points higher, or 1.4 percent, to 7,803.36, regaining a large chunk of the 247point loss Friday, which was the second biggest point drop since the 1987 crash.

In the broader market, declining issues led advances by a narrow margin on active volume of 517 million shares on the New York Stock

Analysts said the market raced higher as investors sought an entry point after Friday's plunge on concem that future corporate earnings growth may slow. But many investors were still unsure of the market's short-term direction, which accounted for the extreme volatility.

Wall Street was also trying to anticipate the outcome of today's Federal Open Market Committee meeting on interest rates.

Despite the big drop in the Dow. some money managers saw linte sign of assets being reallocated in investment portfolios.

Among the big movers, Hewlett-Packard Co. fell 2-1/2 to 63-13/16 after reporting lower-than-expected quarterly results.

alling test

WHERE TO GO

Notices in this feature are charged at NIS 28.08 per line, including VAT. Insertion every day of the month costs NIS 520.65 per line, including VAT are recently

JERUSALEM
Conducted Tours
HEBREW UNIVERSITY. Tours of the Mount Scopus campus, in English, daily Sun-Thur., 11 a.m. from cainy Sun.-Intr., 11 a.m. from Brontman Reception Center, Sherman Administration Bidg. Buses 4a, 9, 23, 26, 28. For Info, call 588-2819. HADASSAH. Vish the Hadassah instal lations, Chagall Windows. Tel. 02-6416333, 02-677-6271.

TEL AVIV

TEL AVIV MUSEUM. Yong Lotan: TEL AVIV MUSEUM. Yona Lotan: Selected Paintings 1958-97. Second-hand, Original vs. Reproduction: Didactic exhibition for children and youth. Micha Kirshner, The Local Spirit, pholographs 1979-96. Eti Jacobi: The World of Wonders 3, Paintings 1996-97. Dortit Yacoby: New series. "All the World's a stage." The Collection in Context. Collections. HELENA RUBIN-STEIN PAVILION FOR CONTEMPORARY ART. Yigal Ozeri: 1994-97. STEIN PAYTION FOR CONTEMPORARY ART. Yigal Ozer: 1994-97.
Hours: Weekdays 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Tue.
10 a.m.-10 p.m. Frl. 10 a.m.-2 p.m.
Meyerhoff Art Education Center, Tel.
6919155-8.

WHAT'S ON IN HAIFA, dial 04-8374253.

GENERAL ASSISTANCE

EMERGENCY PHARMACIES Jerusalem: Amona, 9 Leib Yatte,

Jerusalem: Arnona, 9 Leib Yatte, 673-1901; Balsam, Salah e-Din, 627-2315; Shuatat, Shuafat Road, 581-0108; Dar Aldawa, Herod's Gata, 628-2058.
Tet Aviv: Kupat Holim Maccabi, 7 Ha-Shla, 546-5558; Superpharm Lev Dizengoff, 50 Dizengoff, 620-0975. Till 1 a.m. Wednesday: Pharma Dal Jabotinsky, 125 Ibn Gvirol, 546-2040. Till midnight: Superpharm Ramat Aviv, 40 Einstein, 641-3730; London Ministore Superpharm, 4 Sheul Einstein, 641-3730; London Ministore Superpharm, 4 Sheul

Hemalech, 696-0115. Ra'anana-Kfar Sava: Medicstore, 24 Tchemichowsky, Kfar Save, 745-7034.

Netanya: Hasharon mail, Herzi, 861-7766. Haifa: Ballour, 1 Massada, 862-

Krayot area: Medica, 1 Lehmann, Kiryat Yam, 875-3890.
Herzilye: Cial Pharm, Beit Merkazim, 6 Maskit (cnr. Scierot Hagalim), Herzilya Pituah, 955-8472, 955-8407. Open 9 a.m. to midnight.
Upper Nazareth: Cial Pharm, Lev Ha'ir Mall, 657-0468. Open 9 e.m. lo

DUTY HOSPITALS Jerusalem: Bikur Holim (internet, obstetrics); Shaara Zedek (surgery, ENT); Hadassah Ein Kerem (onthopedics, pediatrics, ophthalmology).
Tel Aviv: Tel Aviv Medical Center Dana Pediatric Hospital (pediatrics); Tel Aviv Medical Center (internal, surgery). Netanya: Laniado. POLICE

FIRE

102

FIRST AID 101
Magen David Adom
In emergencies dial 101 (Hebrew) or 911 (English) in most parts of the country. In addition:
In emergencies dial 101 (Hebrew)
or 911 (English) in most parts of the or 911 (English) in most parts of the country. In addition:

In emergencies dial 101 (Hebrew) or 911 (English) in most parts of the

Or 917 (English) in most parts of the country. In addition:
Ashdor 8561333 | Klar Sava* 9902222 |
Ashkelon 8561333 | Klar Sava* 9902222 |
Ashkelon 8561332 | Klar Klar Varian |
Ber Regum* 579333 | Ashkelon 8561333 |
Ber Regum* 579333 | Ashkelon 8561233 |
Ber Stock 444 |
Karmet* 9885444 | Tibenas* 6792444 |
Karmet* 9885444 | Tibenas* 6792444 |

* Mobile Intensiva Care Unit (MICU) service in the area, around the clock.

Medical help for tourists (in English) 177-022-9110 The National Poison Control Center at Rambam Hospital 04-852-9205, 24 hours a day, for information 9205. 24 hours a day, for information in case of poisoning.

Eran — Emotional First Ald — 1201, also Jerusalem 561-0303, Tel Aviv 546-1111 (children/youth 546-0739). Rishon Lezion 956-6661/2, Haila 867-2222. Beersheba 649-4333, Netanya 862-5110, Karmiel 988-8770, Kier Sava 767-4555, Hadera 634-6789.

Citala Center for Belldious

Crials Center for Religious Women 02-655-5744/5. 24-hour service, confidentiality guaranteed. Wizo hotlines for pattered women 02-6514111, 03-546-1133 (also in Russlan), 07-637-6310, 08-855-0506 (elso in Ambarta)

Rape Crisis Center (24 hours), Tel Aviv 523-4819, 544-9191 (men), Jerusalem 625-5558, Haifa 853-0533, Eliat 633-1977.

Love wins PGA

MAMARONECK, NY (Reuters)

- Davis Love outdueled British Open champion Justin Leonard in a brilliant final-round performance Sunday to win the PGA Championship by five strokes and claim his first major championship.

Love, who began the day tied with Leonard at seven under, a massive seven shots ahead of the rest of the field, was near flawless as he posted five birdies and just one bogey in the pressure-packed showdown at the season's last major.

"What a thrill," said Love. "That's the best I ever fell on a golf course for four days with so much and analysis

 $\beta = \Gamma_{\rm lightler}$

Court of the ven talager

the longing

and the · January

ar aren

er a t<sub>uta</sub>

To de La Windle

in dame.

Configuration by

offit Art

a Make Property Bear

 $... = (Y_{t_i,\eta_i})_{t\in T_{t_i}}$

1 11 11 12

the final ha

the sources

gradina 🚜

the terms of Star &

. De Arm

 $t \mapsto (t_{i+1,j})$

Part Mag.

Sec. 15. 84

7 1 1 1 1 E

5 Trop 772

15 grande 🕻

14 13 1d 1

10 July 190

Man by

 $\mathcal{H}(P_k)$

the state of the state of

Char

Track of

 $\operatorname{Fram}_{\| j \|_{L^{2}}}$

Love, 33, finished with his third four-under-par 66 of the tournament for an 11-under total of 269. As Love walked up the 18th fairway to the cheers of the gallery, a stunning rainbow graced the sky while the sun came out after a sudden downpour had drenched the

After rolling in a birdie putt to punctuate his triumph, Love hugged his brother and caddie Mark, his wife and his mother in a tearful celebration at the home hole. Love's father, famed teaching pro Davis Love Jr., was killed in a plane crash in 1988

"It's ben a long time coming," an emotional Love said after hoisting the silver Wanamaker Trophy. "Tve been close a few times, as we all know. I was finding it hard to get through the last three holes without breaking down."

Love's maiden major fittingly came at the PGA, the championship of the organization his father belonged to for so many years. Victory brought Love a first prize of $470,000. Leonard's sensational putting touch deserted him after three impeccable rounds on Winged Foot's greens, and errant drives also gave him trouble. He made four birdies Sunday but had five bogeys

Leonard, who set a course record with a five-under-par 65 Saturday, shot 71 to finish at six-under 274. Jeff Maggert won his fight for an automatic berth on the US Ryder

Cup team by firing a 65 to finish third at 276. Maggert made six birdies against one bogey to jump past Tommy Tolles into the 10th spot in the Ryder team standings. The only other player to finish

LOVE CONQUERS ALL - Davis Love III raises his trophy after winning the PGA.

under par was Lee Janzen, who led after two rounds. Janzen birdied the last hole for 69 and a one-under 279

Alone in fifth was US Ryder Cup captain Tom Kite, who shot 70 for even-par 280.

Tiger Woods and Phil Mickelson, playing in one of the day's glamor pairings, both closed with 75s for 286, six over par.

Love's 269 total at fabled Winged Foot was spectacular. In four US Opens held at the classic course, the winners shot 294 (Bobby Jones in 1929), 282 (Billy Casper in 1959), 287 (Hale Irwin in 1974) and 276 (Fuzzy Zoeller in 1984). Leonard, a good friend of Love's, said: "Davis played extremely well today. He never let up.

"He's a classy guy, be always has been. That makes up a little bit for disappointment," added Leonard, who was trying to match

Nick Price's 1994 feat of winning two successive majors.

Love was solid from the start, hitting fairways, getting it close on approaches and using unerring judgement on the speed of Winged Foot's notoriously fast, sloping

Leonard's slide started quickly. At the second bole, Leonard pushed his tee shot into the right rough, punched back into the fairway and took a bogey to end a string of 20 holes of par or better, Love made it a two-stroke lead by curling in a birdie putt at the par-3 third hole. Another bogey by Leonard after driving into the rough at the fourth hole made it a three-shot advantage for Love, who extended that with a birdie tap-in at the par-5 fifth after narrowly missing an eagle putt.

After another birdie, Love led by five shots at the turn, but saw his lead cut to three at the 12th, where he bogeyed after finding the rough, while Leonard made birdie to reach seven under par.

Leonard's last chance probably came at the 13th. The Texan's tee shot at the par-3 hole gave him a good chance for birdie. Love, meanwhile, sent his tee ball wild left and into deep rough with very little green to work Another two-shot swing would have shrunk Love's lead to one, and bogey looked likely for Love. But Love gently lobbed the ball out of the junk and nearly holed it, lipping out of the cup and then tapping in Leonard missed his birdie. The three-shot lead remained.

That's the bole that really saved me," Love said. "It saved the tour-

Couples, Janzen named to Ryder Cup team

- Captain Tom Kite added a measure of experience and a dash of major championship glitter to his US Ryder Cup squad by naming
Fred Couples and Lee Janzen to the team that faces Europe next month

ngan kalangan berang kanggaran atawa kanggarang panggaran ang panggaran na kalanggaran kanggaran da kanggaran

Couples, the 1992 Masters champion and a veteran of four Ryder Cups, and 1993 US Open winner Janzen, who played on the '93 Ryder team, joined 10 players who earned their way onto the team through points.

This has not been an easy decision by any means," said Kite. T've been tossing and turning.

"I'm sure I woke my wife up a number of times talking in my sleep and yelling out names from guys who are going to be making

Kite said Ryder Cup experience and current form were the most important factors in making his picks for the team that will try to win back the cup at Valderrama.

The 32-year-old Janzen, 15th in the Ryder Cup standings, finished Sunday under the watchful eye of playing partner Kite, who finished

Couples, 37, joint seventh at the Masters and British Open, was 17th on the points list but played an abbreviated schedule as he coped with personal problems. His father is suffering from leukemia and his girlfriend is battling breast

"Freddie is one of the most, if not the most talented players on the US tour," Kite said. "When Freddie wants to play, he's the best."

The US team will have four Ryder rookies on it, but they come with impressive credentials. Roukies include Masters champion Tiger Woods, British Open winner Justin Leonard, who was runner-up on Sunday in the PGA, Jim Furyk and Scott Hoch.

The rest of the squad is comprised of 1996 British Open cham-pion Tom Lehman, PGA winner Davis Love, Phil Mickelson, Jeff Maggert, Mark O'Meara and Brad

"All things being equal, if I had guys that I really thought were kind of a toss-up, and one of them had Ryder Cup experience and one of them didn't, then I was going to go with the guy that had it," said Kite. who played in seven Cups.

In picking Couples and Janzen Kite passed over young Tommy Tolles (11th in the standings), 1996 US Open winner Steve Jones (12th), 1996 PGA champion Mark Brooks (13th) and Paul Stankowski (14). None of them has been on a Ryder Cup team.

Kite said he considered a dozen candidates for the team - including such veierans as Tom Watson Corey Pavin, Payne Stewart and

The veteran who perhaps came closest to being added may have been Kite himself.

Kite, 47, has had a solid year despite the distractions of the Ryder Cup captaincy. He was the distant runner-up to Woods at the Masters, tied for 10th at the British Open and was fifth Sunday at the

Israeli youth squad face Bulgaria

By AMMANJAH DE VRIES

Israel's Under-21 side will face off against Bulgaria in the qualifying rounds for next year's European Championship this evening, hoping to make youth history.

So far, the Israelis have won five and drawn two to lead at the top of their qualifying group with 17 points. A win for the young squad ensures a well-deserved first place spot and a place in the quarter-finals of the tournament. A draw leaves them at the mercy of the Russians, who could take the top by winning their last two games, including one against the Bulgarians.

Although coach Yitzhak Shum thinks his team is not necessarily in its best form, he does believe in his players and their ability to who joined the side in Bulgaria yesterday from the Grasshoppers in Switzerland. Tekuah is one of the five Under-21's players whom coach Shlomo Sharf is soon promoting to the national side, regardless of the outcome against Bulgaria.

One such player is Avi Tekuah,

The other four are Nir Davidovich, Nir Sivilia, Idan Tal. and Eli Abarbanel.

For the Bulgarians, it is national side star Stoichkov who is providing the motivation. The worldrenowned player has promised the Bulgarian Under-21s a bonus out of his own pocket if they win.

The young Israelis, however, are looking to motivate their own national side. A win by the Israeli Under-21s tonight could be a nice prelude to a similar outcome, bopefully, for the older players, who take on their Bulgarian counterparts tomorrow in a decisive World Cup qualifying match,

Cameroon qualifies for World Cup

HARARE, Zimbabwe (AP) -Cameroon's "Indomitable Lions" qualified for their third straight World Cup finals on Sunday, earning Africa's fifth and final berth for the quadrennial champi-onship with a 2-1 victory over Striker Patrick Mboma scored a pair of goals in the first 16 minutes of the second balf to get Cameroon out to a 2-0 lead, and eventually send the West Africans to their fourth appearance in soccer's ultimate spectacle.

The victory gave Cameroon a 4-2-0 record and 14 points atop Group 4 of the final round of African qualifying. Angola entered the day two points behind Cameroon, but needed a victory by already eliminated Zimbabwe -1-4) and then had to beat Togo later Sunday to get to France.

LOCAL SCENE

Tel Aviv readies for sailing tourney

By HEATHER CHAIT

Tel Aviv's sea is already covered with colorful sails as most of the entrants to next week's world championships (470-division) try out the waters.

Already here are teams from Japan, Ukraine, Portugal, Russia, Canada, New Zealand, Argentina, Denmark, Britain, Australia, Germany, Slovenia and the US.

Israel's top team, Nir and Ran Shental, have landed themselves in Group A, along with the Greek duo who lead the world rankings, and the German couple, ranked sixth in the world.

Ze'ev Kalach and David Schwartz will be the other local duo among the 30 teams in Group

The three other local teams will compete in Group B. They are Eli Zuckerman and Saar Bar, Ehud Gal and Gidi Kliger and Elad Ronen and Tomer Batitu.

Tennis: With exactly one month before the Davis Cup tie against Morocco at Ramat Hasharon, the Davis Cup squad will hold an unofficial training camp at the qualifying rounds of the US Open which begins on August 25. Eyal Ran, Eyal Erlich and Noam Behr, the almost definites for the squad, will all try their luck in the qualifying rounds while Oren Motevassel and Raviv Weidenfeld are also involved in tournaments in the States. Meanwhile, the president of the Moroccan Tennis Association, Mubammad Magid and his deputy, Muhammad Harashfi, have been invited to attend the tie next month.

Other more definite guests will be the official umpires who are Karl Edvard Hadlond from Denmark, Britain's Ted West and Israel's Yuval Gal Rankings this week have Erlich at 152 and Ran at 168 with Weidenfeld at 184 edging past Motevassel at 187.

Universada: Sport and education simply do not complement each other in this country. Evidence of this is the paltry number of 11 athletes Israel has mustered up for next week's Universada in Sicily. The swimmers, however, represent the finest stock with Yoav Bruck, Eytan Orbach, Mickey Halika and Yoav Meiri competing. On the athletics front will be Offir Shmueli, Nili Avramski, Edward 6763667 for details.

Reiter, Avi Teyrie, Yosef Gizacho and Philip Feingold. Yuval Eilon, national gymnastics champion, helps bring the contingent into double digits.

Cricket: As the cricket season moves toward its climax, last year's league winners Ashdod A are battling to stave off relegation. This week they beat league leaders Tel Aviv by six runs taking the last five wickets for no runs. Tel Aviv performed abysmally, dropping 10 catches and conceding 30 runs in the first two overs.

Ashdod made 115 against Tel Aviv's 109.

Lions Lod defeated Young Ashdod 231 to 194 to book their place in the final against Tel Aviv on September 13. In the other first division match, Netanya's captain Adrian Vard took 5/28 in the win against Nevel Yonatan, saving hia team from relegation. Netanya made 143/4 against 138. In Division B. Lod made 257/9 against Eleven Stars 196, Dimona C scored 222/8 to beat Beersheba B's 113 and Ramla made 368/8 against Kiryat Gat's 61. Golf: Husbands and wives dominated this week's alliance two best balls strokeplay competition at Caesarea. Malca and Mati Geri, with Eric Isaacs and Lenny Landes, won with a 13 better than par 133 strokes. The quarter in second place featured another couple, Mimi and Mike Bannister, who, with Leslie Benamir and Mike Ossip, had 138 strokes. Slipping into third place with 139 were Manuela Fishbein,

Rachamim Sofer, Uzi Hacham and Nachum Amit.

Cycling: Drivers stuck in Jerusalem's Friday morning jams were given a glimpse of how it could be. 'Jerusalem for Bicycles' held their third ride in the area around Gan Sacher, Beit Hakerem and Malha to show 'We're on the road,' said Yoram Asidon, of the movement. Among the cyclists were two deaf riders on tandems, who covered the route with their partners. Recognition was swift to come as the municipality ruled this week that a bike path will be created from the bus station extending to Route 4.

For the real natural experience, this weekend will see a 120 kilometer ride in the Golan. Call 06-

PRICES ARE AS FOLLOWS - All rates Single Weekday - NIS 134.55 for 10 words

FRIDAY AND HOLIDAY EVE - NIS 210.60 10 words (minimum), each additional word NIS 21.06
TWO FRIDAYS - NIS 351 for 10 words. minimum), aach addillonal word NIS

35.10 MONOAY, WEDNESDAY and FRI-DAY (package) - NIS 304.20 for 10 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS WEEK RATE (6 Insentions) - NIS 432.90

WEEK RATE (6 Insertions) - NIS 432.90 for 10 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS 43.29.
FOUR FRIDAYS (package) - NIS 555.75 for 10 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS 55.57.
MONTHLY (24 insertions) - NIS 1053 for 10 words (minimum), each additional word - NIS 105.30.
Rates ere valid until SEPTEMBER 30 1997.

tiEAOLINES offices: Jerusalem - weekdays: 12 noon the day before publication; for Friday 4 p.m. on Thursday.
Tel Aviv and Haifa - waekdays: 12 noon, 2 days before publication; for Friday and Sunday: 4 p.m. Thursday in Tel Aviv and 12 noon Thursday in Haifa.

For telephone enquiries please call

General

WHERE TO STAY THE JERUSALEM INN at the City Center -double or large family rooms rivate bethroom, T.V., telephone quality furnishings. Tel. 02-625-2757 Fax: 02-625-1297

JERUSALEM LODGES LTD. Short and long term rentals, Bed and breakdast, P.O. Box 4233, Jerusalem 91044. Tel. 02-5611746, Fax: 02-563-7566. E-Malt jerel@jerel.co.il

DWELLINGS Jerusalem Area

HOLIDAY RENTALS JEWISH QUARTER-3.5, BRIGHT, 1st floor, lumished, koshar, quiet location. For the month of August, or part of Tel. 02-628-0778.

RENTALS GERMAN COLONY, UNIQUE, 3 or 4, garden, basement, parking, long term. Immediate. (No commission). DIVIROLLI SIANI. Tel 02-623-5595... SALES/RENTALS

RAMOT 03, 6, luxurious, separate unit, cornar, well-invasted, quiat, gardan, view, immediate.. Tel. 02-586-2643 SALES REHAVIA, 5 SPECIAL, well-invested, 2

larga terracas, air conditioning. $375,000, immediate. GESHER REAL-DWELLINGS Tel Aviv

RENTALS AZOREI CHEN, LUXURIOUS, 5 + balcony, air conditioned, doorman, country club. YAEL REALTORS. (Maldan). Tel. 03-

TEL AVIV CENTRAL -villa + swimming pool, air conditioned, 6-8 waaks, Irom private. Tel. 03-604-9463. SITUATIONS VACANT Jerusalem

SALES cuzzi + doorman + viewl Tal. 03-605-5704, Fax: 03-605-0075.

DWELLINGS Sharon Area RENTALS

HERZLIYA B, VILLA, 4 bedrooms, garden, sea view, $2300, long term. Tel. 09-956-2996. SALES/RENTALS

HERZLIYA PITUAH, LUXURIOUS SERVICES

COMP. MEDICINE

Tel Aviv

HOLISTIC MASSAGE IN your room. Certified masseuri!! Shai - Tel. 050-940525, 03-673-4151.

OFFICE STAFF RECEPTIONIST (HI-TECH) ENG-LISH + computer literate. Hours: 11:00 -19:00. Resume: Fax 02-581-3404, Ejoinus@photonet.com.

SITUATIONS VACANT

GENERAL

KOREAN / SPANISH SPEAKERS

WANTEO for permanant job in Ramat Gani High salary! Call Michal at 03-575-8255.

HOUSEHOLD HELP

SOUTH-AFRICAN AU PAIR AGENCY ts-raal based, requires many South Airt-can/other girls, live-in eu pairs country-wida. Top conditions + high salary. Wonderful job opportunities. Tel. 03-819-

METAPELET, PLEASANT FAMILY,

high salary . Live-in / live-out. Good conditions, Tel. 03-537-1036. \Vacancies in Israel with Hyundai Heavy Industries:

Applicants, who should have e minimum of 5 years' experience and references, should call Tel. 07-678-1668, to arrange an interview.

Civil Engineer, Structures Engineer

Schedules Planner with experience with Primavera software

Accountant

THE JERUSALEM POST

Needed: Dynamic personable

English-speaking salespersons for telemarketing team, Base Salary + Commission Hours: 4-8 p.m.

Experience in sales an advantage For more details, call David Mitnick at 02-531-5646 / 02-531-5610

이 간 긴 한 단 긴 긴 간 간 간 건 간 간 간 간 간 간 간 간 간 감 간 다

Dan Hotels Corp. Ltd. require Clerk/Typist

 English as mother tongue Knowledge of WORD 7

Immediate Suitable candidates should phone 03-5204061

IMMEDIATE JOBS AVAILABLE, Irlendma, Tel. (03) 965-9937.

AU PAIR AGENCY for South African girls and others in Israel and America. Live-in au pairs, too conditions

SALES PERSONNEL

3 SUISSES requires TELEMARKETERS Computer literate, Tel Aviv area. Aged 20-30, Hebrew, French speaking. Russian an advantage, permanent, immediate work. Hours: 1-8 p.m. Good

confiders. For details: 03-605-3027 SITUATIONS VACANT

Sharon Area HOUSEHOLD HELP EXPERIENCED, FUN-LOVING META-PELET (Irom 13:00-18:00), 4 Ilmes weekly, Ra'anana, good conditions. Tel. 09-771-5751. PURCHASE/SALES

WANTED

HOUSE CONTENTS, ESTATE contents VEHICLES

ARIE PALOGE QUALITY NEW &USED CARS TAX FREE & UNRESTRICTED Buying • Selling • Trading • Leasing Celebrating 25 Years • Countrywide Service Passport → Passport - Our Specialty Tel. 050-240-977, Tel./Fax. 02-652-3735

Visualize Your Future with Us

As a member of the company's Corporate Communication team, you will be responsible for writing and editing a wide variety of marketing and advertising material, including catalogues, brochures, advertisements, video scripts, CD-ROM storyboards, marketing presentations and press releases.

Academic degree in either journalism or Proven experience in promotional writing for the high-tech industry ■ Mother-tongue English

• Fluent Hebrew Experience in working in a computerized environment

 In-depth knowledge of computers an advantage Send your C.V. to Scitex Corporation, Ltd.,

Fax: 09-9597951. Discretion guaranteed. OPEN TO A WORLD OF COLOR SCILEX

Meeting World-Class Challenges

Major League Statistics

(Through Friday's games)

AMERICAN LEAGUE TEAM PITCHING

INDIVIDUAL PITCHING

ha Ti

TEAM BATTING

166 47 148 62

SSanders Det 96 109 50 82 4 10 6.28

Aldred Min 77 102 28 33 2 107,68

139 33 59 5 9 5.50

12 5.77

Vengert Oak III

Karsay Oak 132

Rusch KC 128 159 39 89

INDIVIDUAL BATTING Based on 280 place appearances

JBeil KC 436 67 124 19 72 284

NATIONAL LEAGUE TEAM PITCHING

Carter For 453 60 Bultuer Sea 415 79

Canseco Oak 374 54 88 21

Sprague Tor 440 55 102 11 DCruz Det 308 25 71 1

CGarcía Tor 302 28 65 3

8uford Tex 330 44 70 6

King KC 419 67 98 17 73 Spiezio Oak 391 36 91 9 41

INDIVIDUAL PITCHING Based on 12 decisions

	IP	H	88	50	₩	L	ERA
DIM						_
PfMartioez Mon		III	50	219		6	1.70
GMaddux Atl		144		137	15	3	231
Kile Hou	198	160	68	158	16	3	231
(Yaldes LA	146	126	33	183	7	10
Neagle Atl	179	161	35	126	16	ĩ	2.82
	151	143	SĨ	106		ĩ	2.85
RReed NYM	154			78	-
					10	-	2.86
AlBenes Stl.	161	128	68	160		9	2.89
KjBrown Fla	176		52	164		8	2.91
Schilling Phi	195	159		242	13	10	2.91
Estes SF	154	123	$\eta$	135	15	4	2.98
Smoltz Atl	190	185	53	172	Ш	18	3.04
FCordova Pit	169	142	33	95	8	6	3.07
Park LA	148	iΩ	54	121	Ĭ	6	3.10
McMichael NYM		57	20	ŠĨ	ï	ğ
	144		52		ģ	-	3.13
				147	-	6	3.17
Glavine Atl	180	122	60	104	10	6	3.19
Candiotti LA	94	90	26	61	9	4	3.35
Afernandez Fla		147	54	140	15	8	3.53
Rueter SF	148	152	39	91	9	5	3.58
B]Joves NYM	164	154	50	104	13	7	3.61
	165	160	41	87	Ш	8	3.65
	170		58	154	ΪĬ	Ř	3.70
Gardner 5F	160		46	126	i2	ĕ	3.70
Holt Hou	160		66	70	ï	ğ	3.70
Cooke Pit	130		59	80	é	'n	3.74
					_
Mercker Cin	127	117	20	65	B	8	3.81
Hampton Hou	166	159	60	106	10	7	3.95
Hermanson Mon		IOI	44	102	7	5	3.97
	16B	160		61	9	8	6.00
Nemo LA	157	148	76	177	Ħ	9	4.05
Mulholland ChC	157	162	45	74	6	12	4.07
RGarcia Hou	108	107	32	80	5	8	4.08
Astacio LA	153	151	47	115	7	9	4.10
Ashby SO	163		37	9]	6	8	6.13
JeGonzalez ChC	93		43	59	ğ	Š	4.15
Mamilton SO	í38		ŠŠ	9j	io	4	4.16
MClark ChC	148		47	76	9	i	6.20
					-
	130		57	107	Ϊ	5	4.22
	130		36	106	6	7	4.27
	140		60	105	7	6	4.30
Loaiza Pít	143	66	43	90	Ũ	8	4.A7
Mficki NYM	144	151	64	110	5	9	6.50
	117	105	75	105	8	9	4.53
	137	134		112	ĬO	6	4.53
				82	8	ž	4.56
	28	129	_		-	-
	142		65	120	7	12	4.68
	120		59	74	5		4 J 7
Valenzuela StL	89	]06	46	61	2	12	4.96
	169	174	55	123	5	IQ	5.00
	128		67	109	6	10	5.19
	117		31	94	9	10	5,23
Morgan Cin	110		38	70	4	io	530
Coperate Co-			35	55		ï	5.42
Schourek Cia				33 93	9	10	5.47
	135		22		-		5.68
Rullinger Mon	136	140	7 6	73	6	17	3.00

ImWright Col 106 146 55 48 6 0 7,00

O's down Angels in 10th

BALTIMORE (AP) - Lately, additional innings have only meant additional wins for the

TEAM BATTING

Los Angeles

Chicago

Joyner SO MaGrace ChC

Alfonzo NYM

Galarraga Col Lankford Stl.

KYoung Pit Biggio Hou Blauser Ad

Bonilla Fla

Chlones Atl Mondesi LA

Bichette Col

Olerud NYM

Kendall Pit

JLopez Atl Rolen Phí

Baerga NYM Bonds Sf

Womack Pit 494 61

DeShields Stl. 425 67

Mabry Stl. 388 40 OHamilton SF 338 52

Grudzielanek Mon 471 59

Segui Mon 332 54 Glanville ChC 348 60

4725 686 1217 170 642 286 4207 611 1138 115 586 270

6175 599 1129 127 574 270

4130 539 1106 131 517 267

4104568 1087 109 542 264

409| 522 1072 125 497 262

4036 521 1053 90 494 260

4097 522 1065 91 497 259 4147 579 1071 131 556 258

4171 505 1074 94 472 257

4142 574 1064 98 530 256 4084 483 1045 97 455 255 3966 475 1901 86 441 252

4065 467 1010 100 435 250

439 107 165 36 99 376 411 72 143 26 80 348

611 60 133 9 56 326 370 59 119 B 56 322

292 51 92 16 68 315 480 107 151 17 70 315 402 70 126 14 58 313 429 56 134 13 73 312

460 73 142 18 94 309 466 74 143 25 67 307

H HR RBI Avg 171 16 99 381

122 3 37 343 116 10 65 331

145 31 112 319

108 23 75 317

131 18 87 305 101 13 52 304 105 3 25 302

125 16 76

295 45 B9 0 I5 302 ii 427 66 128 I 26 300 406 59 12I 20 76 29B 364 57 108 6 4I 297 411 68 122 15 88 297

626 69 125 15 50 293

307 39 90 18 51 293 421 68 123 17 73 292

388 40 110 5 36 284 338 52 96 3 25 284 471 59 132 3 60 280 460 76 129 6 44 280

417 66 116 11 49 278 306 42 85 8 37 278

330 37 90 14 54 273 436 62 119 15 67 273

257 23 70 7 32 *2*772

467 64 126 24 83 .266

27 274

McCracken Col 282 58 78 3 27 277

Gagne LA 404 38 112 8 49 277
Hundley NYM 341 69 94 26 71 276
HMorris Gin 333 42 92 1 33 276
LGonzalez Hon 431 57 118 7 56 274
DSanders Gin 452 52 124 5 22 274

Austrus Hou 332 41 90 3 34 .271

Renteria Fla 466 64 126 3 39 .270

Weiss Col 274 30 74 2 26 270

RWhite Mon 439 61 118 18 57 269

Clohnson Ha 305 32 01 15 49 266

Flaherty SO 355 31 94 8 38 265 MLewis SF 279 39 74 9 34 265

Strange Hon 253 27 67 7 36 265 Stocker Phi 389 35 102 3 29 262

Danston Fla 321 55 84 12 49 262 SFioley SO 406 72 106 21 74 261

SFinley SO 406 72 106 21 74 261 Caminitá 5D 353 62 92 15 58 261

Burks Col 283 62 74 20 55 261

Sandberg ChC 357 44 93 B 46 261

Gaetti Stl. 381 47 99 12 49 260

DYoung Stil. 259 28 67 3 28 259

Everetz NYM 340 42 00 12 50 .259

Vizcaino SF 441 58 114 3 34 259

Santangelo Mon306 54 79 5 29 258
Alleasworth Pit 277 38 71 2 38 256
Kent 5F · -433 74 111 24 94 256
Gomez 50 423 53 108 5 50 255
Hollandsworth LA 272 34 69 3 27 254

DeBell Hou 335 42 85 9 44 254
CGoodwin Cin 265 27 67 1 12 253
Lieberthal Phi 332 46 04 17 53 253

WGreene Cin 349 45 88 17 57 .252

Clayton Sti. 442 56 111 0 44 .257

Servais ChC 311 30 78 5 35 251 Jefferies Phi 625 60 106 10 44 249

HRodriguez Mon408 50 101 24 74 248 Conine Fla 341 33 84 10 43 246

Manwaring Col 270 21 65 1 22 241 LCastillo Fla 263 27 63 0 8 240 McRae NYM 445 68 107 6 29 240

Lemke Atl 341 32 82 2 26 240 Zeile LA 431 68 103 23 61 239

Sheffield Ha 326 58 70 13 49 239

Berry Hou 256 30 61 8 30 238 Gant Stl. 404 53 93 14 52 230 GYaugho SO 254 46 57 13 36 224 BBoone Gio 336 28 76 5 37 222

Gilkey NYM 85 55 81 11 51 210

In these times

you cannot

AFFORD

to be without

THE JERUSALEM

POST

Subscribe today! Call 177-022-2278

492 68 121 26 90 246

372 51 91 18 65 ,245

304 47 74 13 48 243 411 44 100 15 67 243

339 37 88 9 55 260

Henderson SD 288 63 79 6

[Guillen Pit

HcGriff Atl

Orie ChC

Karros LA

GHill SF

2025 CPC

Klesko Atl

Ajones Ari

353 36 103 7 39

INDIVIDUAL BATTING

454 87

429 57

332 54

Alou Fla 411 68 122 15 88 297 LJohnson ChC 293 45 87 2 26 297

Baltimore Orioles. Backup catcher Lenny Webster singled bome the winning run in the bottom of the 10th Sunday as the Orioles once again rallied to beat the Anaheim Angels 5-4.

It was Baltimore's seven straight win in extra-inning games, and kept the club 4½ games ahead of the second-place New York Yankees in the AL East.

Rookie Aaron Ledesma hit his first major league homer and Rafael Palmeiro hit his 25th this season as the Orioles moved a season-high 33 games over .500 with their 15th win in 20 games. "Everybody is contributing. That's been the trademark of this ballclub," Orioles manager Davey Johnson said. "We don't have anyone who's going to win the MVP, but collectively this club is as good as any in baseball." Tim Salmon had three hits and an RBI and Rickey Henderson drove in two runs for Anaheim, which blew leads of 3-1 and 4-3 less than 24 hours after blowing a six-run cushion in a 10-9 loss.

In the 10th, Palmeiro walked leading off against Shigetoshi Hasegawa (2-6) and moved up on a balk. After Brady Anderson was walked intentionally with one out, Webster pulled a single just inside the third-base bag.

"If you catch 10 imnings and it's hot as heck, you want to get the game-winning hit so we can go home," Webster said, "I felt that if I did get a chance to win it, I'd try my best to get a hit just to end this

Armando Benitez (3-3) pitched the 10th to earn the win.

Baltimore's Cal Ripken, playing in his 2,500th major league game. went 1-for-3 with a sacrifice fly. His first-inning double gave him 922 extra-base hits, lifting him past Goose Goslin into sole possession of 33rd place on the career

Yankees 8, Rangers 0 After David Cone removed himself in the second inning with a tight right shoulder, Ramiro Mendoza (5-5) pitched six innings of two-hit relief and combined with Kenny Rogers on a three-hit-

Cone, who missed most of last season after surgery to repair an aneurysm in the same shoulder. threw 21 pitches in the first. He left after throwing several warmup tosses before the second. A preliminary evaluation indicated muscle tightness and tendinitis in the shoulder, but no vascular abnormality relating to the right-hander's surgery. Tim Raines went 3-for-5 with three RBIs and Paul O'Neill drove in three runs for the host Yankees. Bobby Witt (11-9) took the loss.

Blue Jays 10, Indians 5 Roger Clemens (19-4) struck out Il as visiting Toronto snapped Cleveland's four-game winning streak. Clemens leads the majors in wins and is second in ERA. He moved one victory away from his fourth 20-win season and first since 1990 as he bids for his fourth Cy Young Award. It was Clemens's third straight double-digit strikeout game, 11th this season and 79th of his career. The right-bander, 21-6 in his career against the Indians, allowed four runs and six hits in seven innings.

Indians rookie Jaret Wright (3-2)

AMERICAN LEAGUE

East-Division

W. L. Pet & L. L. Str. Home Away IntriBallistons. 76 43 638 - 273 W-2 35-22 4121 7-2
Biggin Volk. 73 49 598 48 7-8 W-1 38-25 32-24 4-6
Bigton. 62 63 496 17 46-4 W-4 33-35 29-28 3-3
Toronto. 59 62 488 18 26-4 W-1 31-32 23-30 4-6
Captified Obvision

Checkening. 57 64 483 21 24-8 W-1 33-31 24-35 4-6
Captified Obvision

Checkening. 58 57 525 - 8-4 L-1 34-31 29-26 5-4
Minimistrice. 68 62 388 49 4-6 W-2 57-22 22-40 4-5
Chicago. 59 63 484 5-55 W-1 31-29 28-34 4-5
Minimistrice. 68 63 425 12 4-6 W-2 57-22 22-40 4-5
Kannas Chy. 51 69 425 12 4-6 L-1 34-31 29-26 5-4
Minimistrice. 68 54 561 - 25-6 L-1 33-26 36-28 5-5
Minimistrice. 68 54 561 - 25-6 L-1 33-26 36-28 5-5
Minimistrice. 68 54 561 - 25-6 L-1 33-26 36-28 5-5
Region. 59 64 480 10 27-3 L-1 29-32 30-32 8-8
Caldand. 50 75 400 20 25-4 L-2 27-32 23-48 6-4

NATIONAL LEAGUE

East Division

W. L. Pet GB L10 Str. Home
Alients. 76 96 808 - 24-8 L-1 38-23 38-26 4-5
Region. 59 64 480 10 27-3 L-1 29-32 30-32 7-3
Caldand. 50 75 400 20 25-4 L-2 27-32 23-48 6-4

NATIONAL LEAGUE

East Division

W. L. Pet GB L10 Str. Home
Alients. 76 96 808 - 24-8 L-1 38-23 38-26 4-5
Florida. 77 51 525 38 5-5 W-1 38-23 32-30 6-3
Region. 50 75 400 20 25-4 L-2 27-32 23-48 6-4

Captinal Division

Household. 56 58 532 5-5 W-1 38-23 31-35 5-7
Morabili. 61 61 500 395 37 L-1 36-27 25-34 7-2
Philadicinia. 44 76 367 295 28-2 L-1 28-32 31-33 5-4
St. Louis. 56 57 455 98 4-6 W-1 33-30 29-37 4-6
Chicago. 50 76 500 18-7 2-6 W-1 31-30 19-45 6-3

West Division

Son Francisco. 70 55 566 4- 26-4 W-1 33-30 19-45 6-3

West Division

Son Francisco. 70 55 566 4- 26-4 W-1 33-30 19-45 6-3

West Division

Son Francisco. 70 55 566 4- 26-4 W-1 33-30 19-45 6-3

Chicago. 50 76 500 24 25-5 L-1 49-25 27-31 6-4

Column was a way. took the loss.

Today's AL games:
Minnesota (Hawkins 4-7) at Detroit |Btair 12-5)
Toronto (Carpenter 0-5 and Andujar 0-5) at Chicago (undecided)
Baltimore (Kamieniecki 8-5 and Yan 0-0) at KC (Belcher 11-11 and Bones 2-4)
Milwaukee (Mercedes 4-7) at Texas (Santana 3-4)
New York (Wells 14-5) at Anaheim (Dickson 11-5)
Boston (Avery 6-3) at Ockland (Lorraine 1-0)
Cleveland (Smiley 1-2) at Seattle (Cloude 1-1)

Today's NL games:
Chicago (Gonzalez 9-5) at Florida (Fernandez 15-8)
San Diego (Smith 4-3) at Pittsburgh (Lieber 7-12)
Colorado (Wright 6-8) at Cincinnati (Morgan 4-10)
San Francisco (Estes 15-4) at Phitadelphia (M.Leiter 8-12)
St. Louis (Stottlemyre 11-8) at Montreal (Perez 11-8).
Los Angeles (Valdes 7-10) at New York (Bohanon 3-1)
Atlanta (Smoltz 11-10) at Houston (Hampton 10-7)

ONE OUT ONLY - Chicago Cubs' shortstop Shawon Dunston is unable to get the out at first as San Diego Padres' Mark Sweeny breaks up the double play.

Mariners 5, White Sox 3 (1st) White Sox 4, Mariners 2 (2nd) Ken Griffey Jr. homered twice in the opener to reach 40 for the fourth time in his career as Seattle and Chicago split their double-

In the second game, rookie Mike Sirotka won his season debut as the host White Sox stopped a fourgame losing streak.

Griffey, who went 4-for-5 in the opener, hit a two-run homer in the first off Jaime Navarro (9-10) and added a solo homer in the ninth off Chuck McElroy. Griffey has seven homers in 10 games and leads the majors with one more homer than Tino Martinez of the New York Yankees.

Starter Jeff Fassero (12-7) was Seattle's winner in the opener. In the second game, Sirotka held the Mariners to five hits in 5% innings.

Omar Olivares (6-8) took the loss.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Rockies 6, Mets 4 Dante Bicbette's bases-clearing double highlighted a four-run sixth at Coors Field and Colorado completed a three-game sweep. John Thomson (5-7) allowed four runs and seven hits in six innings, beating New York for the second time in 11 days. Jerry Dipoto pitched the ninth for his eighth save, sending the Mets to their seventh loss in nine games.

Dave Mlicki (5-10), who has one win in his last 10 starts, gave up five runs and eight hits in five Astros 31, Phillies 6

Billy Brewer walked in the tying and go-ahead rans in the seventh at the Astrodome as Houston stopped Philadelphia's six game winning

Derek Bell had four hits, including two doubles, in sending the Phillies to just their fourth loss in 15 games.

Trailing 6-5, the Astros loaded the bases in the seventh off Wayne Gomes (2-1). Brewer retired Luís Gonzalez on a popup, then walked Ricky Gutierrez on a 3-2 pitch and Tim Bogar on four pitches.

Tom Martin (5-3) won despite allowing a two-run single to Mike Lieberthal in the seventh that wasted a 5-4 lead. Russ Springer got six outs for his second save.

Marlins 10, Pîrates 2 Moises Alou had five RBIs. including a three-run homer, and Kevin Brown pitched eight innings for host Florida.

Alou hit his 16th homer, the 100th of his seven-year career, to make the score 6-0 in the third inning. His single drove in two runs in the first and he finished 2for-4, boosting his average to

AMERICAN LEAGUE AMERICAN LEAGUE
Kansas City 001 000 201 - 4 7 2
Detroit 303 101 00x - 8 8 0
Rosado, MI Perez |3), Whisenant (6),
Walker |8] and Mi Sweeney; Keagle,
Brocal |8], To Jones (9) and Walbeck, W
- Keagle, 1-2 L - Rosado, 8-9, HR Kansas City, Damon (7).

Game 1
Seattle 200 100 011 - 5 0 0
Chicago 000 001 002 - 3 9 1
Fassero, Timlin (8), Slocumb [9] and Da.Wilson: Navarro, McElroy [9) and Karkovice. W - Fassero, 12-7. L Navarro, 9-11. HRs - Seattle, Grilley Jr 2 [40], Buhner (30]. Chicago, L.Mouton (5).

Game 2
Seattle 000 100 010 - 2 8 0
Chicago 200 002 00x - 4 7 0
Oivares, Chariton (8) and Da.Wilson;
Sirotka, N.Cruz (5), McEiroy (8), J. Denvin
(8), Karchner (8) and Fabregas. W Sirotka, 1-0. L - Olivares, 6-8. Sv Karchner [6). HR - Seattle, E.Martinez (21).

Toronto 000 703 000 - 10 4 0 Cleweland 030 000 101 - 5 a 2 Clemens, Crabtree (8), Escober [9) and O'Brien; Jr.Wright, Jacome [4), Plunk (9) and S.Alomar, Borders [8], W - Clemens, 19-4. L - Jr.Wright 3-2, HR - Toronto, Cruz Jr [17).

Minnesota 000 200 003 – 5 8 0
Boston 300 300 40x – 10 4 0
Tewksbury, Tra.Miller (5), Aguilera (7) and Sieinbach, D.Miller [8); Sele, Brandenburg (8), Lacy [9) and Hatieberg.
W – Sele, 12-9, L – Tewksbury, 4-9.

Texas 000 000 000 ~ 0 3 0 New York 103 020 20x - 8 13 0 Witt, Bailes (7) and I.Rodriguez; Cone, Mendoza (2), Kr.,Rogers [8] and Girardi. W ~ Mendoza, 5-5. I. – Witt, 11-9, HR – New York, C'Neill (18).

Oakland 000 101 000 - 2 7 1

Milwaukee 201 002 00x - 5 9 0

Prieto, C.Reyes |6|, Mohter |8|,
Johnstone |7|, Taylor |8| and Meyne;
Woodard, Oavis |6|, Wickman (7),
Oo.Jones (9) and Levis, Matheny (7),
Woodard, 3-1, L - Prieto, 6-7, Sv Do.Jones |25|, HR - Milwaukee,
Js.Valentin (13).

Anahelm 000 120 010 0 - 4 10 0
Baltimore 100 002 010 1 - 8 12 3
Watson, P.Harns (8), Holtz (8), Hasegawa (9) and Kreuter, Erickson, Orosco (8), A.Benitez 110) and Wester. W - A.Benitez, 3-3. L - Hasegawa, 2-6. HRs - Baltimore, Ledesma [1), R.Palmeiro (25).

Brown (11-8) allowed two runs and nine hits, struck out seven and walked none. He also singled home a run in the seventh and improved to 4-1 in five starts against Pittsburgh with a 1.18

Charles Johnson hit his 16th homer in the sixth.

Steve Cooke (8-12), who llowed six runs and seven hits in five innings, remained winless since July 19. The Pirates fell 5% games behind first-place Houston in the NL Central. Cubs 6. Padres 5

Mark Clark (10-7) allowed four runs and five hits in seven innings, improving to 2-0 since Chicago acquired him from the Mets on August 8. Mark Grace hit a two-run triple to cap the four-run fifth and Sammy Sosa added a bloop RBI triple for the visiting Cubs, who avoided a three-game sweep. Tony Gwynn went 0-for-4.

dropping his average to .379, its lowest since May 21. Paul Menhart (0-1) allowed eight hits and four runs in 45 innings. Terry Adams got four outs for his 11th save.

Giants 8, Expos 6 Damon Berryhill hit a three-run homer at San Francisco as the Giants batted around in a six-run first against rookie 30e Paniagua. Darryl Hamilton hit a two-run homer in the eighth off Jim Bullinger, his first home run in 108 at-bats since July 18.

Doug Henry (4-4) pitched 1 2/3 shutout innings and Rod Beck got three outs for his 34th save. NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York 030 001 000 - 4 8 0 Colorado 010 040 10x - 6 8 1 Milcki, Wendell [6], Rojas [8] and Hundley; Thomson, M.Munoz (7), S.Reed (7); DeJean (8], Dipoto (8] and Marwaring, W - Thomson, 5-7. L - Milcki, 5-10. Sv - Olpoto (8), HR - Colorado, Castilla (31].

Philadelphia 100 102 200 - 6 11 0
Houston 000 131 33x - 1112 0
Stephenson, Ruftcorn |4|, R.Hams (5),
Gomes |6|, Brewer |7|, Spradfin (7) and Liebenhal; R.Garcia, Magnante (6),
T.Martin (7), R.Springer |8| and Pena,
Ausmus |7|, W.-T.Martin, 5-3, L.-Gomes,
2-1, Sv.-R.Springer (2).

Pittsburgh 000 101 000 - 2 9 1
Florida 303 102 20x - 10 2 0
Cooke, P. Wagner [6], Ruebel (7),
M. Wilkins (8) and Kendan, Osik [8);
K.J. Brown, Powelt (9) and C.Johnson, W.K.J. Brown, 11-8, L. - Cooke, 8-12, HRs Florida, Alou (18), C.Johnson (18).

Chicago 000 041 100 - 6 12 0 San Diego 000 020 201 - 5 8 1 M.Clark, Patterson (8), T.Adams (8) and Houstor; Menhart, Cunnane (5), Bochtler [8], Bergman [7), Ti.Worrell (9) and C.Hemandez. W - M.Clark, 10-7. L - Menhart, 0-1. Sv - T.Adams [11), HR - San Diego C. Hemandez [11], HR -San Diego, C.Hemandez (2).

Montreel 012 020 001 - 8 7 1 San Francisco 600 000 02x - 8 11 0 Pariagua, Tellord (2), M.Valdes (5), Kline (6), O.Veres (8), Bullinger (8) and Widger, Alvarez, D.Henry (5), Tavarez (7), R.Hernandez (a), Beck (9) and Berryhill, B.Johnson (5), W - D.Henry, 4-4, L - Paniagua, 0-1. Sv - Beck (34), HRs - Montreal, V.Guerrero (8), R.White (19), San Francisco, D.Hamilton (4), Berryhill (3) Montreel 012 020 001 - 8 7 1

Atlanta 000 000 010 - 1 0 1 St. Louis 000 100 02x - 3 7 1 Neagle, C.Fox (8) and Edd. Perez, J.Lopez (8); An.Benes, Fossas [8], C.King (8), Eckersley [8] and Pagnozzi, W - C.King, 2-0. L - Neagle, 16-3. Sv - Eckersley (29).

Cinchmati 300 010 100 - 5 10 1 Los Angeles 000 000 000 - 0 7 1 Tomko, Selinda (8) and Fordyca; Namo, Guthre [8] and Piazza. W - Tomko, 8-4. L - Nomo, 11-10.

Don't let No. 2 become No. 1

Former Dodgers' manager Tommy Lasorda was great on the field, but keep him out of the front office

LOS ANGELES - Now that the else forced into retirement - but Los Angeles Dodgers have retired No. 2, it is time to retire something

The idea that No. 2 should be

Tom Lasorda would make a wonderful general manager, but not here, not now, no matter what those thousands of fans have been saying recently.

On Friday night, they gave Lasorda a standing ovation that lasted more than a minute. They booed General Manager

Fred Claire. That sort of reception, warranted once, is now as stale as whatever it is Claire puts in his hair. Sure, it's been 11 years, and the Dodger general manager still does not look or talk like a haseball guy. His short speech during uniformrefirement ceremonies was the emotional equivalent of an elevator conversation.

Certainly, Claire has made horrihle trades, ignored team chemistry, walked around with a rightly huttoned shirt and lips, represented everything that Lasorda is not. But for the fourth consecutive tending team on the field. That is his job, his only job, and with the acquisition of Otis Nixon, he has finished it.

year, he has put a division-con-

The Dodgers are not great, but their roster is better than the one in San Francisco, good enough to make the playoffs, deep enough in pitching to scare those folks in

If none of that happens, the hlame should be spread around the field, into the dugout, away from a man whose team could learn from

Look no further than last week, when Claire became the first person in the history of the organization to lell Lasorda to button it.

He was probably overreacting a tad. Tommy is just a guy trying to figure out his life like anybody Claire sensed a distraction and moved to end it.

By the time they met on the field Friday, there was a chill in the summer air, but the sideshow was

Lasorda said be loved Manager

He thanked Claire "from the bottom of my heart." And not once did he mention Bobby Valentine. It was justifiably Lasorda's night. Enveloped in such cheers, he said he will hear them forever. But this morning belongs to Claire.And as long as Peter O'Malley has any control around bere, the top baseball job always will belong to Claire. This is not a bad thing.Lasorda is a wonderful evaluator of talent, with much to offer. Those who want him to end his days as a punchdrunk casino greeter insult productive senior citizens everywhere.

But is it fair to give Lasorda his dream job at the expense of a man who refused to give away bullpenexiled pitcher Tom Candiotti at the start of spring training despite pressure from the media and fans.

You can never have enough pitching," Claire said repeatedly.It took a couple of months, but Ramon Martinez's shoulder eventually proved Claire correct. Without Candiotti, there is no division race.

He also had the nerve to demote young stars Todd Hollandsworth and Antonio Osuna to Triple-A Alhuquerque.

Sure, Hollandsworth stunk, but let's see you publicly diss the reigning National League Rookie of the Year like that. And then npset every Latin American scout in your system by making one of ir best discoveries disappear. You know what bappened next.

Both were humbled, both learned. Osuna has returned to become the Dodgers' hottest reliever, and Hollandsworth, before he was injured, had regained his focus and could be playing every day again in September

Claire has stood firm in support of his new manager when faced with complaints by some of his veteran players.

What, you don't think guys go into Claire's office complaining about their boss? It happens everywhere. It happened here, particularly this year after Russell enforced some rules that had long

The only difference is, here, the general manager doesn't listen. It is still uncertain whether Russell and this team will be a good fit. But it will not be because he has been back-stabbed by his superiors.

One of his biggest moves was a non-move. He restrained himself from trading Eric Karros when the first baseman was struggling.

As usual, Claire decided to sleep on it a couple of weeks, wait until Karros got bot, which he did, just as be promised, and won't the Dodgers be lucky to have his 30 bome runs and 100 RBI at season's end? And something he did too. He didn't blink at spending $650,000 of O'Malley's closely watched money to grab Nixon. Besides the bucks, it only cost Claire an average catching prospect, Bobby Cripps, who was valuable to the Toronto Blue Jays because be is from British Columbia.

NEXT CHAPTER - Tommy Lasorda sheds a tear at his recent farewell party.

Nixon was with the Dodgers all of two days before he won a game.

fell too deeply in love with Wilton Guerrero, blew out too much of

It has not been all good. Claire bouses need as many Mickey

But he deserves to return. With his valuable bench last winter), the help of special assistant Tom again forgot that baseball club- "Lasorda. (Los Angeles Times)

must be paid

NEW YORK (AP) - Baseball players must be paid when they are suspended for on-field misconduct, an arbitrator ruled in another decision eroding baseball's disciplinary power.

In a case involving Ron Gant, Terry Pendleton and Xavier Hernandez, arbitrator Nicbolas Zumas decided withholding the pay of suspended players amounted to "an improper fine" even if their contracts contained clauses specifically giving teams the right not to pay

"A special covenant that does not provide an actual or potential additional benefit is not binding and is not enforceable," Zumas wrote in a 35-page decision.

umas, fired as the sport's independent arbitrator by owners and players on July 30, also ordered teams to give the three players interest in addition to their back pay. Under a decision made during the collusion cases in the 1980s, a fired arbitrator is allowed to rule on cases that already have been argued before him.

Baseball's disciplinary process has been criticized by umpires, and umpires union head Richie Phillips called the decision "troublesome."He called on owners to attempt to find a way around it in cases in which players act egregiously.

"It's really putting him on vacation," Phillips said of suspended players. "No longer is a suspension any form of deterrence. There has to be some discipline in the game. There have to be some deterrents that would cause a player to hesitate before engaging in aberrant behavior." After Roberto Alomar spit at nmpire John Hirschbeck on the final weekend of last season, umpires became enraged when the Baltimore second baseman was suspended for just five games. Their anger increased when, following precedent, the start of the penalty was pushed back to the opening of the 1997 season rather than taking effect in the playoffs, and he was paid during the ban. Gene Orza, the No. 2 official of the players association, argued that missed games are as significant, and in some cases more significant, than the money involved. "It is a penalty to take a player off the field, even if he does get paid," Orza said. "It's definitely a penalty, not a In contrast to the NFL, NBA and NHL, baseball teams generally have paid players during suspensions for misconduct on the field. Chicago Bulls forward Dennis Rodman, for example, lost approximately $1.1 million in pay when NBA commissioner David Stern suspended him for t1 games last January.

When Larry Walker was suspended for four games by NL president Len Coleman in 1994, Montreal withheld his pay, and the players association filed a grievance. In deciding that case, Zumas ruled last June that players with standard nonguaranteed contracts must be paid during

Hernandez was ejected for eight games by NL president Len Coleman for intentionally throwing at Gant in September 1995, and Gant was suspended for four games for instigating a bench-clearing brawl. Pendleton was suspended for four games for bumping an umpire

After the Walker decision, the players association filed an additional grievance on behalf of Hernandez, Gant and Pendleton, arguing the colleclive bargaining agreement only allows additional contract clauses "which actually or potentially provide additional benefits to the player."

Gant and Hernandez had contract clauses stating "the club shall be relieved of its guarantee to pay (a) player's salary during any limited period that the player does not render his service under the contract due to ... suspension by the club or by action of the league president or the commissioner of baseball."

"There can be no question that the special covenant entered into by Gant, Hernandez and Pendleton, giving the Reds and the Marlins the right to dock their pay during the term of league suspensions, is not a benefit but an obvious detriment. (Arbitrators) have been consistent in invalidating special covenants that do not provide any 'additional ben-

Because of the decision, Cincinnati must pay Gant about $77,000 and Hernandez about $26,000, plus interest. Florida must pay Pendleton approximately $33,000, plus interest.

Zumas became baseball's arbitrator in September 1995, a month after owners fired George Nicolau, who had held the post since 1987. Players and owners have not yet agreed on Zumas' replacement.

touch to Cards

with Oakland Mark McGwire

that brought McGwire to St. Louis, has talked to ownership about possible ways of signing him to a long-term deal and fitting the slngger into the July 31 trade

"We're going to try," Jocketty

Why not? Despite being with the team only a short time, McGwire already is the most popular Cardinals player by far.

The team opens the gates a halfhour early so thousands of adoring fans can watch him hit tape-measure shots in batting practice. McGwire was assigned a security guard for Sunday's photo day, lest any overzealous types try and get too close to him. When the Cardinals acquired him, ticket sales immediately spiraled. They drew 132,060 for the recently completed three-game series with the Atlanta Braves.

Reliever Dennis Eckersley, a longtime teammate of McGwire's with the Athletics, said the first haseman had to be impressed. "It was like that in Oakland when we were playing good a long, long time ago, but he hasn't seen this type of atmosphere in a while," Eckersley said. "You'd think we were 10 games up. Instead, they're 9½ games behind Houston in the NL Central. But the fawning can't hurt come con-

Last Wednesday, McGwire homered twice and had three RBIs in a 5-4, 10-inning loss to New York. When he struck out in the 10th, be got a standing ovation.

"I wish every ballplayer could feel like that," McGwire said. "It's fabulous ... overwhelming." Now the question is, can the Cardinals afford him? St. Louis has a $44 million payroll this year and McGwire will command at least $10 million a season.

The Cardinals could create some room by letting go of either Todd Stottlemyre or Andy Benes. Stottlemyre has a $4.7 million club option for next season, Benes hope they can work it out."

a $3.3 million player option. They also could pointing outfielder Ron Gant, who has three years left on a five-year. $25 contract.

Manager Tony La Russa said he has no idea what will happen

"But I know without him coming over for these two months we had no chance, or virtually no chance," La Russa said.

"He gets to see what we've got here, the type of fans we have, the National League style of play, and all of that is going to help us. What it comes out to mean, I don't know."

Even if the Cardinals come up with the money, McGwire might opt to play on the West Coast. where his 12-year-old son lives. But at least he seems to have an open mind about the Midwest. The way the fans are, I can visualize it," he said. "This is unbelievable." Curiously, picking up the player who's second only to Babe Ruth in career home run frequency hasn't done anything for the Cardinals' postseason prospects. They're 5-11 with him in the lineup. They averaged 4.2 runs before he arrived, and 2.6 since. Changing leagues for the first time wasn't easy for McGwire, who started 3-for-34 with one bome run and one RBI. Only in the past week has he began hitting.

A 441-foot shot off the foul pole in his Busch Stadium debut August 8. One home run last Tuesday, two more last Wednesday, a game-tying two-run shot in the ninth inning off Tom Glavine on Friday night. McGwire walked four times Friday before the homer. La Russa solved that problem by batting him third ahead of Ray Lankford, instead of fourth ahead of Gant. "It makes sense," La Russa said. "I think with Ray behind him, there's an awful lot of motivation on the other side not to pitch around him. If they do, Ray will make them pay." Soon, comes the larger problem. Selfishly. I'd love to see him back," Eckersley said. 'He would make this club so much better. 1

Suspended players McGwire adds explosive Eddie Robinson's farewell

Grambling grid coach to call it quits after 57 years at the helm

GRAMBLING, La. (AP) -Shunning the shade, Eddie the sun and the passage of nime through two-a-day practices in the steamy Louisiana summer. million No shorts for him on the field or at home in his trophy-filled, ranch-style brick house, where he studies tapes through the night while his young assistants In his 57th and final year coaching at Grambling State University, the 7g-year-old Rohinson works harder and longer than anyone. Always has. And especially now as he grimly focuses on going out a winner and ending a year's misery. The winningest foothall coach, college or pro, with 405 victories. Robinson is coming off his worst record, 3-8. His first consecutive tosing seasons. The arrest of four players on rape charges. An NCAA probe of recruiting violations. The threat of losing his joh.

practically built Grambling, made the tiny, his-torically black school as identifiable with college football as Kunte Rockne did at Notre Dame, and be's reluctantly stepping aside at the end of the sea-

"I'd like to coach to ahout 100, if I could live that long," Robinson says. "This is the only thing I've ever done. I've got the same wife and the same joh. Frankly, it doesn't sound right, but I've never really wanted to do anything else." He doesn't golf or fish. Doesn't care to travel on vacations.

His life is Grambling football. and those close to him worry about how he'll survive away from the game.

"It's going to leave a bole, like a death in the family," says his son, quarterbacks coach Eddie Robinson Jr. "Sometimes folks live a certain way so long, it's bard to adjust to anything else." For one last season, Robinson can weave the poetry that his wife gives once because of him." him into locker room oratory to make his players laugh and weep and run out to the field roaring like Tigers. His speeches are closer to sermons, full of wisdom and passion.

"He can cry like a preacher, he whines like a preacher, and he like a preacher," says Glen Hall, Robinson stands impervious to a former player and now defensive backs coach. "And when he sings the school song, he sings like a preacher."

> Rohinson will talk to the players about what the game means to him, to them, remind them of everything they've gone through, and what winning would mean to generations of future Tigers.

In a career that's spanned 11 presidents, several wars, and the civil rights movement, Robinson has sent more players to the pros - over 200 - than anyone else. He's won every award a coach can win, been inducted into every hall of fame for which he's eligible, and received honorary degrees from such prestigious universities as

A man's most important qualities, Robinson says, are integrity. respect and honesty. He's taught that to his players for six decades, and he's urged them to live life to the fullest, to "leave some kind of mark among the people so they know you and what you stood for."

Yale.

His home and office sit where a peach orchard stood when the school was called the Louisiana Negro Normal and Industrial Institute back in 1941. Robinson arrived that year after working in a feed mill and driving an ice wagon in Baton Rouge following his graduation from Leland College.

That was also the year Joe DiMaggio hit in 56 straight games, Ted Williams batted .406 and Joe Louis flattened everyone in the hum-of-the-month

"l guess Joe Louis bad a greater impact on me than any other sports figure or anybody else other than my father, Robinson says. "He never bragged, he never made a lot of promises and things like that, and I could relate to somebody like that. I wanted to be a boxer

Robinson, a quarterback, fullback, tailhack and haseball pitcher at Leland before the school was absorbed into Southern University, had earlier considered a couple of other

"The preacher and the doctor, says.

can get that voice up real high lhat's what we had as black youngsters coming along," he recalls.

> He went on his first recruiting trip as a Leland student with his coach - "The NCAA would kill you for that today," he says with a wink - and refined the art of finding talent throughout the South in his first years at

Assisted only hy a moonlighting night watchman when he first arrived at the threadbare campus, 65 miles from Shreveport, Rohinson did everything to huild the athletic department virtually from scratch. He lined the field, taped the players, led the drill squad at halftime. He wrote the stories for local newspapers, waxing poetic at times with something like, "Outlined against a bluegray October sky," just as Grantland Rice did.

Robinson coached hasketball and baseball and did everything but cook for the students. In time, Robinson built the Gramhling football team into a nationally respected power, playing in Yankee Stadium, the Rose Bowl, the Sugar Bowl, the Orange Bowl and the Superdome.

He took the Tigers on harnstorming trips around the country in the '60s - a gypsy team with a floating schedule - and over to Tokyo to play Morgan State in 1976 in the first overseas game between US colleges.

Early on, Robinson started a tradition of waking players by going around to their rooms with a loud bell. He'd collect their meal cards and give them back if they reported to breakfast at 7 a.m. They didn't have to eat, but if they didn't show up they'd have to buy their own food the rest of the day. The idea was to make sure they were up in time for breakfast so there would be no excuses for not getting to class by 8 a.m. Going to class, studying and graduating were the first orders of husiness for Grambling players, and nearly 80 percent of them earned degrees. Robinson also teaches ealing etiquette, civil language and manners. But we've still gol people who don't know how to cat and are afraid to eat in public," he in brief

Concert

Ahinoam Nini deserved a better audience than the apathetic one she played to last Friday night at Beit Shmuel in Jerusalem. Alternating between her equally famous Hebrew and English songs, including "Bo'i Kala" and "I Don't Know," Nint's abundance of energy never let up. She has a dynamic presence on the stage, both when she's dancing and singing. You could see that Nini was enjoying herself by her ever-present smile and the excilement in her eyes.

Although her many attempts at clapping her hands to entice the audience to joto in proved futile, her passionate bongo set filled the crowd with awe, even garnering her some whistles. Nint's sexy voice and masterful instrumentation entranced all

Ahinoam Nini

Giggling during her original operatic finale, which included thanks to her band and technicians, complemented her bumor-

Overall, Nini's concert was intense and highly entertaining.

The dance troupe Hora came to town - to the Jerusalem Sherover Theater, that is - in a grandiose, ambidous way, with orchestra on stage, singers providing interludes, and all the trappings that make for a truly spirited people's festival.

One expects and indeed looks forward to such Israeli folk occasions in the capital - vigor and vitality io the men, charm and agility in the women. Yet there were elemeots in the long program that left something to be desired. Where the dances kept to the traditional well-trodden and delightful folk idiom, they offered admirable routine which inspired choreographers have made familiar. Where the troupe ventured into modern dance forms, it left doubts... Is Israeli folk dance seeking to enter the modern fields, vying with modem dance - stage dance? Or will it continue to strengthen our folk paths? In several duos with dramatic conient, the dancers begged comparison with modern art dance. Directors and choreographers should think twice about this. There is enough variety and verve in the best of Israeli homegrown dance to make such veotures unnecessary. There are enough young people and ethnic strands to keep Israel folk dance rich and rare - as demonstrated in segments like the Yemenite, Hassidic and other such groups. What need, then, for Brahms Hungarian dances or rolling on the floor? Where were

Be that as it may, there was an audience that filled the hall and enthusiastic applause - and a feeling that a good time was had

Theater

The Broadway Musical Project 1997: In its second phase

With the ever-growing popularity of musicals (or musicdrenched dramasl on our stages, it is no wonder that many of our gifted young actors have joined the second phase of The Broadway Musical Project 1997, now under way at Tel Aviv University Theater Arts Department (Israel Project director, Dr. David Zinder; producer, Efrat Kahanov).

With instructors of the calibre of Wally Harper, Jack Lee, and Jane Summerhays, all renowned for their involvement in Broadway shows such as A Chorus Line. Me and My Girl, Grond Hotel, My Foir Lady and West Side Story, they stand an even chance of having their show-biz talents properly honed if not sensationally "discovered." Among those taking advantage of what is the second phase of this musical theater workshop are Alon Ophir, Natan Datner, Sarit Winograd, Yuval Zamir, and Natti Ravitz, to name but a few of the artists taking part. In addition to individual coaching, this second phase offers master classes, weekly symposiums, and critical sessions held before an invited audience. To sit in on any of these is not only a privilege but pure pleasure. To witness the spontaneity, freshness, and enthusiasm that these seasoned music-and-movement experts elicit from young candidates is an exhilarating experience in itself. It can be shared by all interested io the technical side of the theatrical process.

The public is invited to attend the event, which will close this phase of the workshop on August 24, when a staged performance of selections from the repertoire will be held at the Schottlander Hall (Room 140), Gillman Building, Tel Aviv

In October of this year, the third phase of the project will take place in New York City. Participants selected from the above performances will be accorded exposure to the Broadway community through concentrated work with professional performers, instructors and directors. The program, in addition to master classes at the Juilliard School conducted by veteran Broadway star and concert artist Barbara Cook, will include daily dance classes, private coaching, and observation at rehearsals of Broadway shows.

Envisaged is a fourth phase to be held in the spring of 1998. It will feature a joint professional venture between the theater communities of Israel and the US in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the State of Israel.

Naomi Doudai

In these times you cannot AFFORD to be without

THE JERUSALEM

Jews strike out in Italian opera

Michele Petrusi stars as Moise in an Italian production of Rossini's 'Moise et Pharaon.'

(Amati Bacciardi)

By MICHAEL AJZENSTADT

The Italian press called it "iotifada in reverse," but a more proper title would have been "Bar-Ilan riots on the

By the end of the first act of Rossini's French grand opera Moise er Pharaon, as the God of Israel struck the Egyptians (all clad in white) with the plague of darkness, the sons of Israel (clad in haredi black and wearing kippot) very passionately threw sand and flung imaginary stones at the horrified Egyptians.

Jews throwing stones as if calling "Shabbos!."

It was horrifying. It is something we are all too familiar with here in Israel, but as far as I was concerned it was something I did not want to see on the opera stage, and certainly not in Pesaro, Italy.

But British opera director Graham Vick thought otherwise. His overwhelming and largerthan-life production, with extraordinary, imaginative and even more larger-than-life sets by the always captivatiog and imaginative Stefanos Lazaridis, tried on the one hand to make some social political comment and on the other to present yiddishkeit on the stage in a very kitschy way.

This was the Reoder's Digest manual to Jewish customs and traditions.

There was hardly any Jewish tradition left out of the production, from children studying with a rabbi to circumcision, from the sacrifice of Isaac to klezmer-style hassidic weddings to the wandering Jew (the one with a small suitcase).

There were Jewish symbols scattered all around the stage and the huge sports palace of the small Italian city of Pesaro, on the shores of the Adriatic, where the production opened this more imaginative, albeit at times year's anoual Rossini festival on August 9. All that was tine, even if a little overdone. After all, each to his own taste. But presenting the Jews as a nation of obscure religious inclination and rituals beside the much more areligious mythical pure Egyptians was somewhat lacking in taste. Why does Vick reverse the usual purification by water ceremony and make the character of Anna - Miriam's daughter - cleanse herself and then change garments from white to black? It felt strange and uncalled for.

That said, the production on the whole was very rich in visu-

And indeed there was nothing more emotional than the penultimate scene in which the sons of Israel pray to their Lord to save them from the pursuing Egyptians. It was a prayer done in earnest, both dramatically and niusically. on a set filled with enormous Hebrew letters representing the Ten Commandments.

Musically speaking, this was a first-rate production, with macstro Wladimir Jurowski leading the exceptional Prague Chantber Chorus and the orchestra of the Bologna opera with passion and devotion. There was also some superb singing, especially by Elizaheth Norberg-Schulz as Anna, and Charles Workman as Amenophis, the son of Anna and Pharaoh.

Unfortunately, Michele Petrusi as Moses was much less commanding in his fine stylized singing than the more humane and emotional Eldar Aliev as Pharaoh.

Rossini changed his original Italian opera Moise to the French Moise et Phoroon to suit the tastes of the French public. Vick and Lazaridis took the French opera and presented it back to the Italians of today in a far-fetched, way,

IN TUNE

Fanclub comes of age

By DAVID BRINN

ike the virginal country scenes that adom the jacket, Teenage Fanclub's Songs from Northern Britoin is a breath of fresh air, clear and unblemished rock 'n' roll with no ulterior

Which may seem funny coming from the quartel that gained notoriety in the late 1980s for its grunge-inspired letter-perfect cover of Madonna's "Like a Virgin" and for its subsequent albums of unabashed bubblegum pop filtered through Crazy Horse distortion with sardonic titles like Bandwagonesque. In fact, the band's name is nothing other than a self-deprecating putdown of the band's simple aspirations.

Here, the tongue-in-cheek "in your face" obviousness of the

> SONGS FROM NORTHERN BRITAIN

> > SENOR BLUES Taj Mahal (Hed Artzi)

LIFE AFTER DEATH The Notorious B.L.G.
(Hed Artzi)

BATMAN & ROBIN SOUNDTRACK

band's early years gives way to a pure yet subtle mid-'60s Byrds obsession. Soaring three-part harmonies compete with shimmering 12-string guitars which ring around lovely melodies and driving beats. Sometimes the similarities are so uncanny, you expect Roger McGuinn to jump out of a chorus. And like those mid-'60s albums before rock operas and 20-minute solos became the rage, each song is concise, to the point, and fades out before you know it. There's an open-eyed optimism that pervades the album that only the most crusty listeoer would take for cynical. Unfortunately, there are no stand-out songs that would break the band out big time, but as a whole it stands up better than any of its four previous efforts, due to the evident maturing of the ensemble work. What it lacks in Originality, it makes up in heart.

Some may say that Trenage Fanclub is drenched in nostalgia, but a good listen to Songs From Northern Britoin may confirm that the future never looked so

TAJ MAHAL'S latest, Senor Blues, is a rich comucopia of musical styles, which, to the uninitiated layman can all be lumped together as "the blues." To plagiarize a review snippet on Taj's home page, "A masterful melange of inspired cover tunes and originals that weave a musical tapestry of chiming guitars, raucous piano, Memphis/New Orleans horn charts, Caribbean grooves, jazzy soul, percussive polyrhythms, and Taj's blackstrap-molasses-over-buckwheatcakes vocals, Senor Blues is world music in its most democra-

The opening track of "Queen Bee" is a Taj original, a simple acoustic track reminiscent of bis early work. "Think" screams New Orleans from the vocals, backing vocals, and hot sax solo.

The ritle track, a wicked remake of a '50s tune by jazz great Horace Silver, is reminiscent of Dave Brubeck with Taj's appropriate vocals. He steals the horn/rhythm track from "Mustang Sally" on "Mr. Pitiful." an Otis Redding ditty, and "Sophisticated Mama" and "You Rascal You" bark back to the 1930s' bawdy Black blues numbers that were among the first put onto a side of

One of the most interesting pieces on the album is Taj's cover of Hank Williams's "Mind Your Own Business." As with the other styles on the record, he successfully takes a country-and-western classic and makes it his own.

THE Notorious B.I.G.'s Life After Deoth is quite pedestrian mainstream rap by one of the genre's biggest (figuratively and literally) Bucking rap tradition by staying alive to reap the rewards of a hit.

Notorious utilizes a bland piano-based background for his rhymes. Inspirational title must go to the takeoff on Dean Martin's crowdpleaser of the '60s TV generation, You're Nobody (Till Somebody Kills You)."

HOLY merchandising, Batmanl The soundtrack to Botman and Robin would be a good disc to go into the time vaults, with its crosssection of today's higgest stars in rock (Smashing Pumpkins, R.E.M) pop (Jewel, R. Kelly) and hip hop (Bone Thugs-N-Harmony, Me'Sbell Ndegeocello) destined to appeal to every segment of the record-buying public.

Of course nooe of it goes together, leaving only an expensive souvenir of the movie for the pre-teens filling the theaters this summer. Still worthwhile for Jewel's stunning performance of "Foolish Games," which reveals the reliance on boring formula that pervades the other material.

The other King

Amid the hoopla surrounding the 20th anniversary of Elvis Presley's death, many may forget that this month also marks the second vahrzeit of Jerry Garcia, leader of The Grateful Dead and spiritual icon to thousands of reformed and unrepentant hippies. The Tel Aviv Cinematheque is hosting a night devoted to Garcia on Thursday, which will feature a new documentary on the band, a live concert from band member Bob Weir and, as usual, "new" live Dead from 1989.

The festivities begin at 10 p.m.

Jacobi of all trades

By PATRICIA BRENNAN

ir Derek Jacobi has spent much of his esteemed career performing in the clever, worldly plays of William Shakespeare. But loesn't believe that the Bard of Avon wrote them.

"I think Shakespeare wrote the plays - but who was Shakespeare?" said Jacobi. "He wasn't, in my mind, the man who lived in Stratford. I suspect that he did act in the company, but be was a very minor actor, and I think that whoever wrote the plays took his name as a front, a cover." Jacobi thinks the play wright was likely

Edward Devere, the 17th

Earl of Oxford, a man

more worldy and educated than the corn mercbant and part-time actor from Stratford. That view didn't seem to bother Turing of Breaking the Code stutthe folks at Washington's Folger Shakespeare Library, where Jacobi was guest of honor at the library's 65th-anniversary gala, nor at a host of other Washington cultural events. And such a heretical view never ruffled the fans of his television portrayals, including the one for which he is best known, the Roman emperor in the 13-part 1977-78 series I, Claudius.

He also portrayed Brother Cadfael, a 12-century crime-solving Franciscan in PBS's Mystery! Jacobi reads each of Ellis Peters's 20 Caefael stories as they are filmed, but added, "We didn't use her actual dialogue; we couldn't it's too archaic.

As Cadfael, Jacobi wears the distinctive Franciscan hairstyle with a baid patch at the crown. He doesn't much like that aspect of his role, fearing during the first season of filming that his own sandy hair wouldn't return. (It did.) "They can get people on the moon but they can't create a state-of-the-art ton-sured wig," he said. The Codfael people provided Jacobi with a toupee, what he calls "a little blond spider for social occasions." One time, he said, on a windy day, he went to dinner at a restaurant in Budapest, Eating alone, he not people looking at him. "It was standing straight up," he recalled with chagrin. "So I ripped it off."

Cadfael is a character who had never been done before. Except for minimal descriptions of the monk as being in his late fifties, sunburned from days in his garden among his herbs, and having a walk similar to a sailor's gait, Jacobi was able to create his own persona. "It could be me," he said. Portrayals of real people, on the other hand, come with baggage. Cryptographer Alan tered and bit his nails. Claudius stammered and limped. Lord Byron.

another of Jacobi's roles, had a club foot and he, too, bit his nails. But Cadfael has none of these problems. And, like all good detectives - and good actors - he's a keen observer. Since 1960, shortly after graduating from St. John's College, Cambridge, Jacobi has spent his career portraying other men. Among his films are The Day of the Jackal and The Odessa File. There are also dozens of stage plays, including the Royal Shakespeare Company's Cyrano de Bergerac. Not all his stage roles are by the Bard, either, Before it was shown on PBS, Breaking the Code won him a 1988 Tony Award.

He said he enjoys the "paraphernalia" of celebrity that accompanies movies but is more at home on the stage. In films, "you're not in control - you can be made to do something you didn't even do."

(The Washington Post)

TOWER RECORDS' TOP 15

THI	S LAST	WEEKS O	N
	EK WEEK	CHARTS		TITLE
#1	1	4	EVYATAR BANAI	EVYATAR BANAL
#2	3	7	V/A	HITMAN 8
#3	2	3	ARIK EINSTEIN	LE'AN PARHU HAPARPAR
#4	14	14	EYAL GOLAN	WITHOUT YOU
#5	10	27	YEHUDA POLIKER	LIVE
#6	8	6	V/A	SUMMER FIESTA 2
#7	9	7	RAMI KLEINSTEIN	KOL MA SHETIRTZI
#8	5		VIA	SUMMER PARTY
#9	6	9	TEA PACKS	NESHIKA LADOD
#10	25	73	RITA	COLLECTION
#11	15	9	V/A	JE TAIME
#12	13	7	RAMI KLEINSTEIN	COLLECTION
#13	11	2	ASTRAL PROJECT	ION DANCING GALAXY
#14	NEW!	1	SHABAK SAMEH	B'ATIFA SHEL MAMTA
#15	7	5	TRACY CHAPMAN	TRACY CHAPMAN
		Towar Rec	ords' top-selling album	s in last week

CRITICS' CHOICE

CLASSICAL MUSIC

irusaiem i tre age of not ti F

The Later Park

And I divided

 $\frac{(p_{N})(p_{N})}{(p_{N})(p_{N})} = \frac{(p_{N})_{Q_{N}}}{(p_{N})(p_{N})} = \frac{(p_{N})_{Q_{N}}}{(p_{N})(p_{N})}$

Vernage Ville

 $\mathbb{M}^{\{1\}}\left(t_{\Omega_{k}}\right)$

 $\alpha_{i_1}$

the state of the s

amic

fat to

 $G_{22}$

s Agencie

 $(1/2\pi i) (\log n) (2\pi i)$ Contraction (

 $\mathcal{F}(\mathcal{A}) = \{ \mathbf{a}_{i} \in \mathcal{A} \mid \mathbf{a}_{i} \in \mathcal{$

 $\|\cdot\|_{L^{2}(\mathbb{R}^{n})}$

1 Trans

 $(-t_1,\ldots,t_n)$

Mag

Commence of 11.0

 $\|\cdot\|_{L^{2}(\mathbb{R}^{N})} = \|f_{\mathbb{Z}^{N}}\|$

 $x_i \tan x_{i + 1}$

Section 15

Section 18

. . .

the same

1 5 K

the transport

. . .

 $f^{*} = (f \in \mathcal{T}_{k}) \star$

: · · · · -

W. B. GA

10 to 9 to 9.

- 2

 $\mathbf{D}$

1 Note well such an

5 Approach a number before

9 Caught some friend

turning over rubbish (8)

10 Making a pile's discerning!

12 A trying person of a certain eminence—a counsellor (9)

13 Wooden senior citizen (5)

14 Few love to he saen in

19 Skinhead pursuing a country girl (7)

21 Express satisfaction in a 24 Cleric surrounded by drink

catty sort of way (4)

will confuse (5)

direction for finding with animal skins (4)

16 Advertisement

entrance (7)

expedient (8)

opening (6)

A 10 10 12

by

 $\operatorname{val}^{n}\operatorname{val}_{n}$

MICHAEL AJZENSTADT

The summer opera program of the Israel Vocal Arts Institute, undoubtedly the best and most exhilarating show in town, presents its regular mix of exciting miniproductions - that is with symbolic costumes, no sets to speak of, a piano replacing the orchestra, and lots of imagination and joie de vivre, ranging from the tried and true repertoire to the more adventurous and perhaps not so conventional works.

Tonight you can enjoy Kurt Weill's American musical-cum-opera Street Scene, while tomorrow it is time for the ultimate Puccini tearjerker, La Boheme. Not to be missed, even if tickets are hard to come by. Both at the Israel Music Conservatory in Tel Aviv (8).

TELEVISION

ELANA CHIPMAN

Celebrity is an original production by the cable company which takes an ironic look at the workings behind the scenes of Israeli journalism and celeh society. A newspaper gossip columnist decides to get back at a supermodel who badmouthed her to the rival paper and febricates an affair between the model and a meek, unattractive accountant who once helped her fix her car. The rumor changes the life of the accountant, who hecomes an overnight celebrity. It also upsets one of the paper's large advertisers, the model's boyfriend. Starring Hannah Laszlo, one of the best comediennes in the country, with Rivka Michaeli and Gahi Gazit. Family Channel. 8:55 p.m.

Ultrascience is a series currently showing on Channel 8, which looks at science and its effect on our lives. This week's episode, "Impossible Dreams," at 7:05 p.m., examines scientific inventions which started out as figments of people's imagination and later became reality. Take for example the French sci-fi writer Jules Verne. whose submarine is a familiar part of our world today.

FILM

Adina Hoffman

— Вапту *** MEN IN BLACK Sonnenfeld's playfully off-beat parody of the Martian-movie genre stars Tommy Lee Jones and

CRYPTIC CROSSWORD

27 Subscribe, and so get on in 28 A carriage developed from

29 A woman, fifty. quite

30 Quiet charm and taste (8)

DOWN

1 Detail military personnel

2 Radiant bishop in support

3 Free in the Home Counties

4 Talk shout a topping

Orientals (9)

phaetons (8)

ordinary (6)

mention (6)

craftsman! (7)

time (6)

Comedienne Hannah Laszlo stars in Celebrity,' on the Family Channel (3) at 6 vending

(9)

pharmacy? (9)

7 No good achiever (81

8 Not complaining to the French over rhetoric (8)

11 Trim a season's growth (4)

15 The players' car others use

17 Occasionally concerning a cooler fellow (3-3-2)

18 He may well get down to work in bed (8)

20 Certain to make a charge without the right (4)

21 Painter's equipment the head allowed inside (7)

22 Ring many—or a small number—back (6)

23 Go along with dope before ten maybe (6)

26 It's stimulating having a heavyweight in charge (5)

SOLUTIONS

HOSPITAL PORTER
A D B I E M R.
LIGENSEE PAUSE
A L A T M U L A RUIN BREADBOARD
I N S U N L T Y
SIGNPOST DIVEST
TO E D C
OILERS DISALLOW
C E T S T N O E RESISTANCE PISA
A D W L N C T R
TITNE AND MATED
S H A M N P R
BOARDINGHOUSES

Yesterday's Quick Solution

ACROSS: 1 Mince, 4 Horse, 10 Cherish, 11 Femur, 12 Latin, 13 Shrivel, 16 Tote, 17 Souss, 19 Aware, 22 Tidy, 25 Delight, 27 Onset, 29 Poker, 30 Leisnre, 31

Onset, 29 Foker, 30 Leisure, 31 Angel, 32 Agent. DOWN: 2 Ibert, 3 Clients, 5 Offer, 6 Samovar, 7 Scald, 8 Ghost, 9 Droll, 14 Head, 16 Oath, 18 Oilskin, 20 Wyoming, 21 Adept, 23 Italy, 24 Steep, 26 Gorse, 28 Spurn.

sachina at th

8:55 p.m.

Will Smith as nattily dressed officers in a topsecret agency designed to keep track of all alien life forms currently residing on planet Earth. The furniest thing about the film, which was written by Ed Soloman from a comic book by Lowell unningham, is its crisply matter-of-fact approach to good old worldly law and order. There's something at once knowing and rather resigned about the practical, slightly archaic way in which the MiBs go about their work-cruising their beat, drinking coffee from paper cups, pulling over alien-owned cars to check the driver's license and registration ... Clearly, the universe is too vast and mysterious a place to be policed effectively by a few deputized mortals in a gas-guzzling Plymouth. But the agents do what they can to keep the peace, and their actions come to seem logical in a loopy, deadpan way: of course there are Martians on the streets of New York, and of course someone high-up must know about it. The movie nokes gentle fun at conspiracy theories at the same time that it honors them. With Linda Fiorentino, who doesn't have enough to do as a leggy coroner/damsel in distress. (English dialogue, Hebrew subtitles. Parental guidance strongly advised.)

E CHANNEL 1 6:31 News in Arabic 6:45 Good Morning

EDUCATIONAL TV

8:00 Cartoons 10:00 Eric's World 10:30 The Intrepids 11:00 A Matter of Time 12:10 A.J., Time 13:00 Cartoons (rpt) 15:10 The Story of Read Alee Oeed Alee

E CHANNEL 1

15:30 Zeppy Wave 15:33 Denver, the lasi Dinosaur 15:50 Super Ben 16:00 Heartbreak High 18:45 Super Ben 16:50 Super Prize 16:59 A New Evening 17:34 Zappy Wave 17:50 Garfield 18:10 Super Ben 18:15 News in Enolish

ARABIC PROGRAMS 18:30 Apropo 19:00 News

PROGRAMS 19:30 News fash 19:31 Cosby 20:00 News 20:50 Lotto draw 20:55 Glykeria - Greei singer's charity concert 22:05 The People's Century 23:00 Dream On 23:30 News

00:00 Daily Verse E CHANNEL 2

6:15 Today's Programs 6:15 Today's Programs
6:30 Gargoyles
7:00 Coffee with Tei-Ad
9:00 Derby O'Gill and the Little People
(1959) - Disney tartasy about an Irish storyteller.
With Sean Cormery
10:40 Cartroons
11:00 Carmen: a Different Beat - origi-nal rock opens set in 1990s Israel. Part 1 12:00 Tush Tush 13:00 Plattus of Henry VIII

Prince of Bel Air 14:00 Degrassi Junior High 14:30 Tic Tac 15:00 Aladdin 16:00 The Bold and the Beautiful 16:50 Different

13:30 The Fresh

Driving 17:00 News maga-17:30 Twenty Plus 18:00 Thirtysomething 19:00 America's Funniest People 20:00 News 20:30 Gifter 22:00 Going Steady (Hebrew, 1979) - The Lemon Possicle geng. 00:00 News 00:05 Midnight Short 00:35 Herman's Head 1:00 Jazz at the Red Sea 1996 - Mamaio Gaintopolos

the Shell

14:00 Holy Koran 14:10 French programs 15:00 Squere One TV 15:30 Doghouse 18:00 Album Show

1:56 Living Edens 2:53 On the Edge of

18:10 French programs 19:00 News in French 19:30 News headlines MOVIE CHANNEL (4) 19:35 Coach 20:00 Ta 11:30 The West Side 20:30 Encounte 21:10 Nature of Things 22:00 News in English 22:30 West Beach 23:15 Miniseries

MEDDLE EAST TV

15:00 Gerbert 15:30 Urban Peasan

19:30 World News Tonight (Arabic) 20:00 Showcase

7:00 TV Shop 14:30 700 Ctub

Westz (1995) (rpt) 13:05 Seeing Stars 13:55 Utilities (1983) – a social worker leads a campaign against big utility companies 15:30 Family of Cops (1995) — a policeman ment children fight to clear his daughter's name. With Charles Bronson and Daniel Baldwin

1:05 Barnaby Jones

18:00 Larry King 17:00 Larry King 17:00 Family Challenge 17:46 Beakman's World 18:10 Perfect Strangers 18:35 Saved by the Bell 19:00 Showboz 16:55 New in the Cnema 17:10 Follow the River (1995) - an American pioneer is captured by Indians and escapes with her two children 20:50 Troop Beverly 18:45 Suzie O (1995) Hills (1989) - a Wilderness Girls troop (rpt) 20:20 To Dance with the White Dog (1993) gets a nutty new leader. With Shelley Long. 23:00 CNN (rpt) 22:00 Intent to Kill 23:30 The 700 Club 00:00 Quantum (1995) — a lough female cop takes on a

Colombien drug ring. 23:35 I Like it Like

That (1994) — an inde-pendent-minded

penders-manded woman gets a job in a record company to support her family. 1:20 Chantilly Lace (1994) – Steel Magnolias-type drama about seven friends. With JoBeth Williams, Helen Steter Ally.

Helen Stater, Alty Sheady and Marthe Plimpton 3:00 Red Blooded

American Girl (1992) -erotic thriller (83 mins.)

16:20 Treasure Island

E CHILDREN (6)

6:30 Cartoons

CABLE = MY 3 (33)

Shopping

18:00 Power Rangers 16:30 Playing With Fire 17:30 Panel discus-sion in Arabic 18:00 The Tyrant 18:00 News in Arabic 18:30 Doctors Talk 20:00 News 20:00 News 21:00 Rumpole of the Bailey 22:00 Showcase 22:30 Telekesset 23:00 Cinema 3

■ ETV 2 (23)

8:10 Surprise Garden 9:40 Dernis the Menace 10:20 Treasure Island 10:50 Project Geeker 11:15 Pink Perither 11:25 Hot Air Balloon 15:30 Jake and the Kid 16:35 Hot Science 17:10 A.J., Time 17:10 A.J., Time Traveller (rpt) 18:00 Family Album 18:30 Bitz on Cartoons 19:00 Tastes 19:30 Mirror 20:00 A New Evening 20:30 Dites Moi Tout 21:500 The Oracin Line 21:500 Monitograsse 12:00 Moesha 12:20 Animeniacs 12:30 Hot Air Balloon 13:00 Kirk 13:30 Hugo 14:00 Chiquitias 21:50 Montparnesse Revisited – part 3 22:50 The Six Wives 14:45 Little Mouse 15:05 Little Flying 15:40 Dennis the

S FAMILY CHANNEL

20:55 Celebrity (Hebrew, 1997) - a between a supermodel and meek accountant.

Avital Diker and Rivica

21:40 Good Evening

22:30 Love Story 23:00 Seinfeld (rpt) 23:25 Babylon 5 (rpt) 00:16 The Streets of

San Francisco

With Hanna Laszlo,

gossio columnist invents an affair

16:50 Project Geeke 17:10 Pink Penther 7:00 Good Evening with Guy Pines (pt) 7:30 Love Story 8:00 Dallas (pt) 8:00 One Life to Live 9:45 The Young and the Restless 17:25 Hot Air Balloon 18:00 Moesha 18:20 Animaniacs 18:30 Hot Air Balloon 19:00 Hugo 19:30 Helen and the the Restless 10:30 Days of Our Lives 11:15 Zingara (rpt) 12:00 Barneby Jones Guys 19:55 Three's Company 20:20 Married with Children 12:45 The Commish 13:40 Wings 14:00 Dallas (rpt) 14:50 Days of Our Lives 15:40 Ricki Lake (rpt) 18:30 Towns 20:45 Roseanne : 21:15 Cosby Show 21:45 Different World # SECOND

18:30 Zingars 17:15 One Life to Live 18:00 Good Evening 18:30 Local Broadcast SHOWING (6) 22:00 The Road Home (Polish, 1987) – a young Polish boy returns to his village at the and of WWII and 19:15 The Young and the Restless 19:45 Sunset Beach 20:30 The Other Half finds that nothing is the same 23:50 Queen Margot (French, 1994) - epic based on Alexander Dumas's novel of the events surrounding the St. Bartholomew's Day messacre in 18th-cen-

lury France, With

E CHANNEL 8

6:00 Open University 8:05 Far Flung Floyd:

PRIME 2 3 4 6 19:30 News 1 Cosby en end the Guys Body hree's 20:06 To Dance Quest with the White Dog with The Other Vature on Gittler 20:30 rack: The Celebrity Eight on Eight Glykeris 21:00 Cosby Show Understand 21:30 ing Flight Evening World The Road Intent to 22:00 People's Century ousveer: adagasca Love Story

Vietnam (rpt) 8:35 Travelogue (rpt) 9:30 World of Wine: Chile 9:30 Turandot – designed by David Hodney 11:40 Sonny Rollins 12:40 Ultrascience: Inserting (rpt) Invaciors (rpf) 13:05 Healthy Body 13:20 Future Quest 14:00 Nature on Tracic industrial

Dream On

22:30

23:00

and the second s

Revolution (rpt) 14:30 Understa Oceans (rpt)
15:25 The Nature of Things: Coral Reefs
16:10 Cousteau: Secret Societies of Dolphins (rpt) 17:00 Open University 19:05 Ultrascience 19:30 Healthy Body 20:00 Future Quest:

20:00 Future Quest:
Motion Control
20:30 Nature on Track: The Gatherers
21:00 Eight on Eight with Yael Dayan
21:30 Understanding Flight 22-25 Cousteau Madegescar (rpt) 23:15 Open University

SUPER CHANNEL

6:00 Travel Xpress 6:30 The Ticket 7:00 VIP 7:30 NBC Nightly News 8:00 MSNBC News 9:00 Today 10:00 European Squawk Box 11:00 European Money Wheel 15:30 CNBC US Squawk Box 17:00 Wine Cellar 17:30 Dream Builder

18:00 The Site 19:00 National Geographic Television
- Save the Panda
20:00 The Ticket 20:30 VIP 21:00 Dateline 22:00 Major League Basebell highlights 23:00 The Tonight Show with Jay Leno 00:00 Late Night with Conan O'Brien

1:30 NBC Nightly News

STAR PLUS 7:30 The Wonder Years 8:00 Oprah Winfrey 9:00 EI TV Motorsports News

Women's Championship 9:30 Tristinion 10:30 ATP Tour 12:00 Superbike 13:30 This is PGA Tour 14:30 Trans World Sport 15:30 Equestrian: 9:30 Yan Cen Cook 10:00 Nine to Five 10:30 The X-Files 11:30 The Bold and the Beautiful 11:30 state both and the Beartettal 12:00 Santa Berfora 13:00 WWF Superstars 14:00 The Wonder Years 14:30 Arts Update 15:00 Hindi programs 18:30 Star News 18:00 India Nations' Cup 16:30 Golf: US PGA 17:00 ATP Tour 18:30 Motorcycling 20:00 Omega Tour 23:00 Soccer: Euro Independence Special 19:30 Space: Above and Beyond 20:30 The Bold and the Beautiful 21:00 Santa Barbara 22:00 Star News 22:30 Baywatch 23:30 Dynasty 00:30 Veges 1:30 Oprahamo

2:30 21 Jump Str E CHANNEL 5 6:30 Bodies In Motion 16:00 Bodies in Motion 16:30 Brazilien Soccer 18:00 English League

Space 19:00 World's Strongest Man 19:00 Hi-5 19:30 Olympic Series - Nordic String 20:30 Futbol Mundial 21:00 Boxing 22:00 South American

> 23:30 National League Baskeibal - roundup EUROSPORT

9:30 Swimming: Euro Championship 13:00 Eurogoels 14:00 Swimming: Euro Championship 18:30 Strongest Man in Europe 19:30 Tractor Pulling 20:30 Touring Car 21:30 Italian Soccer: Berlusconi Trophy -Wien vs. Juver

23:30 Swimming: Euro Championship 80:00 Soccer: World Cup Legends 1:00 Athletics: Grand 2:00 Swimming: Euro

Championship

STAR SPORTS 6:30 International

20:45 American Edition 21:00 World Business 22:00 Larry King Live 23:00 European News 23:30 Insight 00:00 World Business 00:30 World Sport 1:00 World View 2:30 Moneyline RADIO W VOICE OF MUSIC

6:06 Morning Concer 9:05 J.H. Schmelzer:

Sonatas for solo violin; Bach: Cantata no 185;

Mozart: Piano concerto

String quartet no 5 in E flat op 44/3; Françaisc Theme and Variations;

Marcel Dupré: 4 Motets op 9; Beethoven: Seren

in D for violin, viola

Strauss: Burleske in D

minor 12:00 Light Classical -

Max Bruch: Violin con-certo no 1; Debussy:

La boite aux joujoux children's ballet

13:00 Artists of the Week - II Giardino

14:06 Encore -- works by Noam Sheriff and Yehezkel Braun

Recording Studio – Irina Aherin (piano), Yevgeny Yehudin (clar-inet), Mauricio Paez (bassoon), Gregory Yanovsky (cello).

Mordechai Seter Trio

for clannet, cello and Armonico.

15:00 From the

ıg

el эd

th

ŀу

111

2

m

and cello op 8; R.

Sonata no 1 trom

no 13; Meno

Women's Chempionship 1:00 Tennis: ATP Tour 2:30 Motorcycling: British Grand Prix

BBC WORLD News on the hour 7:30 Window on Europe 8:00 Newsdesk 9:30 Hard Talk (rpt)

10:30 Window on Europe (rpt) 11:30 Jeremy 12:30 Hard Talk (rpl) 13:30 Tomorrow's World (rpt) 14-00 No 15:30 Window on Europe (rpt) 16:15 World Busine 16:30 Asia-Pacific

Newshour 17:30 Holiday (rpt) 18:30 Hard Talk 18:30 Airport (pt) 20:00 The World Tode 21:30 Hard Talk (pt) 22:30 BBC World Debate on India 23:30 Flavours of

India: Punjab 00:00 Newsdesk 1:00 Asia Today III CNN

INTERNATIONAL. News through the day 6:30 Pionade Report 7:30 Insight
8:30 Moneyline (rpt)
9:30 World Sport
10:30 Showbiz Today 11:30 CNN Newsroo 12:30 World Report 13:30 American Editio 13:46 Q&A (rpt) 14:00 Asian News 15:15 Asian News 15:30 Business Asia

16:00 Larry King Live 17:30 World Sport 18:30 Asia Today

pieno; Beethoven; Trio n E flat for piano, clarinet and cello on 38 (after Septet op 20); Glinka: Trio "Pathétique" in D minor 16:00 My Concert with Sharon Ratzali 18:00 New CDs -Adam de la Halle and unionown composers 20:05 From The World's Concert Halls Works by Danish composers: Schnittle Requiem for 5 soloists. choir and orch. Dvorale Symphony no 8 From the New World', Rondo for cello and orchestra 22:00 A Musical Journey

MOVIES

1:00 Later

JERUSALEM
CNEMATHECUE Nata 5 - Salem Chema
7:30 - La Ridicule 9:30 - Satileship Potentida
9:30 G.G. Gill. Jerusalem Mail (Meha) w
6788448 Bean-Dr. Jekyl & Ma. Hyde-Space
Tructers 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 4:45, 7:15, 9:45 - The Lost World-Batran & Robin 11:30 a.m., 1:45, 4:45, 7:15, 10 - Austin Powers 7:15, 9:45 - The Advertures of Phrocetio-All Baba (Fishrer distopue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Addicted to Love
7:15, 9:45 - JERUSALEM THEATER
Attention 9:30 - Arms Karenina 7 RAV
CHEN 1-7 w 679279 Credit Card
Reservations & 6794477 Rev-Meches Building,
18 Haturian St., Tabick Men in Black 11 a.m., 1,
3, 5:15, 7:30, 9:45 - Hercules (Popish distingue)
7:30 - In Love & War 7:15, 9:45 - George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Breakdown
7:30, 9:45 - Spaed 2 7:30, 9:45 - Breakdown
7:30, 9:45 - Spaed 2 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishrer disligue) 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 - Ry Awely Home 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild
America-Rotting & Michale 11 a.m., 1, 5 -

11:30 a.m., 445, 715, 9:45 - All Batte (Hobray dialogue) 11:30 a.m. - Austin Powers 7:15, 9:45, 445 SMADAR = 5518166 Microcosmos 11 a.m. 5, 6:30, 8 - Secrets & Lies 12:15 a.m. - The Fifth Bernert 3, 10 am, 5, 630, 8 - Secrets & Lies 12:15 a.m. - The Fifth Element 3, 10

TEL, AVIV
DIZENGOFF = 5101370 Afterglow - Kohya 11
a.m., 1, 3, 5, 745, 10 - Arms Kerenirm 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5, 745 - Head Above Weter 10 GAT in Love & War 2:30, 5, 7:30, 9:45 GORDON La Promesse 6, 6, 10 G.G. HOD 1-4 = 522526 Hod Passags, 101 Dizengoff St. Beam-Space Truckers 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - Addicted to Love 5, 7:30, 10 - The Lost World 11:30 a.m., 1:45 S.45, 6, 10 - Secrets and Lies 11 a.m., 2, 5, 7:30, 10 - Microcosmos 11:45 a.m., 1:45, 5:45, 6, 10 - Secrets and Lies 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - The English Patient 1:30, 6:45, 9:45 - Shine 4:45 - Prisoner of the Mountains 1:30 - Beauting Thing 3 - Self-Medic Hero 11:15 a.m. G.G. PE ER Beam-Ob. Jelyff & Ms. Hyde 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - Addicted to Love 7:30, 10 - Ms Babe (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 - Killing Zoe 10 - Beamen & Robin 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30 - Austin Powers 5, 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 7:45 - Sheed 2 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 9:45 - Speed 2 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 9:45 - Speed 2 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Hebrew dialogue) 7:30, 9:45 - H

7:30, 10 • The Lost World 4:45, 7:30, 10 • Betmen & Robin 4:45, 7:30, 10 TEL AVIV MUSEUM Gabbeh-A Moment of tracence 10 · Charite & Louise 11 a.m., 2 HAIFA CANEMA CAFÉ AMAM = 8325755 The Prisoner of the Mountains 9:30 - Shine St., 7:15 - Kolya 7:15, 9:30 AUDITORIUM = 8380013 7, 9 GLOBECTY =8589900 The SS0013 7, 9 GLOSECTIY #858900 The Fifth Element 7, 9:30 - Space Thickness Addicted to Love 7, 9:30 - Seen 11 am., 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Dr. Jeloyi 8, Ms. Hyde 7, 9:45 - Batman & Robin-The Lost World 11 am., 4:30 - All Baba 11 am., 5 - Anstin Powers 11 am., 4:45 MORIAH #6643654 The Fifth Element 7:30, 9:45 ORLY = 3391868 The English Petient 6, 9:15 PANORAMA Batman & Robin 11 am., 1, 4:30, 7, 9:30 - Afterglow

7:15, 9:30 - Ali Bebe 11 a.m., 1, 4:30 - The Lost World 11 a.m., 1, 4:30, 7, 9:30 RAV-GAT 1-2 = 8574311 Men in Black 11 a.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 - Breakfown 4:30, 7, 9:30 RAV-MOR 1-7 = 8416938 Men in Black 1, 1, 3, 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Hercules (Fishrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 - Breakfown 7, 9:30 - Con Air 7, 9:30 - George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Speed 2 9:30 - in Love & Wer 7, 9:30 - Hercules (English dialogue) 7:15 - Fly Avery Home 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 - That Dern Cet 11 a.m., 1, 5 - Wild America 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7 - Romy & Michele 11 a.m., 1:15, 5 RAV-OR 1-3 = 8246553 George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:15, 9:30 - in Love & Wer 7, 9:30 - Con Air 9:30 - Fly Away Home 11 a.m., 5 - Hercules (Fights dialogue) 7:15 ARAL ARAV CHEN = 8424047 Men in Black 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Breakfown 9:30 - George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Hercules (Fights dialogue) 9:30 - George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Hercules (Fights dialogue) 15 a.m., 5, 7:15

ARAD STAR #9950904 Men in Black 11:30 a.m., 5, 8, 10 • Betmen & Robin 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • Hercutes (Hebrew dislique) 11:30 a.m., 5 • Austin Powers 5, 7:45 • The Lost World 10 ARIEL

ois Rush in 8 - The Adventures of Pinocchio

ARIEL

Fools Rush in 8 - The Adventures of Pinocchio fishere dislogue) 5

ASHDOO

G.G. Gill. ■ 8847202 The Fifth Bernshi-Batman & Robin-The Lost World 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30, 10 - Lier Lier 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - Austin Powers 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio fishere dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 G.G. ORI Addicted to Love 7:30, 10 - All Babe fishere dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe fishere dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe fishere dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe fishere dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe fishere dialogue) 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 3:45 - Berestdown-Private Parts 7:30, 9:45 - Speed 2 9:45 - Hercules (Fighted dialogue) 7:30 - That Darin Cate-101 Determinancity Away Home 11 a.m., 5

ASHRIGILON

G.G. Gill. ▼ 7:23977 Bean-oby. Jekyel & Ms. Hyde 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - Beatman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30, 10 - Addicted to Love 10

Fifth Element 7:30, 10 - All Babe fishere dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Hercules (English dialogue) 7:30 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Con Air 7:15, 9:45 - Hercules (Fishere dialogue) 3:50 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5

7:15, 9:45 - Nercules (Hebrey Clabgus) - That Darn Cat--101 balmatians 11 a.m., 5 BAT YAM RAV CHEN Speed 2 7:15, 9:45 - Man in Black 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 - Breakdown 7:30, 9:45 - The Fifth Sement 7:15, 9:45 - Con Air 9:45 -Addicted to Love 7:30, 9:45 - Fly Away Home-Hercules (Hebrey dislogue) - AAI Babe 11 a.m., 5 - The Lost World 11 a.m., 5 - Betman & Robin 11 a.m., 5, 7:15 BEEFSHERA

BEERSHEBA
G.C. GIL #6440771 Been 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 - Addicted to Love 7:30, 10 - Liar Liar 11:30 a.m., 5 - The Rith Bioment 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30, 10 - Austin Powers 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 G.C. ORI #5103111 Or. Jelyd & Ms. Hyde 5, 7:30, 10 - Austin Powers 11:30 a.m., 5 Ti.30, 10 - Austin Powers 11:30 a.m., 6 Ti.30 OBBIOQUE) 7:30 EILAT

Gil Dz. Jekyli & Ms. Hyde 5, 7:30, 10 - All Babe (Hebrew dielogue) 11:30 a.m. • The Fifth Hement 10 - Betmen & Robin 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30 - Buen 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 HADERA

HADERA
LEV Men in Black 10:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 harcases 10:30 a.m., 12:30, 5 - Donnie Bresco
7:30, 10 - The Fifth Element 12:30, 5, 7:30, 10 Ali Babs 12:30 - Fly Away Home 10:30 a.m., 12:30, 5 - Batman & Robin 10:30 a.m., 7:30, 10
HERZLIYA
COLONY w8802666 Donnie

COLONY #6902666 Donnie Brasco-Microcosmos 5:30, 7:45, 10 HOLI-DAY Batman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 STAR = 589068 Bean 11 a.m., 4, 5:45, 7:45, 10 - Space Truckers 6, 7:45, 10 - Hercuses (#shrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 4:15 - Men in Black 11 a.m., 6, 6, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (#shrew dialogue) 4 to, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) - 44 HOO HASHARON GIL. Men in Black 5, 7:30, 10 - Hercules Historia dialogue) - 45 Babe (Hebrew dialogue) - 11:30 a.m. - Addicted to Love 7:30, 10 - Bestran & Robin 4:45 - George of the Jungle-Been 11:30 a.m. 5, 7:30, 10 KARMIEL.

CINEMA Breakdown 9:30 - Men in Black-George of the Jungle 11 am 5, 7:45.

Black-George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 5, 7:15, 9:30 - Hercules (Hebraw dialogue) 11 a.m., 5,

KFAR SAVA
G.G. Gill #7677370 Mercin Black 5, 7:30, 10 Hercules (**Hebrew disloque*) 11:30 a.m., 1:30 Bean-Dr. Jeiqyl & Ms. Hyde 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - The Fith Berneut 7:30, 10 - M Baba
(**Hebrew disloque*) 1:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Austin
Powers 10 - Berman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 1:45,
4:45, 7:30 - George of the Jungle 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - Addicted to Love 10 - The Lost World 11:30 a.m., 1:45, 4:45, 7:30
KIRYAT BIALIK
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11 a.g., 4, 5,
G.G. Gill The Fith Berneut 1, 11

G.G. Gill. The Fifth Bernent 1 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:15, 9:45 • Dr. Jekyll & Mr. Hyde 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:15, 9:45 • Addicted to Love 5, 7:15, 9:45 • 101 7/15, 9/45 - Notice 11 a.m., 1 - Space Truckers 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7/15, 9/45 - Batman & Robin 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7/15, 9/45 - The Lost World 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7/15, 8:45 • Lier Lier 5, 7:15, 9:45 • The English Patient 7, 9:45 • The Adventures of Pirrocchio revenue, years in a Aurentaines of Pinocchio (Habrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 4, 5, 7:15, 9:45 • Been 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:15, 9:45 • Liar Liar 7:16 • Ali Beba (Hebrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 1 KIRYAT SHIMONA

G.G. GEL #9905080 Men in Black 11:30 a.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 • Austin Powers-Killing Zoe 7, 9:30 • Batman & Robin-Ali Baba (Hebraw dislogue) 1130 a.m., 430 STAR =9249823 Men in Black 11 a.m., 5, 6, 10
The Firth Element 5, 7:30, 10
The Adventures of Pinocchio (Habrew dialogue) 11

Adventures of Pinocchio (Fishrew dialogue) 11 a.m. - Bahman & Robin 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 NAHARIYA HEICHAL HATARBUT Hercutes (English dialogue) 7, 9:15 - Hercutes (Fishrew dialogue) 11 a.m., 5 UPPER NAZARETH G.G GIL Romy & Michele-Breektown 7, 9:20 - The Lost World-Hercutes (Fishrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 4:30 - Michele-Breektown 7, 9:20 - Michele Baba (Fishrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 4:30 - Nadicted to Love 9:30 11:30 a.m., 4:30 - Addicted to Love 9:30

11:30 a.m., 4:30, 7, 9:30 • Addicted to Love 9:30 • Batmen & Robin 11:30 a.m., 4:30, 7 • The Fifth

• Bathan & Houri 11:30 a.m., 4:30, 7 • The Pain Element 7, 9:30 NESS ZIONA G.G. Gil. 1-4 • 404729 Bean=Dr. Jeloyi & Ms. Hyde 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 • Addicted to Love 10 • Betman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30 • The Fifth Element 7:30, 10 • All Baba (Febrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5 NETANYA G.G. Gil. 1-5 * 628452 Been **Dr. Jelkyl & Ms.

Space Truckers 11:30 a.m., 5, 7:30, 10 -

The Fifth Element 7:30, 10 • All Babs (Hebrew dialogus) 11:30 a.m., 5 • Addicted to Love 10 • Betman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 4:45, 7:30 RAV CHEN ** 8618:70 Men in Black 7:30, 9:45 • Breakdown 9:46 • Hercules (English dialogus) 7:30 • George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:30, 9:45 • Con Air 7:15, 9:45 • Hercules (Hebrew dialogus) • Men in Black • Fly Away Home 11 a.m., 1, 5

Journ - Men in Black-Ry Away Home 11 a.m., 1.5
PETAH TIKVA
G.G. HECHAL Men in Black 5, 7:30, 10 - The Lost World 4:45, 7:30, 10 - Breekdown 4:45, 10
G.G. RAM 1-3 = $340818 Austin
Powers-Lier Liers-That Old Feeling 7:30
SIRKIN The Fifth Element 7:30, 10 - All Babe (Hebray dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - George of the Jungles-Bean 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - 7:30, 10
- Jesqil & Ms. Hyde 7:30, 10 - Hercules (Hebray dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Addicted to Love 10 - Beaman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 1:35, 7:30, 10
RA'ANANA
CIN MOFFET The English Patient 8:30 Charite & Louise 11 a.m. PARK
Breekdown 7:30, 10 - Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30 - The Fifth Element 7:30, 10
- Speed 2:10 - Fry Away Home-Hercules Blabrow dialogue) 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 lebrow dinlogue) 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 AMAT GAN

RAMAT GAN

RAM-GAN 1-4 ▼ 6197121 George of the Jungle 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5-15, 7-30, 9-45 - Atterglow

7-30, 9-45 - Hercules (English disloque) 7-20
Breakdown 9-45 - Fly Away Home 11 a.m., 1, 3,

5 - Bean 7-30, 9-45 - Hercules (Flobrew disloque)

13 a.m. 1, 2, 5-2 between 2 Bubbin 11 a.m., 1-30 11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 • Batmen & Robin 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV-OASIS 1-3 = 6730887 Men in Black 11

11 a.m., 1, 3, 5 · Butmen & Robin 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV-OASIS 1-3 = 6730837 Men in Black 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 · Space Truckers 7:30, 9:45 · The Lost World 11 a.m., 5, 7:15 RAMAT HASHARON KOKHAV Secrets and Lies 7, 9:45 · Hensules 11 a.m., 5 · The Fifth Element REHOVOT CHEN Afterglow 11 a.m., 5, 7:45, 10 · The English Patient 7 · Bean 11 a.m., 5, 10 · The English Patient 7 · Bean 11 a.m., 5, 7:30, 9:45 · Charlie & Louise 11 a.m., 5 RAV MOR Charlie & Louise 7:15, 9:45 · Men in Black 11 a.m., 1, 5, 7:30, 9:45 · In Love & Way 7:15, 9:45 · Private Parts 9:45 · Breakdown 9:45 · Hercules (Hebrew dealogue) 11 a.m., 1, 5 · Beatren & Robin 11 a.m., 5 · Fly Away Home 11 a.m., 5 · The Lost World 11 a.m., 5, 7:30 · Hercules (English dialogue) 7:30 RISHON LEZION GIL 1-3 The Fifth Element 7:30, 10 · All Beba (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 · Austin Drassing 10 · Batman & Brobin 11:30 a.m., 1:45

GIL 1-3 The Pith Bernant 7:30, 10 - Ali Baba (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 - Austin Prowers 10 - Batmen & Robin 11:30 a.m., 1:45, 4:45, 7:30 - Bean 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 HAZAHAW George of the Jungle 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5, 7:30, 10 - The Fith Bernant 10 - The Lost World 11:30 a.m., 1:45, 4:45, 7:30 - Addicted to Love 10 - Bahman & Robin 11:30 a.m., 1:45, 4:45, 7:30 - Dr. Jeityli & Ms. Hyde 5, 7:30, 10 - Ali Baba (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV CHEN Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV CHEN Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV CHEN Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV CHEN Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV CHEN Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 RAV CHEN Men in Black 11 a.m., 1:30, 5 TAR Bean 1:1:30 a.m., 4:5, 8, 10 - Spece Truckers 11:30 a.m., 6:8, 10 - Fly Away Home 4 - Men in Black 11:30 a.m., 4:5, 8, 10 - Spece Truckers 11:30 a.m., 6:8, 10 - Fly Away Home 4 - Men in Black 11:30 a.m., 4:5, 8, 10 - Spece 2 7:30, 10 - The Adventures of Pinocchio (Hebrew dialogue) 11:30 a.m., 5: Ali Siries ere p.m. unless otherwise Indicated.

ACROSS 1 Commemorative tablet (6) 4 Rowing crew (5)

8 Din (5) 9 Gift (7) 10 Wind about (7) 11 Lake (4) 12 Finish (3) 14 Viewed (4) 15 Orient (4) 18 Ohtain (3) 21 Effortless (4) 23 Set free (7) 25 Right (7) 26 Circular (5) 27 Upright (5)

28 Stick (6)

DOWN 1 Straw hat (6) 2 Inspirit (7) 3 Everlasting (8) 4 Regular (4)

6 Giggle (6)

20 Interfere (6) 22 Stony hillside (5) 24 Relaxation (4)

QUICK CROSSWORD

5 Large domestic birds (5)

7 Steepla (5) 13 Averred (8) 16 Height (7) 17 Save (6) 19 Verity (5)

Vintage Tu Be'av

Shai Ohana and Limor Aharonovich celebrate Tu Be'av yesterday in Jerusalem. During the Second Temple era, Jewish girls would dance in the vineyards to mark the start of the vintage and attract potential husbands.

Hammer seeks ways to abolish all school fees

By ARYEH DEAN COHEN

Education Minister Zevulun Hammer has ordered the immediate formation of a committee of professionals to present him with a workable plan to completely cancel all school payments made by parents.
According to an Education Ministry spokesman, Hammer's

action was in keeping with the recommendations of the Langerman Committee, set up by Hammer in November 1991 to advise him on how to lessen the financial burden on the parents. The commission made recommendations to Hammer in May 1992, which were approved by Hammer at the time, including: The financing of educational services should fall on the entire population, and not just on the parents of

The committee recommended three alternatives: increasing the municipal taxes collected by the local authorities and municipalities; an education levy to be collected by additional payments to the National Insurance Institute, as was done when the nation's high schools were made free, and a small addition to NII payments was made. When one of these atternatives is adopted, schools will stop collect-

for education will be collected by the local authorities. · A recommendation was made to legislate a minimum number of hours per child and/or class.

Hammer said the first implemenration of these recommendations was the cancellation of the fee parents had paid for their children's matriculation exams, beginning September 1, and cancellation of the health levy. He said his ministry would implement a long-term plan to implement the commission's recommendations.

"Education is not a luxury," Hammer said. "I don't accept the approach which sees education as only an interest of those consumers who need it, like parents and children, but rather a national interest of our entire society. Just as all Israelis are partners in the defense effort and help fund it, we should see to it that our entire society bears the burden of our educational and social infrastructure, so that the burden is distributed between all citizens in a real and equal manner."

Meanwhile, leaders of the Secondary School Teachers Association will meet this morning to decide what steps to take in light of the cuts in the Education Ministry budget, and will inform Hammer at noon just what those

ing funds from parents, and no fees

AROUND THE WORLD

Winning cards

drawing, (264/97) the winning cards were the queen of spades. the king of hearts, the jack of diamonds and the jack of clubs, in the second drawing (265.97), the winning cards were the jack of spades, the king of hearts, the 10 of diamonds, and the 9 of clubs.

Doctors threaten sanctions

By JUDY SIEGEL

The Israel Medical Association declared a labor dispute yesterday and threatened to launch sanctions in September unless the government made good on promises to add positions to internal medicine depart-

The IMA accused the government, Kupat Holim Clalit and other employers of failing to carry out an agreement signed in March to increase job slots and overtime duty in hospital internal medicine depart-

The agreement has not been implemented because of a funding dispute between the health and finance ministries. Health Minister Yehoshua Matza said he was awaiting the results of a mediation committee he expected to hear from over the next few days.

IMA chairman Dr. Yoram Blachar said that physicians would launch sanctions at the beginning of September if the government does not fulfill the agreement, which calls for adding 360 doctors' positions, 90 overtime slots and 1,200 beds to internal medicine departments - which bear the burden of elderly and chronically ill patients.

The agreement was supposed to have gone into effect in May, and the IMA fears that further delays in implementation could lead to overcrowding and substandard care during the high-occupancy winter sea-

Matza said yesterday he was working day and night to solve budgetary problems that prevent implementation of the agreement with the IMA." He also said he hoped for more Treasury readiness to foot the bill.

The mediation committee, comprised of accountant Yitzhak Sueri and medical economist Prof. Zvi Adar, was appointed by Health Ministry director-general Prof. Gabi Barabash a few weeks ago.

Young women try to visit Rabin's assassin

By News Agencies

A young woman pined outside Beersheba prison yesterday for prime minister Yitzhak Rabin's assassin Yigal Amir on the day celebrated by some here as the "holiday of love," while yet another young woman tried to see him to propose marriage.

Authorities at the prison refused to let them inside.

"There's something about him," Russian-born Tatiana, 23, told Israel Radio yesterday. "I want him to feel good and feel that today is the day of love," she said. Yesterday was tu

She was escored by Avigdor Eskin, who was convicted in May of violating the Prevention of Terrorism Act by putting a curse on Rabin a month before Amir killed him.

Eskin is free on bail white he appeals a four-month prison sentence. Why are Arab prisoners allowed to meet their relatives and she is not?" Eskin asked at the gate as Tatiana was turned away.

Amir is in solitary confinement and serving a life term for the November 1995 assassination.

Another teenager, who identified herself only as Anat, 18, also announced plans to visit Amir to propose marriage. She asserted on Army Radio that she wasn't trying to express agreement with Rabin's assassination but thought it unfair that Amir was alone in fail.

Susskin's wedding postponed

By Jerusalem Post Staff

The wedding of Tatiana Susskin, an art school dropout accused of inflaming Moslems worldwide in June by posting fliers in Hebron depicting Mohammed as a pig, was postponed indefinitely yesterday.

Susskin, 26, who is in custody and awaiting trial, plans to marry Yehuda Shornron, a 25-year-old bricklayer and, like her, a supporter of the outlawed Kach

The couple wanted to tie the knot yesterday on Tu Be'av. But a Jerusalem District Court judge didn't rule in time on a request for Susskin to be permitted to leave jail for a day for the nuptials. The request was filed late Sunday, only after the High Court turned down Susskin's petition to be released from jail. Justice Yaacov Kedmi ruled that Susskin could pose a security risk if she were set free.

offer the maximum comfort. Fully equipped and furnished apartments are also available.

High Quality Additional Services

24 hour security service, reception service, a social worker, alarm-buttons in every apartment, cultural & social activities, office services, weekly apartment cleaning, daily apartment's waste management, full upkeep of public areas, full air-conditioning.

A Modern Medical Wing

with the latest medical equipment, staffed by certified nurses 24 hours a day & supervised by MDs.

Luxurious Sheltered Housing for Senior Citizens

For further info please 02-6781925